U. S. EMPLOYMENT OFFICES TO HELP LOCATE TEACHERS

Schools of Minnesota Faced with Shortage of More than 600 Teachers

Faced with a shortage of more than 600 teachers in the public schools of Minnesota, the state department of education and the war manpower commission have joined forces in an effort to meet this vital need.

Anyone having teaching experience or who is qualified, is urged to consult the local office of the U. S. employment service for complete information.

Under an agreement completed this week, between Dreng Bjornaras, state WMC director, and Dean Schweickhard, commissioner of education, USES offices will interview all interested persons. A record of available applicants then will be turned over to the department of education. The matter of further negotiation and of final placement will be handled by the office of Mr. Schweickhard.

"The shortage is serious, the supply thin and, if the need next fall is to be met, the entire state will have to be carefully canvassed," Mr. Schweickhard said. "We will be interested in any person who is qualified, either for grade or high school work. Age is not a factor just so long as an applicant is in reasonably good health.

"The war has hit the state's teaching force hard, and persons who respond to this call will be making a very worthwhile contribution to maintaining a strong home front."

Civilians' Egg Share

On the basis of an estimated production of 5 billion dozen eggs between July 1, 1943, and June 30, 1944, civilians will receive 7 out of every 10 eggs produced.

Thanksgiving Day Will be Nov. 23 in Minnesota

Gov. Edward J. Thye Monday proclaimed Nov. 23 as Thanksgiving day in Minnesota. The governor, aligning Minnesota with President Roosevelt's proposed date for the holiday instead of the traditional last Thursday in November, said he acted in response to numerous requests from business and civic organizations.

Army and Navy Help 'U' Enrollment Remain up Around Total of 9,000

University of Minnesota enrollment holds at around 9,000 students, including army and navy trainees, the report of the acting director of admissions, T. E. Pettengill, reveals. The decline in civilian students has been heavy in some colleges, such as engineering, where vocational deferment policies have been abandoned by Selective Service.

However, in the largest college, science, literature and the arts, drop in the student body from April 1943 has been only about eight per cent. The school of nursing, with many students studying at federal expense, is the largest it has ever been and there are gains in medical technology classes and the like.

Dentistry and medicine maintain their size because of army and navy contingents. These will be continued for both services despite the withdrawal of several units of the army specialized training program. Foreign area and language courses in the Scandinavian and Japanese fields will be continued for another three months. ASTP engineers are being withdrawn as of April 1.

The Navy's V-12 training program on the campus has been undisturbed. It maintains students in engineering, dentistry, medicine and in the Naval ROTC. There are also many men in training to become naval electrician's mates.

Some Children's Shoes Ration-free May 1 to 20

Low priced children's shoes will be released from rationing between May 1 and 20, to sell at retail for not more than $1.60, P. H. Fields, OPA rationing executive announced.

Advance notice is made in order that retail shoe dealers may order their supplies of these non-rationed shoes, and in order that families may plan for the expenditure of the family shoe rations.

Mr. Fields explained that the limited number of shoe rations available have diverted the sale to higher priced shoes, while low priced shoes remained on dealers' shelves, in spite of serviceability and quality. Children's shoes in sizes 8½ through 12, misses' and little boys' shoes in sizes 12½ through 3 are included in the release.

Spend $300,000,000 Each Day in February for War

United States expenditures for war purposes hit a new high in February—$7,808,000,000 compared to $7,110,000,000 in January an increase of 5.3, it was reported by W. A. McMillan, WPB district manager today.

The average daily rate for war expenditures in February passed the $300,000,000 mark for the first time to reach $312,300,000, an increase of 9.5 per cent over the daily rate in January, and a 4.2 per cent increase over the previous high of $299,800,000 in November, 1943.

COMM. HOFFMAN EXPLAINS OBJECT OF LOAD LIMITS

Restrictions Placed to Date on 5,300 Miles Trunk Highways

Spring load restrictions so far have been placed on 5,300 miles of Minnesota trunk highways. Before the end of April the restricted mileage will probably equal the 1943 record of 6,162 miles, M. J. Hoffmann, commissioner of highways, predicts. This is more than half of the total trunk highway mileage, or about three-fourths of the unpaved mileage.

"The purpose of restrictions is to serve all road users by protecting the highways against destruction during the spring breakup," said Mr. Hoffmann. "The department is not closing the roads, but it aims to prevent owners of heavy vehicles from closing the roads to themselves and others by moving too heavy loads when the highways are in weakened condition. While naturally we get some complaints, the majority of truck and bus operators understand the necessity for restrictions and they are giving the department good cooperation in its efforts to protect the highways and keep traffic moving.

"Load restrictions are merely a temporary lowering of the load limits. Maximum axle load permitted by law in any season without special permit is 9 tons. The law permits restriction to lower limits whenever necessary to protect the highway. Usually the restricted axle weights vary from 7 to 3 tons, depending on the status of improvement of the highway and the severity of the spring breakup in each locality.

"Restrictions are based on experience from several years observation. The aim is to keep as much traffic moving as possible. A 7-ton axle limit will affect only about 2 per cent of the number of vehicles on the average highway, while an axle limit as low as 3 tons usually will not affect more than 10 per cent of the vehicles. In many cases a better distribution of the load between front and rear axles will keep the axle loads within the posted limits. In many other cases slightly longer alternate routes will permit the larger loads to reach their destination."

Goodridge Soldier Is Serving in Canal Zone

Pvt. Merritt H. Christianson, of Goodridge, is a member of the automatic weapons unit which was awarded the Ramon Cup last week for outstanding performance in a two month inter-battery antiaircraft firing improvement contest within the coast artillery command in the Panama Canal zone.

Pvt. Christianson, who is a gun crew member, has served with the armed forces guarding the Panama Canal since November 4, 1942. His brother, Orville Christianson, is a resident of Goodridge.

To Interview Men Here for Work in West Coast Navy Yards April 13-15

Men who are not eligible for military service can still work at America's No. 1 Job—Victory.

For example, laborers are urgently needed at the naval ammunition depot, Hastings, Nebraska. No experience is necessary. Salaries are good, and transportation is paid from place of recruitment to Hastings. Furnished housing units are available for single men or men without dependents, and unfurnished housing units are available for families.

Workers are needed at Pearl Harbor and West Coast navy yards to service and repair ships and planes which have been in action in the Pacific. Machinists, electricians, helpers and many other skilled and semi-skilled workers are needed.

A representative of the U. S. civil service commission will be at the U. S. employment service office at Thief River Falls on April 13, 14 and 15 to conduct interviews and offer immediate appointment, according to Russell E. Olsen, manager.

Persons now employed in war work should not apply.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

"Praise the Lord We Ain't Agoin' Fishin'"

Willie Wells was always fond of fishing. Now he writes from somewhere overseas:

"There's a song the fellers sing, goes: 'Praise the Lord, we ain't a-goin' fishin'—and I guess it's so. But you know, dad, sometimes I sure wish I were back fishing for trout in Seward's Creek again."

And I guess that's the way all our soldiers feel. They're fighting a war—and they mean to fight it to a finish—till they can come home to the little pleasures that they've missed so much—the sweet feel of a trout rod . . . a pleasant glass of beer with friends . . . the smell of Mom's fresh baking from the kitchen . . .

From where I sit, we folks at home have an important obligation—to keep intact the little things that they look forward to . . . from the trout rod waiting in the corner to the beer that's cooling in the ice box. Don't you agree?

FALLS OVER "RUG", BEAR STILL INSIDE

Askov.—Stumbling over a bear rug with the bear still inside Eller Frederiksen, reports gives one a thrill. Roaming through the woods with Miss Alyce Easter of Minneapolis, Eller slid down a slight incline to explore a cave in a ravine. As he reached the bottom he put out his hand to get his balance and touched something soft and furry. The "something soft and furry" was none other than a 300-pound seven-foot black bear. Without explanation for his intrusion he left immediately for home to get a big game rifle and additional manpower, leaving Miss Esther on guard with a .22 rifle. A few well-aimed shots upon his return ended the life of one big black bear.

NEEDS APPROVAL AS WAR-TIME PROJECT

C. M. Carlson of Crookston Discusses Post-war Job Survey

A joint meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Civic and Commerce association last Thursday evening in the Palm Garden Cafe was addressed by Rep. Harold Hagen of Crookston, who discussed the present status of the Red Lake-Clearwater river flood control project; and C. M. Carlson, also of Crookston, representative of the committee for economic development, sponsor of a post-war survey.

Mr. Hagen stated that two principal hurdles remain in the way of an early start on the river project—approval of the War Food administration as a war-time emergency undertaking, and similar approval by the war department.

The project at present is included in a blanket flood control bill now pending in Congress, and Mr. Hagen forecast favorable action shortly after the Easter recess. The final step, he added, will be the voting of funds to finance the project, the total cost of which is estimated by army engineers at $902,000.

Mr. Carlson, who was introduced by Roy J. Oen, declared that a public works program can be depended upon in part to provide employment immediately following the end of the war, and added that the major part of the responsibility for providing jobs must fall upon small business men and farmers, who, he said, normally employ 85 per cent of the nation's workers.

Mr. Carlson showed CED slides descriptive of the plan carried out by the city of Albert Lea for a survey of available jobs and individual expenditures that may be expected when peace arrives, and he recommended that a similar study be made in Thief River Falls.

CRIPPLED YOUTHS CLINIC AT LINCOLN SCHOOL APRIL 22D

Mrs. J. Arthur Johnson Named Chairman; Five Counties Included

Local arrangements for the clinic for crippled children to be held Saturday, April 22, in Thief River Falls have been completed. Mrs. J. Arthur Johnson has been appointed local chairman. The clinic will be held at Lincoln high school and the hours will be from 8 a. m. to 2 p. m.

Orthopedic surgeons will conduct the medical examination and will make recommendations for the care of disabilities. Arrangements for hospitalization for those needing it is a part of the clinic service. Crippled boys and girls over 14 who are interested in information on training for employment will have an opportunity to consult with vocational advisers.

Services of this clinic are for boys and girls under 21 years of age, whose parents are unable to provide necessary orthopedic treatment from the following counties: Pennington, Marshall, Red Lake, Roseau, and Kittson.

Miss Barbara Becker, field nurse for the bureau for crippled children of the medical services' unit of the division of social welfare is now in this district preparing for the clinic.

Mercury Hits High Mark of 61 Here on Wednesday

The winter's accumulation of snow in this locality disappeared during the past week, with clear sunny weather prevailing each day, the mercury reaching a high mark of 61 Wednesday afternoon. The ice in the river pool here has not yet broken up, but is expected to go within the next few days.

Sgt. Mark C. Leverson, with the parachute infantry at Camp Forrest, Tenn., left last night after spending a furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Leverson.

Dates Set for Annual Pre-School Roundup

Pioneer Resident Dies

HANS L. SANDE
Longtime resident of this community, for whom funeral rites were held last Thursday, following his death April 2 at the age of 77.

Preparations are now complete for the annual pre-school health roundup, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association, for small children who will enter school for the first time next fall.

Parents are requested to register their children of that age group at the grade schools according to the following schedule: Northrop, Wednesday, April 26, 1 P. M.; Washington, Thursday, April 27, 1 P. M.; and Knox, Friday, April 28, 1 P. M.

Children will be weighed, measured, and given Snelling eye test and health record, and lunch will be served. From May 1 to 15 local doctors will give physical examinations, vaccination against smallpox and immunization against diphtheria for 75 cents if the child has the necessary forms.

Districts in the county transporting children to the local schools are asked to send their beginners.

"It is our patriotic duty as parents," said Mrs. Clara G. Paulson, school nurse, "to send our children to school as free from remedial defects as possible. We are aware of the results of our draft board examinations, and are told that a large percentage of the defects found could have been corrected in early childhood."

LT. KENNETH BURNS MATHEWSON LOSES LIFE AT FT. BRAGG

Son of Mrs. Lucy Mathewson Killed Last Saturday in Line of Duty

Mrs. Lucy Mathewson of this city received on Easter Sunday the sad news that on the preceding day her son, Lieut. Kenneth Burns Mathewson, 30, had been killed in the line of duty at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, where he had been assigned three weeks ago to a combat unit. Details of the circumstances surrounding his death were not available here yesterday, but it was learned that a gun explosion was the cause of his death.

Lieut. Mathewson, who had entered the army in June, 1942, attended the war college at Fort Benning, Ga., and remained there to serve as an instructor until in February when he was assigned to the Yale University war college, going from there to Fort Bragg.

Burial will be at South St. Paul, where his wife, Agnes Dunwoody Mathewson, makes her home, funeral rites being scheduled for this afternoon in the Presbyterian church there. Surviving, in addition to his wife and mother, are a sister, Mrs. Evelyn Nelson of Mavie, and two brothers, Ward Mathewson of Minneapolis and Donald B. Mathewson of the U. S. merchant marine, New York city.

Born in Hankinson, N. D., April 3, 1914, Lieut. Mathewson was graduated from Lincoln high school, following which he attended the University of Minnesota.

LOCAL GIDEONS TO RALLY HERE NEXT SUNDAY, APRIL 16

Members of Local Camp Will Appear at Several Churches

Gideons of the Thief River Falls camp will rally here next Sunday, April 16, and appear in several of this city's churches. Gideons are expected to come from Clearbrook, Bagley, Fosston, Roseau, and Warren, as members of this camp. Their cause is to be presented in various churches; members also will be speaking and be in charge of some of the services during the day.

A. V. Brodin, president of the Thief River Falls Camp of Gideons, indicates that since this camp was organized less than one year ago, more than $2,000 has been forwarded to the Gideons headquarters in Chicago, enough to supply more than 8,000 servicemen and women with new testaments. In making this statement, he, in behalf of the Thief River Falls Camp, wishes to express their gratitude and appreciation to churches and individuals who have helped make this possible.

SATURDAY SCRAP PAPER PICKUP IN CITY NETS 7 TONS

Local Business Firms Lend Trucks to Make Pickup Possible

In the second all-city paper drive of Saturday, April 8, the three local Boy Scout troops collected another van load of waste paper for national defense. It is estimated that about seven tons were collected, a figure slightly less than last month's drive.

The monthly paper round-up is made possible through the co-operation of the Eagle's lodge which makes the necessary arrangements for trucks and drivers. Trucks were provided by Busy B Apiaries, the city water and light department, Land O'Lakes Creameries, Peterson-Biddick Company, Bridgeman Creameries, Texaco Oil Co., the Forsberg Co., and the Farmers Union. L. B. Hartz Stores furnished the van for the hauling of the paper.

The paper drives will be held monthly, according to plans worked out by Morris Owen, local scout commissioner, and Gordon Trythall of the Eagles. The proceeds of the paper sale are divided among the three city troops and a special general scouting fund for the expansion of Boy Scout facilities in the city.

COUNCIL VOTES FUND TO SURVEY AIRPORT SITE

Sets Aside $1,500 to Finance Complete Engineering Survey of Site

MAY PROCURE FIRE FIGHTING EQUIPMENT

Votes Upward Adjustment of Salaries of Some City Employes

Another step in the development of the Thief River Falls airport project was taken by the city council at its April session Tuesday evening when it set aside a fund of $1,500 to finance a complete engineering survey of the site. The work will be done by engineers supplied by the Minnesota department of aeronautics.

Action was taken to call for bids, to be opened Tuesday evening, May 2, on 2,000 pounds of brome grass seed to be planted on the airport site.

At the request of the park board, submitted by Lawrence Bjorkman and Roy Barzen, the council voted to accept the offer of the state highway department to supply shrubbery for beautifying the south approach to the city on Highway 32. The park board has agreed to maintain the plantings.

A delegation from the committee sponsoring the 'teen-age canteen, including Francis Kobliska, Bill LaFave and Ray Swenson, was present at the meeting to explain the proposed project and to solicit the council's moral and possible financial support. Action was deferred pending further study of the project.

Fire Chief Leonard Hanson informed the council that certain pieces of fire-fighting equipment could be obtained without cost from the U. S. Office of Civilian Defense, and it was decided to make application for it. The council also was asked to authorize the appointment of three or four additional volunteer firemen, action on the request being deferred pending a study of the governing ordinance.

The Greenwood cemetery commission requested that a section of four-inch water main, approximately 600 feet in length, be laid to connect the city water system with the cemetery property. It was estimated that the material, most of which is available here, would cost approximately $515 in addition to labor costs. The matter was referred to the water and light committee for investigation.

The council approved upward adjustments in salaries of the two regular park board employes and four employes in the municipal power plant, as well as Dr. L. R. Twete, city dairy inspector. Mayor Wm. J. Douville renewed his request for a higher salary scale for members of the police department, and the council indicated that conferences would be arranged with employes of the various city departments.

LITTLE CHANGE IN DRAFT STATUS OF MEN OVER 26 SEEN

Board Raises Rate for Transporting High School Students

The local board of education at its April session Monday evening made arrangements for the annual school district election Tuesday evening, May 16; accepted four resignations of faculty members and granted two leaves of absence; and approved a revision of fees to be charged for transportation of high school students and for tuition for pupils of closed rural schools.

The expiring three-year terms of C. E. Hellquist and Alfred Skarstad will be filled at the election this year, while the term of William Froiland, appointed to the board last year, also expires, and a successor will be elected for a one-year term. Also to be submitted at the election is the proposal to sell the old Central school building, not including the site.

Teachers whose resignations were accepted include Lorna M. Hanson, junior high school mathematics teacher; Minerva B. Udstuen, Knox second grade; Mrs. A. V. Grinley, kindergarten; and Mrs. Lenore Ulleberg, fourth grade. Leaves of absence were granted to Armand Pagliarini, manual training instructor, who will be inducted into the armed services May 15; and Edward Anderson, music instructor, whose induction is set for June 1.

Acting favorably on the recommendation of the local recreation board, the school board voted to engage Glenn Hanna and Quentin Jones to supervise playground activities and swimming instruction during the summer months.

The board took action to increase the charge for transporting high school students from the present fee of $3 per month to $3.50. Supt. Philip L. Fjelsted stated that a survey of Minnesota schools showed that the local district had one of the lowest fee schedules in the state, most schools charging $5 to $6 per month.

Tuition charges for closed rural schools were increased from the present scale, ranging from $500 to $750 including transportation, to $500 for five pupils or less instead of seven as before, plus $90 per year for each pupil over five, with a maximum of $900. Mr. Fjelsted, who cited higher costs of operating bus routes, reported that most other schools are charging from $450 to $750 without transportation.

RED CROSS NEWS NOTES

By Mrs. Millard Peterson

LOOKING AHEAD

(From Prisoners of War Bulletin)

Our heroic forces on Bataan and Corregidor held out until their last food and supplies were exhausted. They merited the respect of their enemy. Had the Japanese realized, that was the time to look ahead. The future nation of Japan, in some new form, will exist in the world to come.

There was the opportunity to provide our men with water, with food which was abundant in the Philippines, with medicines of which there were plenty in captured American military stocks. That these things were not done, particularly in those first few critical months, has resulted in darkening many an American home. But in consequence how many more Japanese hearths will be darkened and how many years or centuries to come?

In a general world dim out the Geneva Prisoners of War convention still represents a precious light, of which every belligerent might wisely strive to be a carrier. The seven transatlantic Red Cross ships which constantly ply the path to Europe from Philadelphia to Marseille, each traveling alone on its designated course and brightly lighted at night, carrying supplies both ways for prisoners of war of all nationalities, are seven beacons of continuing civilization.

Ships of this type should be steadily sailing the eastern seas, but they are not. The American Red Cross has striven for over two years to achieve channels of continuous supply and communication to the Far East. We have, with the support of our government, offered to turn over to the Japanese Red Cross in mid-Pacific a ship to be taken over by a Japanese crew in order to get food and medicines to our prisoners in Far Eastern camps.

Although this proposal is without precedent in history, thus far it has not been accepted.

Today about 25,000 of our citizens are still in Japanese prison camps. Until our own forces penetrate the heart of Japan and reach the Americans held in these camps, there is no way of imposing on the Japanese government our will to effect the appropriate care and protection of these American citizens.

Swiss delegates of the International Red Cross have worked unceasingly in Japan, Shanghai, and Hong Kong under the provision of the Geneva convention to bring about certain alleviations of conditions of our prisoners. They have not, however, been allowed to penetrate the Philippines.

There is only one solution to this problem before the end of the war, and that is the awakening of Japanese self interest to the realization that every prisoner we lose through neglect is an ineffaceable black mark on Japan's future for all time.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

From the girl scout national president to the girl scouts of Thief River Falls: "Girl scouts have done so much for their country since Pearl Harbor that I want to send each and every one of you a personal note of thanks and greeting.

"You know that girl scouts all over the country have given more than 15 million hours of service to hospitals, day nurseries, U. S. O., Red Cross, salvage drives, and dozens of other important wartime activities. It shows how much girls can do when they all work together for a common cause.

"Our service record should make us all very proud and girl scouts of Thief River Falls have a right to feel that they have helped make it possible. You have done a lot of good work collecting keys for the Chamber of Commerce, money for the U.S.O., for the Junior Chamber of Commerce, collecting money for the Red Cross at the theaters, caroling at hospitals and sanatoriums, working at surgical dressings and as hospital aides, and as library helpers, and I hope you will continue such helpful and important service to the community and country.

"Let's all plan to make the thirty-third year of girl scouting the best ever in service, in health, and in the fun of working and playing together." — Helen H. Means, national president.

Veterans Facility Urges Discharged Soldiers Not to Let Insurance Lapse

Major source of concern to the Veterans' Administration these days is that discharged veterans of World War 2, through lack of information or through misinformation, are failing to keep their war insurance in effect.

C. T. Hoverson, manager of the Fargo veterans facility, said under new regulations any discharged veteran of this war may reinstate all or part of his policy without a medical examination until Aug. 31, 1944.

All that is required is a statement on a form available thru post service officers and the veterans facility, that the man's health is as good as when the policy lapsed and forwarded with the premium for the period the policy was lapsed to the director of insurance, Washington, D. C.

Hoverson explained if the premium is paid on the due date, the policy is in force even if a receipt is not received immediately because of the demands made on the insurance setup by the thousands of insurees.

Few Items Being Sold at Over-ceiling Prices, OPA Survey in N. W. Reveals

Harold W. Bangert, district OPA director, today congratulated North Dakota and Minnesota grocers on their record in holding the line on food prices.

The final results of the recent district-wide store survey reveal that groceries are selling at or below ceiling prices in 98.04% of the cases. Only 396 grocery items, from a total of 20,179 items checked throughout 71 counties of the Fargo-Moorhead OPA district were found to be selling at over ceiling prices.

Nearly a thousand volunteer workers conducted the survey in this district. Mr. Bangert said, "The outstanding degree of effectiveness of price control in this area is a result of the cooperation and diligence of local grocers and volunteer workers in their determination to avoid price inflation.

17 Traffic Deaths Are Reported During March to Highway Department

Seventeen fatalities due to motor vehicle traffic accidents in March have so far been reported to the Minnesota highway department. This is the lowest number in any month since last July, and it equals the March, 1943, record. Four months in 1943 had lower death records, but with these exceptions the record in March was better than in any month in more than a dozen years.

Snow and ice and slippery roads, which made drivers as well as pedestrians extra cautious, are believed to have contributed to the good record. In January and February, when roads were generally clear and dry, fatalities were higher.

The 1944 record now stands as follows: January, 27; February, 29; March, 17; total, 73. Record in the same months in 1943 was: January, 16; February, 12; March, 17; total, 45.

"Employers who do not have such posters should request them immediately from the U. S. Department of Labor, 406 Pence building, Minneapolis," Hill said.

Abaca Source

Our chief source of abaca was the Philippines before the war. We no longer have that source, but immediately south of us are the countries of Middle America, where more fiber can be produced to the acre than in the Philippines. The Philippine average has been 500 to 1,000 pounds of fiber per acre per year. In Panama the average is more than 1,500 pounds per acre.

NAVY YARDS AGENT INTERVIEWING MEN HERE UNTIL APR. 15

Recruiter at Employment Office in City Today thru Saturday

Because the war in the Pacific is growing in intensity, the Puget Sound navy yard at Bremerton, Washington, and other naval shore establishments, need many thousands more civilian men and women to repair ships and to maintain the Pacific Fleet.

A recruiting representative from Bremerton, Washington will be at the United States employment office in Thief River Falls today thru Saturday, April 15. He will be hiring both skilled and unskilled men and women on the spot. Women applicants must be members of male recruit's family.

First class transportation, lower berth and meals are furnished en route to the West Coast. Housing for both single men and families is guaranteed by the government at the navy yard.

"If you have a skill", the recruiter announced, "the government needs you. If you don't have a skill, the government wants you and will train you on the job. If you are now employed at your highest skill in war essential industry, or on a farm, you must not apply."

Governor Edward Thye Files for Election as Minnesota Executive

Winding up his first year at the head of Minnesota's state government, Governor Edward J. Thye this week filed his name as a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

Two considerations moved him in seeking the nomination to succeed himself, Thye said in a filing statement:

"I am anxious, first, to see our state administration continued on the high level on which it was established so successfully in 1939 by Harold Stassen.

"I am interested, secondly, in seeing that plans are made and carried out that will soften the shock of conversion from war-time pursuits to peace-time employment and, so far as the state can, help our people meet the difficulties that will come in the post-war period."

Minnesota's first farmer governor, Thye came into prominence first as deputy commissioner of agriculture. He was elected lieutenant governor in 1942 with the knowledge on the part of the people that he would succeed to the governorship on the intended resignation of Harold Stassen as Governor. Thye became Governor April 27, 1943, on Stassen's resignation to enter active service in the navy.

PUBLIC OPINION

Dawson Creek,
B. C., Canada

Editor the Times:

I am writing in behalf of four of us from Thief River Falls, Minn. who still remain together up here as custodians of the interests of Thief River Falls in the Alcan highway and air ways. Distinctly I wish to state we are all faring well, working 6 days a week, spending the 7th day in the comforts of our spacious apartments and luxurious recreation parlors. The weather has been exceptionally fine this past winter. The little snow we had has now disappeared and left us a black, sticky substance called mud, necessitating the wearing of boots 14 inches or more in height. Last night we partook in a get together party of all former employees of the firm of Adolphson Huseth Leyser and Welsh who had a camp at J70 with a crew of around 280 men. This camp was known from Edmonton, Alberta to Fairbanks, Alaska as very congenial to all who might pass over the highway.

A grand dinner was served to 15 of us from different places in the United States by Paul Gold, our past steward at J70, who also acted as master of ceremonies. Extemporaneous speeches were made by all, commenting on the many memories of last summer at J70 under the guidance of Adolphson and Huseth. We wish this message to bear greetings to all our friends at Thief River Falls.

Here Are Some Spring Tonic Ideas For Your Home

Si Sez

Stan Larson brought this ad out for me to look over before he ran it in the Times.

Stan takes his advertising pretty seriously. He's a serious guy anyway. But—seriously speaking—when I got through looking at the bargains he has figured out it looked to me like he should have a flock of you folks in picking up the deals.

Take those Rockers and Chairs — really you will have to see them to appreciate them. Some of them are spring filled and they are sure comfortable and beautiful in appearance, and finely constructed too.

That living room deal is a darling and the biggest $149.95 value in the country. And look at that bedroom set for $109.50. That is a lot of fine furniture for very little money you'll admit when you've seen it.

Why he wants to offer 20% off on those brand new pictures is more than I can figure because they are pretty nearly every one pictures that Benton and I ordered when we were in Chicago for Market Week.

Now that I am out in Oakland Park "San" I see the daily figures over here and there must be a lot of folks in this territory who like our merchandise and our store—from the volume of sales in all lines.

I am glad—because Stan and Con sure do everything to please people and they are very appreciative of your patronage — I know.

I feel—right now—more like a Thief River Falls resident than I do like a citizen of Grand Forks. Well, I was born at Perham and always did like my native state.

Thanks a lot.
Si Poppler.

SWALLOWS ARRIVE AND LEAVE AGAIN

Askov.—Ted Peterson, Sturgeon Lake farmer, found 50 swallows in his barn one night in March. He wondered if he'd forgotten to tear off the pages of his calendar. Mounting the ladder to the hay loft sweet strains of music reached his ears long before he could see the birds sitting on the carrier track and door. They remained in the barn for a whole day but then departed and so far aren't back.

He has seen action in the Eniwetok Atolls of the Marshall Islands in the South Pacific and he was very proud to have been able to lead a group of men to a victory on a mission assigned to them. Three cheers for Lt. Vigen! He sends greetings to all his numerous friends back home.

Lee Swedberg has really been going to town with his lumber outfit down on his place. It is amazing how much they have done there. He has about five men working on the saw rig and such. Herman Rude ran the mill until recently when a splinter flew in his eye and split the eyeball. He is coming along fine now. Up to two weeks ago Harold Weckwerth hauled four loads of lumber a day to Forsberg's in Thief River Falls and he is still going strong. Lee has sawed and shipped 17,000 feet of lumber to the government. It's quite an outfit down at Lee Swedberg's farm.

Morris.—March 31, August 21, and October 18, are the three days of the year in which the Anton Helberg family of six, mother, father, three daughters and one son, hold their birthday parties. It's a two for one deal. Mr. and Mrs. Helberg were born on the same day, and there are two sets of twins in the family, which makes a total of three birthdays for six people.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

The recent six weeks scoutmasters training course of the Thief River Falls district was brought to a close last Sunday, April 2nd at the Mud Lake game reserve. Scouters from Thief River Falls, Holt, St. Hilaire, Newfolden, and Greenbush were guided on a special wild life observation hike through the game reserve by the reserve superintendent, Carl Vogen. A herd of approximately twenty foraging deer were observed at one point. Smaller herds of five to ten deer were also noted.

The hike ended with supper cooked on a patrol basis. Each of three patrols prepared hike chowder, camping dish which can be eaten without any special utensils. When asked to judge the chowders Mr. Zimmerman, local field scout executive said, "The contest is a tie." He apparently was influenced by the sausages cooked on the Barzen-Kobliska grill, for the hike chowder of Rattlesnake patrol was far superior to that of the Gobbler patrol which sponsors the Barzen-Kobliska Grill.

After the hike the scouters went to Holt for the award ceremony at which the scoutmasters certificates were presented. Twenty scouters received the special certificate. They were called to the award platform by Bill Walters who spelled out the names in international Morse code. No one could approach the platform who had not recognized his own name in code.

Matt Doorly Versus the Tomato

Matt Doorly's skin broke out in a rash last week. He finally admitted to Doc Hollister he'd eaten twelve tomatoes in a row just the day before.

"Shucks," said Doc. "That's all that's the matter with you. That kind of eating would turn anybody red."

So now Matt has not only cut out all tomatoes for himself. He's forbidden his family to eat tomatoes. And won't even have them in the house. Says tomatoes are anti-social and ought to be prohibited by law.

Funny how some people rush off to extremes like that. They take a wholesome thing and overdo it till it disagrees with them—or maybe find they don't happen to like it—and then they want it banned for everybody.

From where I sit, folks ought to realize there's a middle ground in everything—a middle ground of moderation on the one hand . . . and tolerance for our neighbors on the other.

Cordell Hull offended nobody by his report to the nation but Mr. Hull is never offensive — being unique in that respect among those who speak for the present administration. It is unfortunate that he is not twenty years younger, for certainly our country, and the world, will need his type of leadership for many years to come. There was nothing sensational in what he said Sunday night but the talk did much to create an understanding of the immensity of the problem with which our leaders are confronted and to restore confidence in that leadership. His suggestion that a committee be formed to represent the legislative branch of our government to work with the executive branch in the consideration of international problems, was definitely constructive. Closer co-operation between the legislative and executive branches at this time will lessen the danger of later misunderstandings that might make difficult any agreement on the problems of peace.

AIRPORT PLANNING

Favorable action by the Council on the proposal to have the airport site surveyed and planned by expert engineers is a proper first step toward whatever development program may be adopted later. Such preliminary planning does not commit us to any program of construction but it will mean that such improvements as are made from time to time will become a part of the permanent arrangement and thus eliminate much of the waste that always attends a hit and miss development. The cost of this preliminary engineering, in which the State will participate, should be paid back many times over in future economies.

Such expert planning is desirable, too, from the standpoint of advertising our airport possibilities in both public and private aeronautical circles. In the post-war period commercial aviation will be greatly extended. To what extent our city will figure in that development is at best a guess but it is not unreasonable to assume that our territory will be served at least by a feeder line. Franchises for such service have already been applied for.

For whatever development there may be we are now well established. The location of our airport site and its natural advantages have been commented on favorably by those who understand such things. With the planning out of the way we can settle down to providing such facilities as are justified by the need, and for our strictly local purposes we will need little more than a well sodded landing field with some facilities for shelter.

We are pleased to announce that our expert on when-will-the-ice-go-out-of-the-river has been canned. He has caused us no end of trouble lately and we are glad to be rid of him. His chair in our department of natural phenomena, located on the third floor, will now be occupied by a 4-F'er who is the seventh son of a seventh son of an army supposer who had the unusual record of having once supposed correctly what was going to happen next. By November he promises to come through with a prediction on when the ice will go out of the river next year.

Now that we are in the third year of the war it would seem that the government should soon be able to work out a stable plan for the induction of men into the armed forces. The present contradictory and muddled policy, which in effect is no policy at all, is not conducive to enthusiasm in the war effort among those who have responsibilities in civilian life and who do not now know from day to day whether or not on the morrow they will be civilians or soldiers.

Governor Thye has filed for another term and he probably has as little need to worry about the results of the election as any man who ever ran for office. Ed. Thye has been a good governor.

Lower leaves of the plants roll up and twist, then the rolling progresses gradually upward until those near the top are affected.

Inspection of Passenger Car Tires Ends April 20

Price Administrator Chester Bowles announced Tuesday that periodic inspections of passenger automobile tires will be discontinued after April 20. Halvor Langslet of Detroit Lakes will receive the support of Ninth district "liberals" composed of Farmer-Laborites and Democrats, as a candidate for congress, it was decided at a district conference in Mahnomen Saturday.

Because a full representation from the district was not present it was decided to "recommend" rather than indorse candidates to the state conventions of the F.-L. and Democratic parties in Minneapolis this Saturday.

Langslet was chosen by a large majority over Martin O. Brandon, Democrat from Fergus Falls.

No action was taken on other candidates.

Track

Only a sprinkling of veterans were in the group of boys that reported to coach Quentin Jones Tuesday afternoon as the Prowlers engaged in their first outdoor track drill. Of last year's letter-winners, Pete Michalsky, miler; and LaMarr Lefty Hanson, sprinter, have graduated; Bill Bye, regional broad jump champion, has transferred to Anoka; and Vern Tormoen, hurdler, is in the navy. Available for this season's squad are captain Burdell Merritt, the regional's hurdling champion; Herb Claffy, sprinter; Chuck Richards, weights; Larry Rulien, dashes; and Marlyn Dorn, weights.

The returning lettermen will be bolstered by the following candidates, several of whom have had some track experience: Oscar Breiland, Cliff Gunderson, Les Vigness, Phil Beadle, Allan Thompson, Ninak Carlson, Don Pratland, Jim Jorde, Brad Hanna, Thornton Anderson, and Cliff Aase. Coach Jones, if the weather remains favorable, intends to run time trials next week, and an inter-class meet the week following.

Coach Lloyd Osborne's district champion Crookston Pirates appear slated to make a successful defense of their track and field title. Coach Osborne still has Bill Reynolds, Dick Sprague, Gerald Ziebecke, Toddie Johnson, Don Youngquist, and others available for the coming season.

First Four-some

Father Merth, Ole Ekeren, Bill Dahlquist, and Matt Mattson are claiming the honors for being the first foursome to tour the local course this season. The quartet was out to the links last Sunday afternoon, and they were able to play all nine holes.

And speaking of golf, the honor of a job-well-done must go to John Curtis. This year, due largely to Curtis' perserverance and efforts, the membership in the local club is greater than last year.

Sucker Spearing

Jimmy Kelly, proprietor of Kelly's Red Horse and Sucker Spearing Station on ditch 18, tells me that a few fish are "running" up the ditch. Jim states that he picked up half-a-dozen on Saturday night. Other experts insist that the real "run" won't be on until the ice moves out of the river, and that the ideal spots for spearing are along the feeder ditches up Red Lake river.

Say, it would be fun to promote a sucker spearing duel between Kelly and Roy "Club" Langevin. Such a contest would determine the city champion, for they are both claimants, and it would prove whether or not Jimmy's straight over-hand thrust was more effective than "Club's" side-arm delivery. As the stance, they both employ the foot-in-the-mud position.

Miscellany

Willard Bill Kottke, former Prowler coach, has signed a contract to teach and coach at Owatonna next year. Bill received a medical discharge from the army early last fall and joined the faculty at Anoka, being Phy. Ed. instructor and football coach.—Johnny Powell spent some of his Easter vacation at Warren, but he didn't have a very enjoyable time. The Warren fans, still celebrating the three basketball victories they scored over the Prowlers this season, kept chiding Johnny and asking if the Prowlers were going to have another volleyball team next year.—Had a letter from Heinie Waag, the Kiewel's old right-fielder, this week. Heinie who's with a tank destroyer battalion, is in Italy and has been there for some time. He reveals that his company was in on the capture of Benevento; that they made the Volturno river crossing at night, and under heavy German artillery fire; and that they are now in the Cassino sector. He says that he has heard "Pistol Packin' Mama" for the first time, and that was while at a rest camp a month ago.

CHILDREN OF U. S. ARE ASKED TO PICK MILKWEED FLOSS

Government to Ask Aid Next Fall in Picking Life-jacket Lining

Minnesota school children have a war job ahead of them that may mean saving lives of American soldiers, sailors and fliers.

The government is going to need about 1,500,000 pounds of milkweed floss next fall, for manufacture of "Mae West" life-jackets. Some also will be needed for lining flying suits of men who fight in the skies.

Inquiries are going out now to school officials in the northern tier of states, where the weed is most plentiful, asking if they can be counted on to make the program a success.

If plans go according to schedule, every rural and small town school class in these states will be organized this spring and ready to swing into action early next September.

Preparations have to be made before the present school term closes, because milkweed pods may be ready for harvesting shortly before school opens next fall.

During the summer, a supply of onion bags will be delivered to every school that signs up. Each bag when filled with pods, it is estimated, will yield about a pound of processed floss.

The pods must be gathered shortly before they are ready to burst. Department of agriculture officials say picking time can be determined by breaking open the green pods and examining the seeds. If some of the seeds have turned brown, it's time to start harvest.

When the bags are filled they are to be hung out in the open air, until the pods are dried thoroughly. Then arrangements will be made for picking them up for shipping to a processing plant that has been built at Petoskey, Mich.

Twenty cents will be paid to the school for each bag of pods collected.

A similar program was tested last year in 12 Michigan counties. These counties alone yielded 150,000 pounds of floss.

U. S. Civil Service Commission Seeking Library Assistants

The United States civil service commission is seeking library assistants at $1,752 and $1,970 a year, including overtime pay, for federal jobs in Washington, D. C., and throughout the United States. Those appointed at $1,752 will do routine library work and will need no previous experience. Appointees at $1,970 will perform more varied and technical duties, and must have had at least a year of paid library work or a short training course in a library school or public library. Applicants for both positions must be at least 18 years old and must pass a short written test.

Application forms may be obtained from the commission's local secretary, G. Legvold, at the postoffice.

London Boy, 10, Writes His Impressions of Cow

A ten-year-old boy evacuated from London to the country during the "blitz" wrote the following description of a cow in an essay directed to the British minister of health: "The cow is a mammal. It has six sides, right and left and upper and lower. At the back it has a tail on which hangs a brush. With this he sends flies away so they don't fall into the milk. The head is for the purpose of growing horns and so his mouth can be somewhere. The horns are to butt with and the mouth to moo with. Under the cow hangs milk. It is arranged for milking. When people milk, milk comes and there is never an end to the supply. How the cow does it I have not yet realized, but it makes more and more. The cow has a fine sense of smell, and one can smell it far away. This is the reason for fresh air in the country."

More Typists and Clerks Required in Washington

Positions in the casualty branch are very important to the war effort. Persons selected will receive a salary of $1,752 a year for a regular Federal forty-eight hour work week. All persons selected will have their transportation paid, from their home to Washington, D. C., by the war department.

See the local civil service secretary, G. Legvold, at the postoffice for complete information. Persons now engaged at their highest skills in war work should not apply.

INEXPERIENCE NOT FACTOR IN DRIVERS MISHAPS IN 1943

Editors Urge Education of Combat Carelessness on Part of Motorists

Continued and intensified educational and enforcement efforts to keep drivers aware of traffic dangers and make them habitually safety minded, are advocated by M. A. Johnson of Blue Earth, chairman of the Minnesota Editors' Traffic Accident Reduction Committee. Far more accidents are caused by carelessness and indifference than by incompetence or physical defects in drivers or by defects in roads or vehicles, Mr. Johnson believes, and as evidence he cites the state highway department's analysis of 1943 accident reports. These reports show that:

Out of 16,904 drivers involved in 10,586 accidents, violation of one or more traffic rules by 9,206 drivers was reported.

85 per cent of drivers involved in accidents had more than one year's experience, 58 per cent had over 11 years experience.

8.5 per cent of all drivers involved in accidents had been drinking.

Driver defects, including fatigue were indicated in only 3 per cent of the drivers involved in accidents.

Vehicle defects were indicated in only 4.2 per cent of the accidents; road defects, such as ruts and loose gravel, in only 3.6 per cent.

74 per cent of all accidents occurred on straight and level roads.

Obscured vision was indicated in 25 per cent of all accidents. This includes windshields, clouded by dirt, snow or frost; vision obstructed by trees, shrubs, crops, buildings or signs, or by other vehicles. These accidents indicate disregard of the fundamental rule: "Control your speed so you can always stop in the visible clear space ahead."

Experience makes cowards of us all.

30-30 FREAK IN POULTRY

Pipestone. — In the preparation of a shipment of chickens for the eastern market a few days ago H. L. Hallahan, manager of a local creamery company, found a hen that was truly a freak. A very definite dividing line ran exactly through the bird, one half was Barred Rock and the other half White Giant. Pigmentation was different on each half of the bird, ear lobes were different and each leg was true to type and different in size, as were the wings. In his 25 years of poultry business Mr. Hallahan says he has seen plenty of "freaks" but never before a bird that showed "mixed breeding."

BACK THE INVASION

Railroads must have more men—more women.

As preparations go forward for the decisive assault on Hitler's Fortress of Europe, greater tonnages of war freight must be delivered on schedule to ports of embarkation. Troops must be moved swiftly and safely. The flow of materials to war industries must continue without interruption.

To do this job, railroads must have more men—more women.

6,000 Great Northern employees are in the Armed Services—most of them experienced railroad workers. All railroads are operating under similar handicaps—while handling more than twice the volume of traffic moved during the first World War. And the peak demand is still ahead.

Draft boards, as a whole, appreciate the importance of railroad jobs—have been cooperative. But to meet their quotas they have had to take men whom the railroads could ill afford to lose.

These employees must be replaced by other men and women who are not presently employed in war industries at their highest skills or in the production of food and other necessities.

Invasion days will be anxious days. They will be days when every true American will want to be doing something to support the sons, brothers, fathers and friends who will be fighting for footholds on Hitler's shores.

Back the invasion with a railroad job—a job with action.

Many jobs are open to men and women who have had no previous railroad experience.

GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY

U. S. ARMY IS UP TO FULL STRENGTH OF OVER 7 MILLION

Future Draft Calls to Supply Navy and Provide Replacements

The army has reached its full strength of 7,700,000 but that fact will not change the present rapid tempo of the draft, the office of war information announced Thursday.

Draft calls must continue at levels sufficient to expand the navy, which will reach its peak strength of 3,600,000, including marine corps and coast guard, by September 1.

Men are also needed to provide replacements for both army and navy.

The war department, in a statement issued through OWI, announced that its planned strength had been reached but that it will require 75,000 to 100,000 men a month throughout the remainder of 1944 to maintain that strength.

The navy department told OWI that by July 1 its forces should total 3,500,000.

About 300,000 men will be needed to reach that net strength by July 1 and at the same time provide the necessary naval replacements.

Between July 1 and September 1 an additional 100,000 men will be added to the net strength of naval forces.

Selective service headquarters said induction obviously cannot be materially reduced before July.

The announcement did not say how many total inductions a month will be necessary to hold the navy and army at their top strength, once they both have reached it, but Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey said 150,000 a month would be "a most conservative estimate."

That figure would include estimated casualties as well as normal discharges, which have been running anywhere from 75,000 to 100,000 a month.

Eighteen-year-olds can supply approximately 60,000 a month.

Farm Income

From August, 1939, to June, 1943, prices received by American farmers rose 116 per cent compared with a 41 per cent increase in their living and production costs during the same time.

Have a Coca-Cola = ¿Qué Hay, Amigo?
(WHAT GIVES, PAL?)

...or making pals in Panama

Down Panama way, American ideas of friendliness and good neighborliness are nothing new. Folks there understand and like our love of sports, our humor and our everyday customs. Have a "Coke", says the American soldier, and the natives know he is saying We are friends... the same friendly invitation as when you offer Coca-Cola from your own refrigerator at home. Everywhere Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—has become the high-sign of kindly-minded people the world over.

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".

50 PCT. OF LUMBER SUPPLY NEEDED TO PACKAGE SUPPLIES

U. S. Will Use 17 Billion Board Feet of Lumber for Purpose

More than 17,000,000,000 feet of lumber, equal to half of America's entire production in 1943, will be used this year merely for packaging and crating war supplies, equipment and munitions, J. Philip Boyd, WPB director of the lumber and lumber products branch in Washington, told 2,500 members of the Northwestern Lumbermen's association at its 1944 convention and war conference in Minneapolis this week.

"That is four times as much lumber as is used for crating and boxing in peacetime and is the principal reason WPB now considers lumber its No. 1 critical raw material," said Boyd.

"As to problems and opportunities after the war, I am convinced the lumber industry will enjoy demand for wood products that will be nothing short of tremendous.

"Nothing must stand in the way of military requirements but we also must provide for upkeep of essential facilities on which the military depends for supplies. This may be an industrial or a farm plant. Everytime we send a man overseas, it takes 300 feet of lumber to box and crate the initial supplies for that one man and 50 feet a month from there on to keep him supplied. That takes no account of all the other vast armament of war.

"I believe this demand will continue and probably increase, right up to the day one of our wars is won. While that is going on, the lot of retailers is going to become progressively tougher, not because the government wants it that way but because constant efforts as yet have not succeeded in planning effective relief."

Longest Term

Brig. Gen. Henderson, appointed marine commandant in 1820, held the office for the longest term—39 years—and established himself as one of the marine corps' most efficient leaders. He died in office on January 6, 1859.

Reports on Estimated Taxes Are Due Apr. 15

Arthur D. Reynolds, collector of internal revenue, announced today that copies of the forms for 1944 declarations of estimated tax have been mailed out to the 275,000 taxpayers who filed 1943 declarations in this district last fall.

Collector Reynolds said any other taxpayers who are required to file declarations this year may obtain them from the office of the collector of internal revenue.

The 1944 declarations are due not later than April 15. Originally scheduled to be filed on Mar. 15 along with 1943 tax returns, the 1944 declarations were postponed until April 15 in order to include provisions of the recently-enacted revenue act of 1943.

The purpose of these declarations, Collector Reynolds explained, is to keep everyone substantially paid up on his income taxes under the pay-as-you-go plan. Most taxpayers are kept approximately paid up by the tax that is withheld from their wages, and therefore do not have to file declarations.

However, some wage earners—particularly clergymen, domestic servants, and farm laborers—do not pay any withholding tax, and are required to file declarations. Other wage earners pay withholding tax but not enough to meet their total tax bill, and must therefore file declarations.

Also, declarations are required to provide a pay-as-you-go method of collecting taxes from business and professional persons and large numbers of others who get all or part of their income from sources where no tax is withheld, such as business profits, dividends, interest, rents, property or stock transactions, or annuities.

A declaration is required on or before April 15 from all citizens or residents of the United States who expect to have during 1944—either alone or together with a wife or husband:

1. Wages subject to withholding exceeding $2,700 for a single person or $3,500 for a married couple living together.

2. Or, more than $100 income from all other sources if the total of such income plus wages subject to withholding is (a) $500 or more for a single person, or (b) more than $624 for a married person, or (c) $1,200 or more for a married couple living together.

The first quarterly installment of estimated tax shown to be due on the declaration should be made at the time the declaration is filed and the remainder should be paid on or before June 15, and December 15.

Farmers who receive more than 80 per cent of their income from farming may, if they desire, postpone the filing of declarations until December 15. However, if they do wait until December 15, the entire amount of the estimated tax must be paid at that time.

Birthday in April? Time to Get Drivers License

Is your birthday in April? Perhaps you don't believe in horoscopes, but it does make a difference to motor vehicle drivers, says a Minnesota highway bulletin. Your driver's license should be renewed on or before your birthday. All driver's licenses issued before September 1, 1943, expire on the licensee's first birthday thereafter.

There is no period of grace in the time for renewal, the bulletin adds. If application is not made on or before your birthday, the right to operate motor vehicles on public streets is forfeited. In case of change of address, the rule is different, and application for renewal may be made at any time within 30 days thereafter.

All licenses issued after September 1, 1943, are good until the licensee's birthday in the fourth year after issued.

SHIPMENT OF GOATS BECOMES MORE GOATS

Mankato.—Although it was just another item in the day's business to express clerks, a blessed event in a goat family that occurred one recent afternoon at the Railway Express office, meant an extra goat for some citizen of Oswego, N. Y. And from the never-to-be neglected economic angle, it meant an additional express charge to cover the fee of a local veterinarian who helped bring the snow-white kid into the world. The shipment of goats had originated at Phillips, S. Dak.

QUIET PRIMARY ELECTION IS IN PROSPECT HERE

Opposition for Only [illegible]ty Officers as Fil[illegible] Period Ends

NO COMPETITION F[illegible] THREE INCUMB[illegible]

Full Slate of Candidat[illegible] Contest in Statewide Primaries

With contests for only tw[illegible] the five Pennington county of[illegible] to be filled this year, indications are that primary election will be a relatively quiet affair, so far as local contests are concerned.

Unopposed for reelection when the filing period closed Monday were Herman A. Kjos, probate judge; Henry Storhaug, clerk of court; and Paul Roy, county commissioner from the third district.

Frank Race, who is seeking reelection as first district commissioner, will be opposed by Alfred Longren of the Town of North, and Theo. P. Hyland of Highlanding.

Competing with O. M. Mandt, fifth district commissioner and a candidate for reelection, will be John L. Radniecki of Deer Park township and Morris Nelson of Mayfield.

Last-minute filings for the July 10 Minnesota primary election Monday indicated a four-party race for governor which probably will require a supreme court decision to clarify.

Emil E. Holmes of Minneapolis, who filed previously as Democratic candidate for governor, and Fred Miller of Brainerd, and Frank Yetka of Cloquet, who had filed previously for the Farmer-Labor nomination for governor, were expected to seek court action before submitting to the new party fusion of the Democrats and Farmer-Laborites.

They had filed before merger of the Democratic-Farmer Labor party became effective last Saturday.

He stated that the grain terminal association had handled $100,000,000 in business during the past ten months, and added that organization welcomes an investigation by the state of charges made against it by Ray P. Chase, whom he characterized as a bankrupt politician acting for the private grain trade.

LT. B. MATHEWSON RITES CONDUCTED IN SOUTH ST. PAUL

Local Officer Buried with Full Military Rites Last Thursday

Final rites were held last Thursday in the Presbyterian church in South St. Paul for Lieut. Keneth Burns Mathewson, 29, who lost his life April 8 in a gun explosion at Fort Bragg, North Carolina. He was laid to rest in Park Hill cemetery with full military honors.

Memorial services also were held at Camp Roberts and Fort Benning, as well as at Fort Bragg, according to Captain Barclay of that post, an officer of higher rank who served as escort.

Captain Barclay reported that, altho Lieutenant Mathewson had been at Fort Bragg only four days preceding his death, his fellow officers felt he was one of the finest men they had ever met and the highest type of officer.

Lieut. Matheson was killed when a cartridge from his pistol exploded while he was cleaning the weapon after target practice at Fort Bragg, N. C., on Saturday, April 8. He had just returned to the barracks from target practice and was cleaning his pistol when it jammed. In trying to remove the cartridge, the gun was discharged, the bullet entered his chest and killed him instantly.

Seeding Goes Forward Under Most Favorable Conditions This Year

With the sun shining brightly every day for the past two weeks up to today, the ground has dried rapidly, and seeding operations in this area have gone forward under the most favorable conditions in recent years. Manpower Commission Starts Third Year Here

New and greater tasks face the War Manpower Commission as it begins its third year of operation, it was said today by Russell E. Olsen, manager of the Thief River Falls field office of the WMC's U. S. employment service. The WMC came into being on April 18th, 1942.

The area served by the USES office at Thief River Falls is comprised of Red Lake, Pennington, Marshall, Roseau and Kittson counties. The office is located at 203 Third Street East.

Since April 1942 this office has filled a total of 3372 jobs. Of these jobs, 1585 have been agricultural and 1787 have been non-agricultural. During the fall of 1943 a total of 172 workers were referred to the meat packing industry, and 77 workers were referred to the lumber and pulpwood industry.

In this area, which is one of 33 in the state, the War Manpower Commission has developed its employment stabilization program as one of its outstanding accomplishments, supplemental to the regular placement service that long has been the job of all U. S. employment offices, which are WMC's principal operating arm.

The employment stabilization plan is adapted to meet local conditions from programs serving the state, the region, and the nation, and its administration is the responsibility of the area director, with the local war manpower committee, which is composed of six members with equal representation from management and labor serving in an advisory capacity. The committee members are Frank Hammergren, Gilmore Grindeland and Lawrence Phillion, representing labor and W. W. Wade, Roy Oen and John Helm, representing management.

The agency's regular service to veterans has been vastly expanded to meet the present as well as future needs of World War veterans. Because so many veterans will be handicapped, the agency's special service to such persons has been consolidated with its veterans' placement division. All offices have a veterans' employment representative, who has been especially trained for his new responsibilities. Alfred Skarstad is serving in that capacity in Thief River Falls.

BACK FOURTH TERM FOR PRES. ROOSEVELT

Bennie Brandt of Roseau is Delegate to National Dem Convention

Minnesota Farmer-Laborites and Democrats formally joined forces in Minneapolis Saturday as the Democratic - Farmer-Labor party and selected a slate of delegates to the Democratic national convention instructed to support President Roosevelt for a fourth term.

Both Oscar Ewing of Washington, vice chairman of the Democratic Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, forecast re-election of Roosevelt in addresses before a joint Democratic-Farmer-Labor rally following the separate party conventions.

Half the 50 delegates who will have 24 votes at the national convention and six of the 11 presidential electors chosen were persons formerly affiliated with the Farmer-Labor party.

In addition to indorsing the president, the party adopted a resolution "unequivocally favoring international co-operation."

Way for fusion was paved when the Democrats agreed to a series of Farmer-Labor proposed amendments to a constitution adopted Friday night and the Farmer-Laborites changed their party name to Fellowship. The Democrats then adopted the new, hyphenated name.

Immediately after action by the two conventions, certificates to legalize the name changes were filed with Secretary of State Mike Holm.

Officers of the new party are Elmer Kiem of Chanhassen, chairman; Charles Egley of St. Paul, vice chairman; Mrs. Arthur Le Sueur, Minneapolis, vice chairwoman; Paul Tinge, St. Paul, secretary; and E. D. Gargeth, St. Paul, treasurer.

One change in the party constitution approved upon demand of the Farmer-Laborites will require calling, not later than June 15, by the new party, of precinct, county and district conventions. E. Peters Speaks at General Meeting of Women's Club Monday

E. J. Peters of Stockton, Calif., seed expert for Weyl-Zuckerman, was the guest speaker at the general meeting of the Women's Club Monday evening in the Civic & Commerce rooms. Mr. Peters, who spent some time in a German concentration camp, chose as his subject "Can We Expect an Early Break-down of Nazi Germany?"

The Penates group were hostesses for the evening, and with Mrs. Andy Williamson in charge, a program was presented including two vocal selections by Edward Anderson with the accompaniment of Mrs. James deVeau, "Dawn's Greatest Treasure" by Leoncavallo and "Forgotten" by Eugene Rowles. At the close of Mr. Peters' talk, the Music group, under the direction of Mrs. Glenn Hanna and accompanied by Mrs. W. J. Brown, sang "A Song of Gladness" by Oley Speaks and "Goodnight" by Denza.

Mrs. Warren Ferber, former secretary of the organization, was elected to succeed Mrs. V. D. Borry, as president, other officers chosen for the coming year being Mrs. H. W. Habberstad, vice president; Mrs. Ray Jude, secretary; and Mrs. C. D. Gustafson, treasurer.

In his talk, Mr. Peters stressed the change in the mentality of the German people and said we should never think of the German people as we used to and as we know them in this country. They are like a new race, which can only be called Nazi. He also brought out the power of propaganda, which he says is the art of instilling an opinion in the masses. In his own words, "It is not a machine to make wind, but a sail to catch the wind. The Nazis have perfected this technique and they are using it to make themselves master of the masses."

Mr. Peters spent some time telling about education of the youth of Germany. Children six years old are taken into the party and must take an oath not only to be loyal to the party but to report anyone who does not agree with its teachings. In this way some children are forced to send their own parents to a concentration camp.

Spending some time in a German concentration camp himself, Mr. Peters pointed out the stories told about these places are certainly true and we should not think that they are merely propaganda.

We must have faith in our military leaders, said Mr. Peters, and although the progress of our army in Italy is probably not as swift as it should be, it must be remembered that we are tying up many powerful divisions of German armies at once. Unity is a necessary weapon in winning this war, he said, and it will call for great sacrifice on the part of each of us.

In concluding, Mr. Peters dwelt on the subject of reconstruction after the war, and said that Germany ought to be made to rebuild all the countries that have been taken before their own country is rebuilt. This should not be taken as a punishment but as self-protection leading to their own recovery.

At the close of the evening lunch was served by the Penates group from a taper lighted table centered with a flowering plant.

STATE TAX SLASH OFFSET BY BOOST IN VARIOUS AREAS

Rates in Many Counties This Year Higher Despite State Cut

Efforts of the Minnesota legislature at its last session to enact a tax program that would reduce the tax burden on property have brought relief to taxpayers in most counties of the state, an extensive survey by the house of representatives interim committee on state administration made public this week disclosed.

The legislature adopted a tax program that reduced the maximum state tax levy that might be made on property from 9 to 6 mills for 1943 and 5½ mills for 1944. The levy spread by the state auditor for 1943, to be paid this year, actually was 5.4 mills, or a reduction of 3.6 mills.

The interim committee some time ago undertook an exhaustive inquiry to determine whether taxpayers actually got the reduction which the legislature intended, whether, in other words, increases in levies by local units of government were offsetting the reduction in the state levy.

One feature of the tax program was a suspension of the moneys and credits tax. Townships, municipalities and counties might feel impelled to make some increase in local levies to make up for less of revenue from this source, it was thought, but the amount would be negligible in most places. Amounts received from this tax were not large except in a few major centers.

The report made public this week provided the answers to these queries. Taxpayers in townships, for the state as a whole, got a reduction of 2.95 mills in the combined state and local tax levies on the average, it showed. In cities and villages, the reduction in state and local levies combined was 1.62 mills on the average.

The report brought out, however, that all taxpayers did not receive a tax reduction. In 24 counties, the average combined state and local tax rate on township property increased in spite of the decrease of 3.6 mills in the state property levy. Decreases in the average rate were reported in 63 counties. In 19 counties, the average reduction exceeded the state mill reduction of 3.6 mills, indicating that in the average township in these counties taxpayers received the full benefit of the tax reduction program enacted by the Legislature.

In cities and villages, the average combined state and local mill rate was increased in 18 counties despite the reduction of 3.6 mills by the state, indicating local units more than absorbed the gain.

RURAL MAIL PATRON NEEDED ASSISTANCE

New Duluth.—The postmaster at Slippery Rock recently was slightly disconcerted at the following note which a rural carrier found in a mail box on his route: "Dear Mailman—attached is a check for $5 for which will you kindly get me a stamp to make our flivver a legal means of transportation for the purpose of going to the ration board for a permit to get gas to have our machine inspected so that we may visit the ration board to get authority to buy a new tire so that our can may be in suitable condition to pay our withholding tax."

Sufficient Seed for 1944 Victory Gardens

"Will there be seed enough to go around?" is again a vital question in the minds of the nation's Victory Gardeners as Uncle Sam asks for a substantial increase over the 20,000,000 vegetable gardens raised in the United States last season.

A confident reply comes from Ferry-Morse Seed Co., largest growers and distributors of garden seeds in the world.

"We are ready for a sizeable increase over last year's output for Victory Gardens," they declare, "in spite of tremendous handicaps and labor shortages."

Seed of some varieties of certain vegetables is still on the short side, but this is a situation which is bound to occur even in normal times. Wise and experienced gardeners, however, know that if the dealer does not have the variety he has been accustomed to getting, there is always another of equally excellent quality to take its place. Take snap beans, for example. Whether round-podded or flat-podded, green or wax, each group is made up of several varieties differing but little from each other in form and growing habits. All are stringless, and in flavor and texture it puzzles even the experts to tell them apart. The same is true of numerous varieties among other kinds of vegetables.

While every Victory Gardener should grow as big a crop of vegetables as is practical to meet the needs of his family, buying more seeds than are needed will be a definite detriment to the 1944 War Food Program. Any seeds left over from early plantings should be put in as repeat plantings or sown in midsummer for fall harvesting. Be sure that the seeds are stored in a dry place, such as a tight-covered fruit jar, until time to use.

As during the past successful season Victory Gardeners will do well to confine their efforts to standard vegetables, especially those that store, dry, or can to good advantage. During 1943, approximately 4,300,000,000 jars of fruits and vegetables were put up in this country, and the government hopes that this figure will be surpassed in 1944.

After having watched a darkey fishing for 40 minutes without a bite, the salesman asked:

"Doesn't seem to be many fishes in that pond!"

"No, sah," replied the darkey, "dere nebbah was a fish in dat pond."

"You don't mean it!" exclaimed the wondering salesman. "Then what is your object in fishing where there are no fish?"

"Do objec' ob fishin' whar dey ain't no fish, sah," grinningly answered the darkey, "am to let de ole woman see dat ah hain't got no time to dig up de potatah patch."

World's Greatest Oaks

An important discovery was made by an expedition of the U. S. forestry service, surveying the timber wealth of Central and South America—a "lost forest" of the biggest oak trees in the world, extending for miles along the interocean divide, within 50 miles of San Jose, Costa Rica. Some of the trees are 8 feet in diameter.

The survey revealed a greater variety of trees than anywhere in the United States, with as many as 100 species to the acre. A hitherto unknown species of vantanea will be useful in building the Inter-American highway. Timber surveyed may go far to meet Europe's postwar demand, estimated at 7,000,000,000 to 10,000,000,000 board feet a year.

Wood Cure

In 1508 a wood "cure" for man's more serious illnesses was introduced by the medical profession of Europe. This wood, imported from Cuba and supposedly endowed with miraculous powers, was named "lignum vitae" or wood of life. A favorite of the courtiers, a pound of this healing tree was sold for seven gold crowns and two centuries passed before its medicinal value was questioned.

Today, however, this strong, water-resistant wood is used in substantial pulley sheaves, caster wheels, stencil and chisel blocks, masthead trucks, and the bearings or brushing blocks used in lining the stern tubes or propeller shafts of ships.

Banana Trade

The banana trade as we now know it is decidedly new. The first bananas to arrive in New York were brought there from Cuba in 1804. By 1830 occasional clipper ships were bringing small cargoes from Cuba and the Bahamas. This trickle gradually increased, but as recently as the Philadelphia Centennial of 1876, red bananas wrapped in tinfoil were sold as an exotic curiosity. It was not until the introduction of the modern refrigerated steamship at the turn of the century that the real banana industry was born.

HIGHWAY PATROL'S SPEEDING ARRESTS INCREASE IN MARCH

Fast Driving Accounted for 294 Arrests During Past Month

Exceeding the wartime speed limit was the cause of two-fifths of the arrests made by state highway patrolmen in March, according to the monthly report made to M. J. Hoffmann, commissioner of highways, by Elden Rowe, chief patrol officer. Of the 720 arrests made during the month, 294 were for excessive speed.

Other causes were: going through stop signs, 74; improper equipment, 70; overweight, 62; careless driving, 58; driving while under the influence of liquor, 33; all other causes, 129. Arrests for speeding increased over March, 1943, while other violations generally decreased.

Fines imposed in March totaled $10,599.35. Motorists guilty of driving while under the influence of liquor drew the heaviest penalties, an average fine of $75.50. Average fine for speeders was $12.50; for careless driving, $20.80; average for all causes, $14.60.

Warning tickets were given to 551 for less serious infractions of the safety regulations, including 235 for speeds slightly in excess of wartime speed limits and 166 for failure to have driver's license in possession.

The patrol issued 1,117 illegal equipment tags in March, these tags requiring specified repairs to be made within a stated time. More than half of these were for faulty lights.

Reroofing and Re-siding Permitted by WPB Rules

A reminder that re-siding and re-roofing of houses, barns, and other buildings is automatically authorized by WPB was re-emphasized in an official statement by W. A. McMillan, Fargo WPB district manager today. The interpretation states that if an existing siding or roof needs repair, the minimum amount of repair work may be done to put the siding or roof in a suitable condition without authority. However, if a siding can be put in proper condition by an application of paint, the reconditioning should be done in this manner.

Minnesota's most famous and most debated historical object is the Kensington Runestone.

First Prize Report of L. O'L. N. W. Chick Rearing Contest

In the following report on his 1943 chick rearing project, which won for him a $25 war bond given by Land O' Lakes Creameries, Eugene Prestegaard, Star township 4-H club worker, who led the contestants in twelve counties, describes the practices he carried out.

My record began Jan. 1, 1943. I care for all the poultry on our farm, and I had 250 year old hens of my own. I have kept accurate record of eggs sold and feed purchased.

During the period of the record I have fed the hens laying ration. They also were given whole oats and whole wheat as a scratch grain feed. One-third was given in the morning and two-thirds in the evening. They also have plenty of oyster shells, hard grit, and clean fresh water. Occasionally I gave them some calcite sprinkled on top of the mash in their feeders. Water fountains were heated during cold weather. When these hens were pullets I fed them cafeteria style. They never reached very high production and were bothered with cannibalism so I gradually changed to the laying ration and since have had higher production.

March 2, the folks purchased one thousand special grade Leghorn chicks from the Land O' Lakes hatchery in Thief River Falls. These were fed L.O'L. chick starter and builder. At three weeks I separated the roosters from the pullets and kept them in a separate brooder house.

When they were ten weeks old I started to give them whole grain and a chick size grit. They also had their starter and builder. Later I changed and gave them the home mixed ration mentioned on page one. When the cockerels reached from 2½ to 3 pounds we sold them. During the latter part of the pullets' growing season they lived on mostly whole wheat. The pullets began laying in July and were housed.

Our poultry house is 20 ft. by 44 ft. and has a shed on the side 11 ft. by 44 ft. The main building has a straw loft ventilation system. The shed has roof ventilators. I moved my hens into the shed and then I cleaned and washed the main building. The floors, feeders, fountains, and dropping boards were all gone over with strong Lewis lye water. I cleaned all the straw from the straw loft, and then the pullets were put in. When they began producing heavier I gradually gave them laying ration and also plenty of whole grain. They have had regular laying ration for over 9 months and a half now. They are laying 50% and better. Of course we didn't get as good a price for the pullet eggs as for my old hens' eggs. The hens were confined all summer so I had a very good grade for my eggs. The pullet eggs now are at least half of the special grade.

The pullets were all culled when we put them in the hen house. We kept only the large birds that would mature into heavy producers. My old hens also have been culled and will be culled again. We will keep all the pullets and I will keep all the good old hens over this winter. We will have about six hundred laying hens this winter. Of course, the shed on our hen house will need insulation and siding but should make good laying quarters when repaired.

I exhibited four pullets at the 4-H fair in our county September 25. I was to exhibit 3 pullets and 1 cockerel but I never saved any cockerels. I received a blue ribbon.

I have been enthusiastic about my work with poultry. I have learned a great deal from my work. Now during these war times my goal is to produce more. I have greater satisfaction when I know I have produced food vital for defense and victory. So, "Till Victory is ours we must work, work, work, on the home front."

Camphor Hurts and Heals

Every bomber now blasting the enemy is coated with materials containing turpentine and rosin. Bombardiers' and pilots' clothes are waterproofed with pine products. Explosives zooming toward enemy objectives contain synthetic camphor made from turpentine. Military first-aid kits carry heart stimulants, salves, and liniments in which this camphor plays a vital role.

Beam Tipper

No, this young fellow isn't throwing his weight around. He's just making sure he gets an accurate reading from the scale. This camera portrait was made by Carl Mansfield of Bloomingdale, Ohio. It was an entry in the 31st annual exhibit of the Pittsburgh (Pa.) Salon of Photographic Art being held in that city.

Conserves Vitamin

In contrast to cereal grain milling, it is explained, the process applied to oil-bearing seeds conserves the vitamin B complex values in the same edible milling part with the protein. The hull is the only waste product as far as food uses are concerned. Judging by comparison of assays on seed and seed flour, the removal of the oil leaves the cake with an increased concentration of water-soluble vitamins. From a food standpoint the oil has calory and culinary value with little if any known specific nutritional properties.

Need Hay

Cows not getting all the pasture roughage they can eat need additional hay as well as grain for economical milk production.

Funeral Services Are Conducted in St. Paul for Ralph F. Foster

Funeral rites for Ralph F. Foster, restaurant manager in St. Paul for many years, were held in St. Paul Saturday, Apr. 8, at 9:30 A. M. from the Willwerscheid Mortuary in St. Paul and at ten o'clock services were conducted at the St. Louis Catholic church. Interment was in the Calvary cemetery.

Born May 13, 1908 at Pipestone, Minn., Mr. Foster later moved to St. Paul and was married to Gladys Remmem of this city. After a long lingering illness of two and a half months at the hospital and the last few days at his mother's home at 163 Kent St., he passed away April 4.

Left to mourn are his wife, Mrs. Gladys Foster, and son Ralph, Jr., as well as his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Foster; two brothers, William D. and Pvt. George W.; and two sisters, Mrs. W. Benscoter and Mrs. M. J. Smyth.

Services in Grygla for Mrs. C. A. Smith

Mrs. Curtis A. Smith, route 5 Grygla, was buried at rites held in the St. Olaf church in Grygla Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Rev. G. L. Halmrast officiating. Mrs. Smith passed away last Thursday at a local hospital at the age of 54 years.

Other than her husband, Mrs. Smith is survived by two daughters, Mabel and Myrtle, and two sons, Harold and Chester, all of Grygla; and a brother Charles Dalson of Red Lake. Her parents and a brother preceded her in death.

Mrs. Smith was born in this city May 12, 1889, and while yet a child her mother passed away. She attended school at Red Lake and Morris and later at Great Falls, Mont., and at Muskogee, Okla., where she graduated and became a teacher of civil service in the year 1909. She was united in marriage July 1, 1916, at Sapulpa, Okla, and she and her husband made their home in Kansas until the spring of 1917 when they came to Red Lake. Since 1920 they have lived on a farm in Beltrami county.

Consider Height of Children

A low, firm stool or a hassock placed near the washbowl, enables little children to reach the bowl with ease and encourages handwashing before meals and after toilet. If it is not possible to place towel bars or hooks in a low part of the bathroom wall, a wooden rack such as is used to hold clothes after they have been ironed, will put towels and face cloths where they can be reached by small children.

Sour Milk Value

Sour milk has all the food value of fresh milk—its calcium, protein and vitamins. The family will get those food values if it's used in pancakes, biscuits, butter cakes, gingerbread or cottage cheese. To make the cottage cheese, let the milk thicken at room temperature; then place it in a clean cheesecloth bag and drain over night. Add salt (and pepper if desired) to the curds left in the cheesecloth and chill before serving. Chopped chives give it a pleasant tang, and a tomato stuffed with it makes a delicious luncheon dish.

TEACHER COLLEGE TO HOLD TERM IN CITY THIS SUMMER

Summer Session Will be in Progress from June 12 to July 14th

Bemidji state teachers' college is again planning to conduct a five weeks summer session at Thief River Falls beginning June 12th and ending July 14th.

"The outlook for the coming school year thruout the entire state is for a greater shortage of teachers even than last year so that former teachers may have to be drafted into teaching service.

Eight quarter hour credits may be earned for renewal of teacher's certificates or it may be applied on an advanced standard certificate. We are not certain that we may have the privilege of having a summer session here after this year so would advise as many as possible from Pennington and nearby counties to avail themselves of this opportunity at this time," said Mrs. A. C. Matheson, county superintendent of schools.

For further information contact Mrs. Matheson at the court house.

SMALL WORLD STORY

Dassel.—Enjoying a shore leave in Honolulu recently, Jack Hardy, R. A. 1/c of the U. S. navy formerly of this town picked up five snapshots that caused him to blink and blink his eyes to be sure he was seeing clearly. On the back of each picture he found written, "Dassel, Minn., Aug. 29, 1943." Not recognizing the people he sent the snaps to his father who in turn gave them to the newspaper office for indentification. It was learned another local boy, Warren Fossum, U. S. navy, had been in Honolulu about the same time and the pictures had evidently been lost by him.

We have heard no complaints about the weather this past week. Much of the crop has already gone in under unusually favorable conditions and that is all anyone can hope for at this season of the year. A good start does not always assure a good finish but it's nice to know you haven't already got two strikes on you when you get up to bat.

There isn't going to be much of an incentive for voters to go to the polls in the coming primary election. The only county officers who will have opposition are two commissioners. There will be no primary contest for the two legislative offices and the state ticket will be uninteresting. About the only argument that will attract attention is the Hagen-Padden contest for the Republican nomination for Congress. Under the circumstances there probably will be a record light vote cast.

More than 6,000 British and American planes over fortress Europe in a period of thirty hours leaves little question as to which side now has air supremacy and suggests what might be expected in the way of concentrated bombing from planes and ships in support of the coming invasion. Today is Herr Hitler's birthday and you be sure that it, and every other day, is a long and anxious one as the Russians close in on the East and the Allies threaten him at all points along his long Atlantic and Mediterranean coastline. These are not happy days for the master of the master-race.

General Douglas MacArthur has eliminated himself as a possible presidential candidate merely by fumbling his own correspondence. We still think he is tops in military circles but he evidently does not have a knack for leadership in civil affairs.

Defeat of the Japanese in India would be most heartening and would do much to restore the faith of the Chinese. A Jap victory in this sector, however, would be most discouraging. The importance of keeping the Chinese in the war cannot be over-estimated and we hope Vice-President Wallace will be able to convince them that we really are on the way with sufficient help to bring them victory.

With only some mopping up to do in Sevastopol, the Russians have now practically completed the task of driving the Germans out of their country. The rich Ukraine has been recovered in time for this year's seeding and no doubt many of the battle fields in this area are already being cultivated. Anyone who would have predicted eighteen months ago that these things would happen would have been laughed to scorn.

Now that the mystery of the leaping lignite has been solved our friends over in North Dakota can settle down once again to the humdrum realities of life. This world would be infinitely more interesting if nosey sleuths would quit meddling with such goings-on as the pupils of the Wild Plum school had provided. A jitter-bug coal scuttle that occasionally erupted its contents certainly would have more personality than an ordinary hod, and there never would be a dull moment in a room filled with books and curtains that might leap into flame without a moments notice. It must have been a lot of fun living in the good old times when people believed in hexing and witchcraft. We are told that some were so superstitious in those days that they actually believed 13 was an unlucky number.

Deficient in Protein

Feeding records show that corn does not supply sufficient quantity or quality of protein to satisfy the needs of either young or old pigs. Pigs grown in a dry lot should also receive a protein supplement to complete the ration.

Unrationed Butter

Mrs. C. M. Connell, Reading, Pa., saves butter rationing points by churning cream with a jig saw. Her husband devised the ingenious method. A can of cream is attached to the saw and the motion churns it into butter.

Cover Foods

In most refrigerators it's best to cover all foods except those like melons which have their own cover of thick skin. Moisture and flavors from uncovered food escape and freeze on the cooling unit. As the frost gets thicker, the temperature goes up.

Protein Requirements

Usually it is stated that the protein requirement of man, including infancy, is satisfied when 10 per cent of the calories are derived from a good quality protein.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Soldiers' Wives and Post-War Married Life

A psychologist offers some mighty sensible advice to husbands and wives separated by war. He believes "lack of tolerance" rather than loss of affection is most likely to cause post-war marriage difficulties.

The wife has built wonderful pictures of how perfect life will be when her husband gets back. And he dreams of evenings with her by the fire with a glass of beer, friendly conversation, and no problems or worries.

Of course, it isn't true that just getting back together will make life perfect. There'll be the same domestic problems, the same complications and adjustments, as always.

That's where tolerance is going to be mighty important. Tolerance for a husband who spills ashes on the carpet sometimes. Tolerance for a wife who spends a little too much money for a funny-looking hat. Yes, tolerance is a mighty good foundation for any marriage.

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear daddie and brother, Joe F. Vakoch who passed away April 20, 1939.

Spring time has come again dear daddy. Time so slowly wends its way since you left us, all so lonely, left to spend each mournful day. We know you've gone but just in person, daddy dear we long for thee. Your voice and loving smile with us brother, twill always be, time may pass and earthly troubles quickly fade from our lives. Still we are waiting once again to meet you on that far and distant shore.

Dearly loved and sadly missed by his children and sisters, Alvin H. Jane, and Joe Vakoch, Mrs. Frank Horejsh, Mrs. Joe Cernousek, Mrs. A. Kosanda. 16c

Card of Thanks

Because there were so many names on the autographed creamery report I received recently, I am afraid I won't be able to acknowledge each one by mail but hope it won't be long until I can be home and tell each one of you, personally, how much this thoughtful act meant to one who has been away two years. Thanks to each and every one of you. Sgt. Charles B. Josephson, Ireland. 16p

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Katie Vakoch who passed away April 18, 1941:

A precious one from us is gone,
A voice we loved is stilled.
A place is vacant in our hearts,
Which never can be filled.
How we miss her smiling face,
She left us to remember that none on earth can take her place.
How sweet is the memory still,
But death has left a loneliness,
The world can never fill.

Dearly loved and sadly missed by her daughters; Mrs. Frank Horejsh, Mrs. Joe Cernousek, Mrs. Alex Kosanda. 16c

LOCAL DEMOLAY QUINT NOSED OUT IN STATE FINALS

Loses in Championship Tilt to Franklin Chapter of Minneapolis

The Franklin chapter of Minneapolis, after trailing by a 19 to 14 score at the intermission, rallied in the final two periods to edge out Thief River Falls, 38 to 36, in the championship finals of the state DeMolay basketball tournament played on the Y. M. C. A. floor in Minneapolis on Friday and Saturday. The locals trounced Worthington, 50 to 28, in a first-round game; and eliminated Jackson, 42 to 28, in the semi-finals.

Lenny Lorentson's four free throws gave the locals an early lead in their finals game against Franklin. And, with Billy Bye and Billy McKechnie doing the bulk of the scoring, the locals continued to hold the advantage until midway in the second half when Ninak Carlson was forced out of the game on fouls. Carlson's removal — Ninak had been doing fine work in covering rebounds—gave the rangy Minneapolis team an opportunity to capitalize on their height and control the ball off the backboard. Billy Bye, with 12 points, Bill McKechnie, with 8 points, and Herb Claffy, with 7 points, were the locals high scorers, while Hachman and Ives each had 10 points for the winners.

The locals played their finest brand of basketball in their semi-finals game when they defeated a strong Jackson team, 42 to 28. The nip-and-tuck contest found the local team trailing the downstate aggregation by four points as the final period began; but in a furious three-minute scoring burst Coach Roy Oen's team scored 14 points, and then pulled away to win by a comfortable margin. Bill Bye's 12 points won the high-point honors.

'Gung Ho' Carlson

Lieutenant Colonel Carlson, famed marine Raider, spoke at celebration in honor of 19th anniversary of the death of Sun Yat-Sen. He is shown above, being greeted by little Marilyn Chu, who thanked him for aid to China.

Bank Debits Reveal Big Increase Here in March

Business activity in Thief River Falls as measured by the volume of checks depositors have drawn against their bank accounts was, in March, 23 per cent above the same month of 1943. Accumulated totals indicate that for the first quarter of this year debits in this area are running 34 per cent above those for the same 1943 period. In a given locality the total of bank debits is normally considered a fairly good indicator of general business trends.

Meantime, jar ring production is at a rate necessary to meet the season's home canning program, WPB officials said today.

High School Graduates Invited to Apply for Welfare Office Posts

Clerical vacancies exist in many county welfare offices throughout the state. Appointments to these permanent positions are based on open competitive examinations. Such a series of examinations was announced this week from the division of social welfare by T. L. Culhane, supervisor of the Minnesota county welfare merit system.

High school seniors who expect to graduate in May or June are urged to apply for those positions which require high school education as a prerequisite. The examinations will be held on May 20 at fourteen points throughout the state with May 6 as the dead-line for filing applications.

Tests will be given for three grades of clerk-stenographers, two grades of clerk-typists, three grades of clerks, as well as the position of accounting officer. The salary schedule ranges from $80 to $150 a month depending upon the position.

Complete information as to qualifications required can be obtained from the local office of the U. S. employment service or from the office of the county welfare board. All applications must be returned to the merit system supervisor, and, if mailed, they must be postmarked not later than midnight May 6, 1944.

.... With BUCK OLSON

Plenty of Runners

The ideal weather prevailing this past week has given track Coach Jones an opportunity to send his squad through intensive practice drills and to shape up his track prospects. With the Prowlers slated to participate in the Beaver Relays at Bemidji on May 5th—they will enter the shuttle relay, the 880-yard relay, and the mile relay—Jones has been forced to hurry the boys along.

A glance at the workouts reveals that N. Quentin is well-stocked with fine runners; but it appears that the Prowlers will lack specialists in the broad jump, pole vault, and the high jump. The pole vault, especially, is a "form" event and takes time and patience to master. Coach Jones says that he has a youngster in the seventh grade, Morris Higinbotham, who'll be a state high school pole vault champion when he's a senior.

To Compete in Dashes

Phil Beadle, Herb Claffy, and Les Vigness apparently are the strongest 100-yard dashmen; with Larry Rulien, Ninak Carlson, Oscar Brelland, and captain Burdell Merritt running the 220-yard dash. Beadle, Carlson, Rulien, and Brelland are booked to run in the quarter and half-mile events, too. Coach Jones has Ray Offerdahl, Jim Jorde, Brad Hanna, Don Fratland, Virg Evenstad, and a couple others concentrating on the mile run. Burdell Merritt should repeat his district and regional wins in the high and low hurdles, and pick up points in the high jump and discus. Chuck Richards, Bob Baker, and Allan Thompson have been tossing the discus and putting the shot, with Richards approaching the 40-foot mark in the shot-put.

Cliff Gunderson, who had been showing fine form in moving over the hurdles, has enlisted in the navy and coach Jones doubts that the black-haired junior will be available for the squad.

Roller Skating

Chuck Dostal, impresario of the Arena, tells me that he'll have the wheels on the skates round enough for roller skating on Saturday night. And that he has stocked the concession stand with pop, fudge sticks, and candy bars.

It's been an interesting race, between Chuck and the river, to see whether Chuck would be able to get the ice out of the Arena before the river opened; and Chuck won by about a week.

The Ice Is Out

Most of the prophets who made predictions on when the ice would break up in the river, connected for foul balls, and several didn't even get a foul tip. But not Oscar "Skoogie" Nelson. He hit it right on the nose." More than a month ago, when asked about the break-up, Skoogie said that it would leave the river on the night of the 16th. His reasons for that late date was that the lack of snow this winter permitted the frost to penetrate deeper than usual, and that the current in the river wouldn't be as strong this year. Well, it sounds like hocus-pocus and that jumping coal in North Dakota, but Skoogie collected a number of coffee bets on his prediction.

Complications

The DeMolay team that represented the local chapter in the state basketball tournament last week-end encountered complications. Playing in the championship finals, against Franklin chapter of Minneapolis, the locals "lost" by a 38 to 36 score; but the complications arose when a re-cap of the individual scoring in the score-book revealed that Thief River had scored 38 points, while Franklin had scored 35 points. The game's running score had indicated that Franklin had won by the 38 to 36 margin. After some discussion, and not wishing to be accused of bad sportsmanship, the locals decided to abide by the running score.

At a banquet held after the championship game, and honoring the competing players, the tourney officials acknowledged the locals' sportsmanship in not protesting the final outcome; and these officials regretted that they could not award the sportsmanship trophy to Thief River, because, due to the tournament rules, the runners-up were not eligible to receive the trophy.

TIMBER CUTTING RECRUITMENT IN STATE NETS 1800

1,000 Men Needed Now to Take Positions in Timber Industry

During the timber and pulpwood cutting season, offices of the U. S. employment service in Minnesota referred 1,832 workers to the state's lumber camps, it was announced this week by Dreng Bjornaraa, state WMC director.

Every USES office in the state made referrals, Bjornaraa said. Ordinarily there is no such statewide movement of workers to the northern camps, the bulk of the demand having been met locally.

WMC's recruitment campaign reached its peak after the holiday season, when the demand for manpower was strongest. Referrals after December 27 accounted for 1,201 of the total.

All workers were distributed to the camps by USES offices in the state's timber producing area. Bemidji distributed 380, Duluth 215, International Falls 101, Grand Rapids 175, and Brainerd 71. Other local offices directed the remaining workers.

Because of the war-time demand for timber products, the cutting season was longer than usual and the USES has more than 1,000 unfilled orders for men to take jobs in the timber industry, Bjornaraa said.

Many men who worked in camps during the winter were recruited from farms and are now returning to agricultural work. Replacement for these, as well as additional men for timber processing work, are needed.

TRAPPER TRAPS WITH AID OF AUTOMOBILE

Grand Rapids.—Nigh onto thirty years ago when Mike Brown started trapping it was really hard work. Through heavy snows he walked many miles each day to inspect his lines, some years he made a nice piece of money and others very little despite hard work. Not feeling as frisky as he used to this winter Mike has traveled open trails and over the ice by automobile some times not walking over ten feet and his profits have been excellent. During his trapping experience he has sold mink as low as $5 a skin and as high as $20, muskrat as low as 20c a skin and as high as $4 a skin.

RUBBER SUPPLY IN U. S. INADEQUATE TO MEET DEMAND

Stocks Are Short in Spite of Tremendous Output of Synthetic

Although the nation is now producing synthetic rubber at a rate greater than the rate at which crude rubber was consumed in this country in any year prior to 1941, the nation's military and civilian demands for tires and other rubber products still continue to exceed supply, F. Peavey Heffelfinger, regional director of the Northwest War Production Board office, said today.

Mr. Heffelfinger emphasized that the $750,000,000 synthetic rubber program has had to be conceived and carried out within two years during the worst period of critical material shortages in the history of the country.

All civilians and state agencies in Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana are urgently requested by Mr. Heffelfinger to recognize low speed limits of thirty-five miles an hour and to have all their tires recapped so that essential driving can be maintained during critical months before new synthetic tires can be produced for civilian use. Speeds over thirty-five miles sandpaper the tire treads, especially on large cars and trucks, Mr. Heffelfinger added.

SOLDIER VOTE CAST IN 1918 RETURNS TO VOTER

Montevideo.—The soldier ballot cast by Dr. L. G. Smith of Montevideo, in France during World War I was discovered unopened a short time ago. It had arrived here too late to be counted in the election and came back into his possession 25 years later. The year 1918 was not a presidential election year, so the ballots were for state, county and city offices. J. A. A. Burnquist, Republican; Fred E. Wheaton, Democrat; Olaf O. Stageberg, National; L. P. Berot, Socialist; and David H. Evans, Farmer-Labor were the names appearing on the ballot for governor.

Si Sez:

The Government lifted the restriction on use of steel for living room furniture and studio lounges but from what I hear folks it is but a temporary condition.

You undoubtedly have read that the demands of the army are such for steel for guns, landing boats and all equipment to be used on western front that many of the restrictions on steel for domestic or consumer production have been re-imposed.

For instance—They had planned on allowing manufacture of 2 million electric irons. This has been cut to 200 thousand. Same thing applies to over 100 other items for which the boys figured they'd be able to get all the steel they needed.

So, if I wanted a spring filled suite or studio couch by golly, I'd buy it now before 17 alphabetical agencies changed their minds again.

Don't you think that's a good idea?

Stan and Con have sure got some swell new numbers to show you and, say, I want to thank you Thief River Falls folks for the fine response the store got to our last week's Time's add.

Kinda made me feel good.

Thanks a lot.

Si Poppler.

WOLF OR DOG?

Mora:—The wolf which Ernest Grummons shot near Knife Lake, at first glance might have been taken for a dog. Instead of having a coat of soft natural grey fur which wolves have, it was covered with woolly white curly hair, such as dogs wear. Otherwise all the features of the animal were like a wolf.

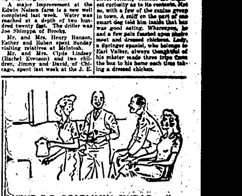
Breckenridge. — Hundreds of folks passed up a large box in the street recently without the slightest curiosity as to its contents. Not so, with a few of the canine group in town. A sniff on the part of one smart dog told him inside that box was good eating. Whereupon, he and a few pals feasted upon choice meat and dressed chickens. Lady, a Springer spaniel, who belongs to Earl Valker, always thoughtful of his master made three trips from the box to his home each time taking a dressed chicken.



"WE DO SOLEMNLY SWEAR..."

The Carlson's asked Tom and me over one evening awhile back. They're the folks on our telephone party line and live up the street.

It's sort of funny now... but we had thought some pretty bad things about them. Seemed they were always on the telephone when we wanted to use the line.

Well, we were out in their kitchen having 10 o'clock coffee... and they brought it up. Said their family used the telephone hot and heavy at times—and our crew seemed to be about the same.

So Vic, that's Mr. Carlson, suggested that maybe we'd better set up some ground rules—like these:

We'll keep our calls short—not more than 5 minutes.

There'll be no "doing of homework" over the telephone by our children.

We'll avoid a "non-stop" series of calls.

There they are, solemnly signed, sealed and sworn to. They're working swell. The Carlson's and us are grand telephone neighbors.

Have a "Coke" = ¡Qué Suerte!
(WHAT LUCK!)

...a way to say "Comrade" in Chile

In Santiago the American flyer discovers simple ways to open new friendships. Have a "Coke", says he to the Chilean airman, and in a few moments he's welcomed as a comrade. It's a custom that's known to good neighbors from Chile to the Carolinas. And, of course, it's always neighborly to serve Coca-Cola in your home. All over the globe, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—has become the bond between people who are friendly-minded.

Funeral Rites for Mrs. Smith

Funeral rites were held on Monday from the St. Olaf Lutheran church for Mrs. Curtis Smith, who passed away at a Thief River Falls hospital on Thursday, April 13. Rev. G. L. Halmrast officiated and pallbearers were Harold Bush, Charles Barrett, Andrew Wells, Emil Englund, Lois Jelle, and Oscar Overby. Esther A. Smith, daughter of Abraham and Nancy Dalson, was born in Thief River Falls on May 12, 1889. At that time the present site of Thief River Falls was still in Red Lake County. As a result of her mother's death while she was yet a small girl, she attended various agency schools throughout the country, including Red Lake and Morris, Minnesota; Great Falls, Montana, and Muskogee, Oklahoma. She was graduated from the latter and entered civil service teaching domestic science and athletics.

She was united in marriage to Curtis A. Smith on July 1, 1916 at Sapulpa, Oklahoma. They made their home in Kansas until the spring of 1917 when they moved to Red Lake, Minnesota. In 1920 they moved to a farm in Beltrami county where they have since lived.

Left to mourn her passing are her husband; two sons, Chester and Harold; two daughters, Mable and Myrtle; and one brother, Charles Dalson of Red Lake. Her parents, one sister, and one brother preceded her in death.

Spoil Easily

Milk and eggs are good combinations, but spoil easily. If custards, cream pies and puddings, and cream puffs are not to be eaten at once, cool them quickly, cover, and keep very cold. Milk should not stand outside the refrigerator. Don't pour left-over milk back into the main supply and put milk away the first thing after each meal.

PURCHASE OF FLAX STRAW
Reduced by Cotton Mix Twine

FLAX STRAW PROCESSORS in Minnesota advise flax growers straw purchases will be limited in future only to straw FREE of cotton mix twine.

Flax straw containing binder twine of cotton content produces fibre of very unsatisfactory character. Cotton also interferes seriously with manufacturing processes.

Binder twines containing cotton will harvest all crops satisfactorily but when used to harvest flax, THE STRAW IS NOT SATISFACTORY FOR PROCESSING TO FIBRE. Growers are advised to protect present flax straw markets by selecting twines of hard fibre and jute content, or twines all of hard fibre to harvest flax where the straw is to be sold.

Consult your local twine dealer in selecting proper twine for your flax harvest.

The Minuteman Is Still the Man of the Hour

The Minuteman was a most resourceful civilian who worked hard for his family and home and was quick to fight when their security was threatened.

He did the very things we are asked to do today. He made things last. He wore things out and did without. He was one of the first to stretch food and fuel.

Farmers, fishermen, sailmakers, smiths or cobblers—all were Minutemen—all were dreamers who loved their America—all were doers who fought and saved and sacrificed. They showed us the way to win.

Americans, since the days of the Minuteman, have welcomed their opportunity to earn security for themselves and their families in a better world.

Today, when wartime trials provoke us, America is recapturing the spirit of '76—America's fighting spirit, so perfectly symbolized by the Minuteman—the spirit that will hasten Victory by hours, by days, perhaps even months.

Americans have always been neighborly. It is quite natural then for Budweiser to be America's favorite beer—for, when good friends get together, Budweiser is a friend that needs no introduction.

In addition to supplying the armed forces with glider and bomber fuselage frames, wing parts, gun turret parts and foodstuffs, Anheuser-Busch produces materials which go into the manufacture of: Rubber • Aluminum • Munitions • Medicines • B Complex Vitamins • Hospital Diets • Baby Foods • Bread and other Bakery products • Vitamin-fortified cattle feeds • Batteries • Paper • Soap and textiles —to name a few.

MILK PRODUCTION COSTS REDUCED BY PLANNED PASTURE

University Farm Authority Gives Tips on Proper Grazing

Practical tips for proper grazing of pastures for greater milk production at no additional cost were given this week by Dr. W. E. Petersen of the University Farm, St. Paul. He pointed out that now is the time for the farmers to plan their pastures for the coming flush production season.

Dr. Petersen, who is internationally famed in scientific fields, acts as a special dairy production adviser to thousands of Land O' Lakes dairy farmers. He pointed out that the coming months are the lowest cost and highest production months of the year and that dairy farmers should plan wisely to get the maximum in production and returns during this season of the year.

Practical warnings regarding pasture include the admonition to avoid too early grazing.

"Many pastures are ruined," Dr Petersen said, "because the cows are turned loose in them too soon. This injures later production as well as providing insufficient feed to get the proper production pick-up at the start of the pasture season."

Other tips advanced by the University Farm expert included the advice that pastures should be seeded with appropriate mixtures of grasses, that weeds should be clipped before they get a chance to go to seed and that planning also provides for supplemental pastures later on.

Farm Machinery Prices More Stabilized Now Than in World War I

According to a price index compiled by the department of agriculture, prices for new farm equipment (excluding tractors) went up 55% during the last war. Prices for the same new machinery during this war (1939-1943) went up 10.4% before price control was effective, and those prices have not increased, OPA announced this week.

Due to the present acute shortage of new farm equipment OPA has established ceiling prices on used farm machinery.

This is the time of the year when farmers, anticipating the coming production months, are buying used farm machinery. OPA points out that all types of used farm machinry have ceiling prices when sold by dealers. If individuals or auctioneers sell the machinry, there are eight types for which the buyer should pay no more than the ceiling price. Those eight types of used farm equipment are tractors, combines, corn pickers, corn binders, hay balers, hay loaders side delivery rakes and manure spreaders.

Price ceilings also protect the buyer of used trucks, whether they are sold by dealers, auctioneers or individuals.

Farmers planning to buy or sell used trucks or farm equipment may contact the price panel of their local war price and rationing board for exact ceiling prices.

Your attention is called to the recent announcement in the newspapers regarding the validation of a new shoe stamp. Stamp No. 18 will expire on April 30th. Starting May 1st airplane stamp No. 2 will become valid. Two stamps, airplane stamps No. 1 and No. 2 will then be valid for an indefinite period.

Local boards have a few more trucks and tractor tires to ration this month than last, but the total quota of tractor and farm implement tires for the nation is 45% less than in April 1943.

A quantity of ceiling price lists for distribution in Pennington county have been received at the local rationing office. These will be distributed through various organized groups in the city and country. Someone will be appointed in the near future to handle this distribution.

Use of Wrapping Paper and Bags to be Limited

One hundred representatives of wholesale and retail groups operating in the Northwest met in the regional headquarters of the War Production Board, Minneapolis, to receive a program designed to reduce the uses of paper and paper products. F. Peavey Heffelfinger, regional director, explained that the shortage of paper was currently our number one material problem. Because of increasing demands by the armed forces for thousands of various paper items, it was necessary for the American people to eliminate non-essential uses of paper. The shortage will be particularly felt in wrapping paper and paper bags. Industry in all fields as well as retail merchants have pledged their cooperation.

CHICKENS, SQUIRREL, RAT RABBITS, ALL IN FOX DEN

Verndale.—Most unusual were the inhabitants of a fox den which Lynn Hess and Kenny Kraft looted recently when they dug out a young mother fox and nine babies. Before reaching the fox family they dug down four feet and back nearly forty feet. In addition to the fox they found eight rabbits, several grey squirrels, a leghorn chicken, muskrat and a common rat. The red fox mother weighed only ten pounds and the pups were so young their eyes hadn't opened.

Lose Zeal

Most gardeners are zealous weed fighters in June, but need to concentrate more on August and September, when the weeds go to seed and store next year's trouble in the soil. It pays to use the wheel hoe on the late crops. It pays to pull weeds among the tomatoes, cucumbers, and other crops that cover the ground. Fence rows and borders should also be cleaned of weeds. As the days get shorter, some weeds go to seed even though they [illegible] little growth.

NEWFOLDEN

Sets New Speed Record

Old times were revived here Tuesday of last week when Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grytdal came to town driving their newly purchased horse. When crossing the railroad track the horse got scared when the buggy rolled against his legs and took off and possibly broke all speed records for a runaway horse rig in Newfolden. The nag seemed to touch the ground only once in a while when they went through town. Mr. Grytdal finally pulled on the remaining rein and steered the horse along the lumber yard building when a bunch of men stopped them. Mr. Grytdal blames the runaway to no breeching on the harness and poor reins, which means the same as no brakes and faulty steering on an automobile. After getting rigged out with proper driving equipment they left for home. Consequences—not a reasonable horse for sale, but one horse for sale reasonable.

Always in Season

Domestic rabbits, unlike wild rabbits, can be eaten at any time of the year. They are always in season, the same as chicken. Also, hutch-raised rabbits do not get tularemia. No case of the disease has ever been recognized in commercial rabbitries.

GRANITE'S LEMON CROP WAS GOOD THIS YEAR

Granite Falls. — Thirty-nine years ago a slip from a lemon tree obtained from a nursery was planted by Mrs. Torger Rude's mother. During the intervening years Mrs. Rude has carefully cared for the plant, inside during the cold weather and outside in the summer sunshine. This year her painstaking effort has been rewarded with a very bountiful crop of lemons, some of the pieces of fruit measuring as much as 15-¾ inches in circumference. Neighbors testify they make good pies too!

ARMOUR AND COMPANY
Grand Forks, N. Dak.

WE INVITE YOUR BUSINESS

We are glad to announce that due to rehabilitation program we had during last year we now have adequate facilities for handling all classes of livestock.

This plant gives livestock growers in this territory a daily cash market for all classes of livestock.

RATIONING HELPS YOU in Thief River Falls
To Win the War and Peace

Without rationing our Army and Navy could not get sufficient supplies of such scarce materials as gasoline and rubber. Military efforts would be crippled for lack of necessary foods, and every department of our war organization would be seriously impeded.

Rationing is the most efficient plan to insure everyone getting his share of the scarce commodities after supplies have been sent to the Armed Forces. It may be a lot of trouble to use stamps and tokens, but it means that you will never go into the store and have the butcher say, "Sorry, we have no meat at all today." You will always get your share.

If rationing were not in force, the whole cycle of inflation would be started, affecting everything the public buys, which would be destructive to our financial system and the individual.

So give ration stamps for every rationed article you buy. Remember, rationing is as important to our War Effort as speedy production is on the home front or high morale in the Army and Navy.

Bottles and cases are scarce, too. Be sure to return yours promptly.

LAND O'LAKES NEWS

REMEMBER THE BUTTER MOM MADE

THE OLD BARREL CHURN ... thick, sour cream ... and the feeling, "We were lucky today," when butter formed after only a brief period of churning ... those were the days when mom made the butter.

REMEMBER how mom traded her crocks of butter for groceries at the country store? Sometimes she got a little "change" to put in the old cup back in the corner on the pantry shelf ... cash for something special, like a new gingham dress. Mom wasn't in a position to bargain with the grocer. She took his price. Butter was just butter in those days.

BUT HERE IN THE NORTHWEST Land O' Lakes Creameries, turning out butter of unequalled quality, have displaced the old-fashioned churn ... all within the memory of thousands of present-day farmers. Efficiency of production and quality of product far exceed anything thought possible only a few decades ago.

EVER GREATER STRIDES have been made in sales methods. Land O' Lakes, as a great marketing agency, has achieved exceptional success in returning a maximum percentage of the consumer's dollar to the dairy farmer members of Land O' Lakes Creameries.

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR BUTTER

A partnership that has lasted for years! Yours the finest Northwest Barley ... Ours the beer known far and wide for its Extra Barley Goodness!

BLACK SNAKE ON HIGHWAY IS MYSTERY

Mankato.—Two little girls, Beverley Evjen and Delores Gray, both 11, found a six-foot black snake on Highway 169 near their home in LeHillier a few days ago. Awestruck and curious about the large snake they took it to M. M. Keith of Mankato Teachers College who informed them the snake is native to the eastern part of the country. Could it be that this creature had wangled 1500 miles to Minnesota, or is it possible that some itinerant snake exhibitor threw him onto the highway after he died? Anyhow, it all appears to be a mystery.

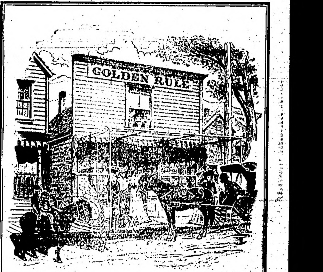
RAT CONCENTRATION YIELDS BIG RETURN

Stephen.—Watching bevies of rats scamper across an alley heading for the feed store in the rear of the creamery of which Oscar Flotten is manager gave him cause for some deep thinking. Realizing the little rascals were headed for a big banquet in the feed store that night he thought out a good plan of action. The plan included brewing a cyanide gas concoction and putting the poisonous mixture in a number of receptacles about the interior of the building, carefully closing all doors and windows, and making a hasty departure himself lest he inadvertently inhale too many whiffs of the lethal gas. Came dawn the following day, and the result—81 rats laid low. Now Oscar is known as the "Pied Piper" of these parts.

Produce Own Fuel

In India about 10,000 motor vehicles, producing their own motor fuel, have saved 16 million gallons of gasoline.



The first J. C. Penney store in Kemmerer, Wyoming, was called the "Golden Rule," a name which aptly describes the Penney way of doing business.

YOUR GOOD NEIGHBOR for 42 Years

WHAT we like best to hear people say of us is "Penney's is a neighborly store." And that's what we do hear ... so often!

For at Penney's we have never outgrown the simple, friendly way of doing business that makes people feel welcome and at home.

We've never outgrown it in all our 42 years. It was 'way back in April 1902 that Mr. Penney opened his first little store in Kemmerer, Wyoming—a store devoted to friendly service and thrifty prices.

And the spirit of that first store has thrived and spread to every one of our stores, in more than 1600 fine American communities.

The people who work here at Penney's are neighbors of yours and they try to act as good neighbors should. They make every effort to be friendly and helpful. They sympathize with your likes and dislikes. They belong to this town!

Yes, and so does the store in which they work! That's why shopping at Penney's is so easy and pleasant and sociable all around!

• • •

In time of peace, each Penney anniversary was a time for celebration and for ceremony.

But this year, upon our 42nd Anniversary, we celebrate simply with a reaffirmation of the Penney spirit.

We mark the date with a determination to remain as homelike and neighborly—as considerate of you and your pocketbook—as you and our many friends have come to expect us to be.

Painting, varnishing, enameling or lacquering of surfaces need not be a complex, difficult or expensive job in order to properly protect surfaces and promote sanitation, health, safety and morale. For example, it would be ill advised to put multiple coats of finishing material with many intervening rubbings down on a cheap piece of furniture made of an indifferent quality of material. For such a piece, just cleaning, sanding and, if the wood is porous, application of a filler coat before painting, varnishing or enameling should "fill the bill" and save wasted labor.

Scientific Marvel

The barnacle is a scientific marvel. It is smaller than your thumb, born with one eye and six legs. It eventually attaches itself to a ship, a whale, submerged rocks or wood, stays there even after its death. A ship at anchor accumulates barnacles faster than one in service.

RED CROSS NEWS NOTES

By Mrs. Millard Peterson
Publicity Chairman

Home nursing certificates were given out last Friday evening at a party given at the home of Mrs. Orrin Lynde to the following: Mrs. Emil Jechort, Mrs. H. Nabben, Mrs. Axel Engelstad, Mrs. Ole Engelstad, Mrs. Emil Hedlund, Mrs. Charles Hoffos, Mrs. Marshall Kays, Mrs. John Lynskey, Mrs. E. O. Iverson, Mrs. Wm. Frolland and Mrs. Millard Peterson. Mrs. Chris Engelstad was also present. A delightful lunch was served at the close of the evening.

Keeping America healthy is a responsibility starting in your own home! That is the wartime challenge to American women, according to Mrs. Orrin G. Lynde, home nursing chairman of Pennington county Red Cross chapter, who today pointed out the need for training in health conservation and home care of the sick and announced that plans are under way to offer the standard Red Cross home nursing course. A registered nurse will be the instructor for the series of 12 two-hour class periods, the schedule for which will be announced soon.

"Homemakers and girls who have had the Red Cross home nursing course are the health guards of the nation," Mrs. Lynde said, adding that a third of the nation's effective medical manpower now is serving the army and navy. "Doctors and nurses who are left in communities to meet the needs of civilian population cannot carry this increased load and continue to serve effectively unless we prepare ourselves to give them all the help we can," she declared. "We must do everything possible to keep well so that we can do our home front jobs, freeing the doctors left to us to attend cases needing them most."

She pointed out that at all times there is illness in one out of every 10 homes, and that during peak seasons the percentage rises to one in four or five. In the Red Cross home nursing course, women of Pennington county will be given opportunity to learn how to help their doctors by recognizing emergencies requiring medical attention, Mrs. Lynde said. The course includes class room instruction (and demonstration) on how to keep the family healthy, what to do in case of sickness in the home, how to prevent spread of contagion, and how to assist the doctor by carrying out his directions.

The woman who can save her family physician a visit to the home by telephoning to him for advice, and then intelligently follow his guidance, will serve her country as well as her family and community", Mrs. Lynde concluded.

PIECES OF SCRAP MAKE WEED CUTTER

Glenwood.—Dire need, plus the brains of four thinking men, employed by the City who have made excellent use of their spare time during the winter has produced one of the neatest weed cutters ever seen. Its cost was negligible, most of the material used being scrap picked up here and there. It employes a Model T engine with all the necessary shifts so it moves forward or backward and the boat will go along without the sickle operating. Creators of the machine are Art Wilson, L. F. Bottolfson, Bill Lachelt and Matt Eastberg. Last year they borrowed a cutter.

U. S. RED CROSS WAR FUND DRIVE IS NEARING GOAL

Incomplete Reports Reveal $168,000,000 Collected to Last Week

The Red Cross War Fund campaign will continue into April until the fund has been over-subscribed, Leon Fraser, national campaign chairman, announced in revealing the drive was approaching final success.

"On March 31," Mr. Fraser said, "incomplete returns from our chapters show we had raised approximately $168,000,000 toward our minimum national goal of $200,000,000. Of our 3,755 chapters about 40 per cent have reached or exceeded their goals. The remainder have not yet finished their campaigns and will continue until they reach their quotas. This is indispensible if we are to carry on Red Cross work for our fighting men.

"Last year we reached the minimum objective of $125,000,000 in 45 days. This year in spite of the larger national quota we expect to achieve our minimum goal at an early date," he said.

Production Maintenance

Congress has authorized $300,000,000 for an agricultural conservation program in 1944 designed to help and encourage farmers to utilize those production practices which will increase and maintain productivity of their land.

Growing With Your Child

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Are You Happy?

Most people of today have some familiarity with the principles of good physical hygiene. It is common knowledge that children should have certain foods, sufficient sleep, and the proper amount of outdoor exercise to develop properly. We are accustomed to go to the physician when we are ill or when any of the bodily functions are disturbed. We look upon physical health as a desirable possession and are willing to spend some money and take some effort to foster and preserve it.

Not so many people, however, recognize the importance of mental health. Many people feel that mental hygiene deals only with extreme cases of mental disorder such as insanity, feeblemindedness, delinquency, vagrancy or dependency and think that it is not a matter for their concern. But they overlook the many cases of extreme worry, unhappiness, melancholy, or nervousness or the nervous breakdowns that occur about them. Adults affected with a nervous disorder are often unwilling to face the fact that there is a mental disturbance connected with their trouble.

Much discomfort, distress and unhappiness in home and community life can be traced to those with mental disturbances. And there are some nervous cases who fix their own difficulties upon a physical cause and by enjoying "ill health," lose much of their effectiveness. In many of these cases, the real cause of the difficulties is to be traced back to an emotional disturbance or to a thwarting or baffling situation to which the person cannot adjust.

To check upon the mental health of a person or a child, the answers to the following questions should be sought: Is the person concerned happy; can he do things easily and smoothly; does he enjoy new experiences; does he get along well with people; does he brood or withdraw from experiences; is he overly aggressive and high-strung? etc. If the answer to some of these questions is unfavorable, steps should be taken to help the individual develop better attitudes toward life.

Often this involves a frank evaluation of life's goals and values, some understanding of the principle that mental difficulties are not deliberate misconduct or behavior to plague other people, but arise out of the person's relation with his environment. Often professional advice and help will be needed. In this day and age, we are learning that mental health is important and catch a glimpse of a day, not too far off, when communities will give serious attention to mental health as they now give to physical health.

Raise Grapes and Olives

Next to the grains, Italy's largest acreage is in grapes, with olives following closely. A million acres are in potatoes, half again that area in beans, with smaller plantings of other vegetables, from which Italy contributed to Germany's war time supply. Before the war Italy annually exported nearly 100 million dollars' worth of vegetables and fruits.

HAWAIIAN TELEPHONE BIRTHDAY MESSAGE

Bricelyn.—When Mrs. E. Jorgenson picked up her telephone after the bell had tinkled the usual ring, little did she suspect Hawaii would be on the other end of the line. It was her birthday and her husband Reverend Jorgenson, who is stationed there following active participation in the invasion of the Marshalls, was on the other end to say "Happy Birthday." Before she could talk to him the Hawaiian operator gave her warning not to mention weather or sickness in the family. Government regulations limits such calls to five minutes and the cost was approximately $5 a minute.

ARMY DOG IS HOME AGAIN FROM THE WAR

Plainview.— After serving 16 months with the armed forces of the United States "Speed", a four-year-old Airedale dog, is home again. When his master, Charles Richard Wolfe, joined the Seabees a couple years ago he decided his dog should serve his country too. In December 1942 "Speed" was shipped to St. Paul where he joined nine other dogs headed for training at Fort Robinson, Nebraska. Until last month "Speed" has been on regular duty with the U. S. army but on March 14 he was presented with a certificate for faithful service and an honorable discharge. Upon return to the family he was most delighted, running to his kennel and about the neighborhood seeking his former playmates among the children—just picking up where he left off before he went to war.

CLEAN-UP WEEK TO BE OBSERVED IN CITY MAY 1-6

City Health Officer Urges Citizens to Share in Campaign

PROCLAMATION IS ISSUED BY GOVERNOR

Asks Public to Dispose of Accumulated Refuse and Filth

Following a proclamation by Governor Edward J. Thye designating May 1 to 6 as Clean-up Week in Minnesota, Dr. O. F. Mellby, city health officer, urged residents of Thief River Falls to put their premises in condition at that time.

The state board of health calls upon local officials, the press, civic organizations and citizens to observe these days and aid in the removal and disposal of all accumulations of refuse and filth, and in the correction of other unsanitary conditions.

State Health Regulation 228 requires the local health officer of each city and village to make during the month of May a thorough sanitary inspection of the municipality and before June 1st present a written report on it together with recommendations to the council and send a copy to the state board of health before July 1st.

Regulation 229 says that the health officer shall publish in the local newspapers or by means of posters an order calling upon citizens to clean all yards, vaults, cesspools, and remove manure and other refuse on or before a certain date; that in cases where such order is not obeyed he shall then serve individual notices upon the owners or occupants of the premises concerned. Section 5379 of the statutes provides that the owner of the property shall be taxed for the cost of abating nuisance conditions in cases where such orders are not complied with.

Conditions arising through the war make it necessary to include anti-rat measures in the annual clean-up campaign and to continue such measures systematically.

Where public water and sewerage facilities are available inside toilets should be installed and connected therewith and the outside privies abolished. City and village councils are authorized by the statutes to require this.

BUTTER REDUCED FROM 16 POINTS TO 12 ON SUNDAY

Cut Made Possible Because of Seasonal Increase in Production

Butter will be reduced to 12 red points a pound effective Sunday, through June 3, Price Administrator Chester Bowles announced Wednesday in Washington.

The same order cut the ration price of margarine from 6 to 2 red points, also effective Sunday.

Point value for farm or country butter will be reduced to 8 points a pound and processed butter from 6 points to 4. Shortening, lard, salad and cooking oils continue point free in May.

Lowering the point value for butter is possible because of seasonally-increased production which is at the best level since last September, Bowles said.

About 145,000,000 pounds of butter have been allocated for civilian use in May as compared with 135,000,000 in May, 1943.

Salvation Army Appeal For Funds Starts May 1

The Thief River Falls unit of the Salvation Army next Monday will launch its annual campaign for funds to support its activities in this community, it was announced today by Carl B. Larson, chairman of the advisory board.

He added that plans are being laid out to solicit every business firm and employe in the city in order that the goal of $1,000 may be attained as quickly as possible.

As was the case in World War I, Mr. Larson stated, the Salvation Army is now serving in virtually every theatre of war around the globe, in addition to maintaining its activities on the home front.

Officers of the local unit have supplied the Times with a detailed financial report for the year ending April 1, showing gross receipts of $3,552.52 and disbursements of $3,506.42.

Major items of receipts were Thief River Falls contribution campaign, $1,066; tambourine collections, $1,543.58; Christmas kettles, $101.65; and sale of the War Cry, $411.79.

During the past year the unit held 159 senior meetings, 26 street services, 48 mothers' meetings, 175 young people's meetings, 942 calls made and 1,677 hours spent in visitation.

Relief activities included the distribution of 20 Christmas baskets serving 85 persons, as well as 668 garments and 85 pairs of shoes. Fifteen transients also were assisted with meals, clothing and lodging.

COUNTY HEALTH OFFICER URGES IMMUNIZATION

Dr. O. F. Mellby Stresses Need of Protecting Children

Dr. O. F. Mellby, city and county health officer, today urged parents to take advantage of the opportunity available from May 1 to 15 to have their children vaccinated against smallpox and immunized against diphtheria by their family physician at special rates.

In support of the program being carried out in connection with the annual pre-school clinic sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association, Dr. Mellby quoted as follows from the Minnesota department of health:

Minnesota had more cases of small pox last year than any other state in the union.

Health authorities fear a dangerous epidemic may be on the way.

This is the time to protect yourself against loathsome disease.

Babies should be vaccinated before they are six months old, all others every five years.

Diphtheria still threatens in Minnesota.

It can be wiped out when every baby is immunized.

In time of war we cannot afford unnecessary epidemics.

Therefore, every patriotic parent should see that all children are protected.

BLAZE DESTROYS SCHOOL BUILDING AT MIDDLE RIVER

Loss in Fire Saturday Estimated at More than $35,000

Fire which started on the top floor of the Middle River public school building, completely destroyed the building on Saturday with a loss estimated at more than $35,000.

The fire was noticed at noon on Saturday, and quickly spread to the entire building, residents being unable to save anything from the structure. The school district had $25,000 worth of insurance on the building.

Churches and other vacant buildings in the village will be used for school purposes during the remainder of the term, while both Thief River Falls and Warren schools offered to loan surplus text books and other equipment for the remainder of the term.

The Middle River school was built in 1916 and when built was considered one of the finer schools of the county. The building housed the grades and the four year high school department.

It was reported that the school district has been looking towards the construction of additional school facilities and had accumulated a sinking fund for this purpose. This was planned as a project for some time after the war. With building construction conditions as they are at the present time, considerable difficulty is anticipated to replace the building.

RED CROSS NEWS NOTES

By Mrs. Millard Peterson
Publicity Chairman

Ladies have been working all week on the new shipment of surgical dressing gauze that arrived last Thursday. Volunteer workers are needed every day of the week. Mrs. A. M. Aase, chairman of the kit bag committee, has asked that ladies call Friday afternoon in the sewing room over the Northern State bank to take home material for sewing the housewife kits that have been cut out. These kits are simple to sew, taking about fifteen minutes time. If you are unable to call at the room, get in touch with Mrs. Aase and she will arrange a way for you to get the material to your home.

Red Cross Home Nursing

Among the many valuable services of the American Red Cross, that of conducting courses in home nursing is one of the most important at this time from the standpoint of community safety.

We are glad, indeed, that the Pennington County chapter of the Red Cross is announcing further opportunity for women of Pennington county to take the home nursing course.

The oft-made excuse, "I haven't time", is not so easy to offer in relation to the home nursing course. There are only 12 sessions, of two hours each. Surely almost everybody can spare that time (house cleaning or not) in the interest of family and community.

Just as a person who has had Red Cross first aid training becomes more safety conscious, so does a person who has had Red Cross home nursing become more health conscious. The course suggests ways to help maintain a healthy household and to shorten the illnesses that may develop. It has "help the doctor" values in this day of fewer doctors who, with fewer nurses to aid them, must rely upon home nursing abilities to hasten the recovery of patients.

Home front health is a wartime necessity. Home nursing knowledge is a community asset any time and will be useful in the coming post-war period when many households will want to make, as comfortable as possible those fighting men who have known fewer comforts in the emergency or who are returning disabled from their nation's service.

The Red Cross classes should be filled to capacity. Call Mrs. O. G. Lynde, Home Nursing Chairman, phone 487, and notify her of your intentions of joining a class.

The annual meeting of the Pennington County Red Cross chapter was held Tuesday evening, April 25th in the district court room in the court house.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

Troop 11—Some of the girls in our troop have badges in different fields. They are Janet Hanna, Ramona Johnson, Marlane Lund, Ruth Ann Senstad, music and dancing; Sonia Meyer, Dixie Brown, and Jennie Nelson, nature.

On April 19 our troop went out on a hike to the Tourist park and had a picnic lunch. Most of the girls passed their out of doors field. Several have passed their sports and games, and Dixie Brown has passed her homemaking.—Scribe, Ruth Ann Senstad.

The girl scout court of awards will be held May 5 in the auditorium at 7:30. The program and distribution of awards will be very short, and a skit will be given by the senior girls. All girl scouts and brownies are to be in uniform, if possible, and must be in the Civic and Commerce rooms at 7:15 P. M. May 5. Brownies and girl scouts must remember to bring their pennies and nickels for the Juliet Lowe world friendship fund, and the Juliet Lowe march will be had as part of the evening's program.

"LITTLE LAMBSKY-DIVIES"

Windom.—This community can't boast any quintuplets like the Dionnes, or even any quadruplets of the Genus Humanus but when it comes to lambs read this. The record made by John Gillespie's herd of sheep is one to challenge any sheep herder. In his flock he has one ewe with quadruplets, three ewes with triplets and all the rest of the ewes in the flock have produced twins—not one instance of single births in the lot!

RIVER VALLEY

Mr. and Mrs. George Sundrud of Trail visited at the Jack Radniecki home Sunday.

WRAPPING PAPER AND BAG SUPPLY SHARPLY LIMITED

Less Than Half as Much Will be Made This Year as a Year Ago

Housewives and other shoppers are going to be asked to furnish their own paper bags or supply some other means to carry their purchases during the next few months according to W. A. McMillan, WPB Fargo district manager.

The amount of wrapping paper and bags available and the paper bags to be manufactured during the second quarter of 1944 for retail and wholesale use will be less than half of the quantity produced for such use in the same period of 1941.

The shortage is due to three causes, Mr. McMillan explained. There is the tremendous demand for paper and paperboard products for war purposes, inadequate manpower for cutting pulpwood and slim inventories of wrapping paper and bags now at a low record.

Salvage of waste paper alone will not solve the present shortage. Mr. McMillan suggests that shoppers accept their many small articles from merchants unwrapped and where several items are purchased, they be placed in one bag. Merchandise already wrapped or boxed should be taken "as is". In addition shoppers are requested to carry shopping bags or baskets and re-use paper bags whenever possible. Cooperation by all concerned should enable us to get by once the facts are understood by everybody.

Bemidji College Offers Special Summer Term in Physics & Mathematics

To meet the very serious shortage of teachers in the high schools of Minnesota this coming year, especially in such subjects as mathematics and science, provision has been made through the United States office of education with Bemidji state teachers college to offer courses in mathematics and physics during the summer session. The deadline for pre-registration in these courses is May 20, announced Dr. A. C. Clark, president of the college, today.

College graduates, former teachers, teachers whose subjects are not in demand, or others with no college training, who may never have taught but are in a position to do so may take these courses and thus fit themselves to teach during the present emergency. This will render a service as important as that directly connected with the war effort.

To those who have the prerequisites, the courses will be offered without tuition charge. The minimum time necessary to take either of these courses is sixty class hours, five weeks. Those interested in enrolling in these courses may receive additional information by addressing their inquiries to the Bemidji state teachers college.

A careful survey in one war plant showed a 30% decrease in accidents and improvement in employee health and production, after free distribution of milk during a 5-minute recess.

HOLM CERTIFIES STATE BALLOT TO COUNTY AUDITORS

Ballot for July 10 Primary Election Is Shortest in Many Years

Secretary of State Mike Holm certified to the state's 87 county auditors the consolidated state ballot for the July 10 primary election.

For the first time in nearly 30 years the ballot will list candidates for only two parties— Republican and Democratic-Farmer Labor—and because many candidates are unopposed in the primary the ballot will be the shortest in many years.

Only third party candidate still in the field after the supreme court upheld the Democratic-Farmer-Labor fusion is Edward L. Wurst of Watkins, who seeks the nomination for congress in the sixth district. He filed as a Farmer-Laborite and under terms of the supreme court decision will run as a fellowship candidate. His name will not appear on the primary ballot, however, since he has no opposition.

Output of Synthetic Rubber Is Encouraging

Rubber Director Bradley Dewey announced today that despite the optimistic figures set up last October for the manufacture of synthetic rubber during the first quarter of 1944 production was actually exceeded. These encouraging results indicate that a probable output of 100,000 tons of synthetic rubber over actual consumption may be realized by the end of this year. Notwithstanding this encouraging report, there is still a certainty that the tire shortage facing the nation will continue for many months to come. Manufacture and delivery of tires for civilian use will continue under strict control to insure that all military requirements will be met.

Elm Disease

Brought to the United States from Europe before 1933 in burl elm logs imported by furniture veneer manufacturers, Dutch elm disease is caused by a fungus which is carried from elm to elm by two small insects. These are the small European elm beetle and the larger native elm bark beetle.

MONTGOMERY WARD'S REPLY TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

Mr. President:

We have your telegram of April 23, 1944.

Wards welcomes the suggestion that an election be held at an early date to determine the employees' choice of representation. The question whether the Union represents a majority of the employees in Wards' mail order house and store in Chicago has been pending since November 16, 1943. Wards has repeatedly urged a prompt determination of this question, and has publicly announced a readiness to recognize the Union when proof of its representation is presented. Although over five months have elapsed since the question arose, the Union has refused to show that it is the majority choice of the employees by either a card check or an election.

Wards will continue to observe the wages, hours, and related terms of employment as they were before the expiration of the former contract. Wards has made no change in any of these conditions since December 8, 1942, and could not do so under the wage stabilization law without prior governmental approval.

Your assertion that the strike is interfering with the distribution of essential goods is based on misinformation. On April 13, the United States Post Office, presumably acting on orders from Washington, removed its seventy employees from the mail order house. For more than thirty years the Post Office had maintained this department for the purpose of handling Parcel Post shipments to Wards' customers. On April 17, the United States Post Office refused to deliver to Wards incoming parcels from customers on which postage had been fully paid. Despite the assistance given to the strike by the United States Post Office, Wards' store has been open for business during the usual hours each day since the strike began and Wards is up to date in the filling of mail orders.

Although Wards welcomes an early election, Wards cannot, under the law, grant special privileges to the Union pending the election. To grant maintenance of Union membership before the election is held, as the War Labor Board has ordered, would not only violate the employees' fundamental liberty of free choice but it would also permit the Union to demand the discharge of all the employees who have resigned from the Union since December 8, 1943. Compliance with the Board's order would thus make a mockery of the Democratic right of employees to choose their bargaining representatives freely and without interference.

By ordering the retroactive reinstatement of maintenance of membership, the War Labor Board has demonstrated its utterly unfair character, and its complete disregard of the command of Congress that its orders conform to the National Labor Relations Act.

Wards' experience with the War Labor Board over a period of two years has convinced Wards that the Board is a means by which special privileges are granted to labor unions. The union members of the War Labor Board are men chosen for leadership by the unions, and have actually advanced the interests of the unions. The so-called public members have consistently joined with the union members to support the demands of organized labor. The so-called Industry members are committed to a policy of supporting the majority vote of the union members and the union-dominated public members.

The War Labor Board has always claimed that its orders are law and must be obeyed. It has coerced innumerable employers into acceptance of its orders by threatening the seizure of their businesses.

When Wards brought suit to have the Board's orders declared illegal, the Board asked the Courts to dismiss the case IN DIRECT CONTRADICTION TO ITS PREVIOUS CLAIMS OF POWER. THE BOARD'S PLEA TO THE COURTS WAS THAT ITS ORDERS WERE NOT "LEGALLY BINDING" BUT WERE ONLY "ADVICE" WHICH WARDS NEED NOT ACCEPT. The purpose of this plea was to deny Wards a trial before the Courts. The issues raised by Wards' case against the War Labor Board are judicial questions which under the Constitution only the Courts may decide. The War Labor Board, by asking you to force Wards to comply with its order while seeking to deprive Wards of an opportunity for a hearing in the Courts, has demonstrated its lack of respect for our Constitution and the fundamental rights which the Constitution guarantees.

Your assertion that, if Wards does not accept your direction, you will take further action, has been construed by the Press to threaten the seizure of Wards' plant and business.

The constitution of the United States guarantees to the people the protection of those fundamental rights without which there can be no liberty. Under the Constitution, Congress is the sole Law-making authority. Neither the President of the United States nor any other official has the legal right to seize any business or property either in time of peace or in time of war unless Congress has expressly given him the power to do so.

Congress has given the President no power to seize the non-war business of Montgomery Ward. Any seizure of Wards' plant or business would be in complete disregard of the Constitution which the President is sworn to uphold and defend.

Wards has violated no law nor denied to the Union no privilege to which it is legally entitled.

Respectfully,
MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.,
Sewell Avery,
Chairman.

About all that remains to be done for Clean-up Week, which starts officially Monday, is to have the rubbish hauled away, and having rubbish hauled away, involving both manpower and horsepower, may be more of a problem this year than it usually is.

Farmers report excellent progress with their spring work. Much of the grain has already been seeded and all agree that we are off to an earlier and more favorable start than usual. The good weather has been especially welcome this year because of the shortage of help. An earlier than usual start of the harvest will also be welcome for the same reason.

A dozen years ago more or less, the city invested several hundred dollars in a plan for development and beautification. The plans were destroyed when the old Auditorium burned but we remember that, among other things, the architects who surveyed our city recommended that the two city blocks in which the auditorium, the court house and the library were located should be acquired by the city and reserved for public buildings. Since that time all of the auditorium block has become publicly owned and the post office has been located in the library block. So far, intentionally or unintentionally, we have followed the suggestion of the architects. Wouldn't it be a good idea for the city to now acquire control of the remaining vacant property in the post office block to be developed as parking space and held as a site for future public buildings? These two blocks have great possibilities as a municipal center, and any unsightly building erected in this block would detract from the beauty of the library and the post office. It wouldn't cost much now to protect what we have.

THE ISSUES IN THE WARD CASE

Worth reading, and deserving of careful consideration, is the Montgomery Ward & Co. advertisement published in this issue, in which is reproduced the reply to the President's directive that the company comply to the orders of the War Labor Board. This explanation of the company's position is of special interest now that the President has ordered the seizure of the company's Chicago store and mail order house.

In forming our opinions on labor disputes our thinking is apt to be influenced by prejudices. It is important to bear in mind, therefore, that this is no ordinary labor dispute.

The issue in this case is not between the company and its employees. It is between the company and the government. The importance of the case is not its possible effect upon the relations between any particular employe or group of employees. It is important because it is a test of the power of a group of individuals who speak for our government, and for the first time meets head-on the question of the law-making powers of such a group.

Montgomery Ward & Co., challenging the broad powers claimed by the War Labor Board, asks for a day in court where the questions involved in this controversy can be decided in the manner provided by our Constitution.

Employers and employees who still have faith in the democratic form of government have a common interest in this case. Labor has just as much at stake as industry in this attempt by an individual to curb the powers of a dictator-minded administration.

In their rapid advance in the Pacific our forces have by-passed strong Jap positions where thousands of Nip soldiers are now cooling their heels. To all effects they virtually are prisoners of war, confined helplessly to the islands they were to defend. Because we are now strongly established in bases hundreds of miles to their rear there is slight possibility the Jap navy will attempt to rescue them. With their ambitious outer circle of defenses torn to shreds the Japs no doubt are now reinforcing their so-called inner line. At the rate we are moving they will have to hustle to concentrate enough power to stop us. It isn't an easy matter to prepare for an attack when you don't know where that attack will be made.

Housewives who check with merchants on ceiling prices of food are helping to win the fight against inflation. By paying only ceiling prices, housewives can hold down the cost of living. Here's the record to date in comparing today's prices with those of the last war: Bread was 12 cents a loaf—it's now 9 cents. Eggs were 92 cents a dozen—they're now 56 cents or less. Butter soared to 78 cents a pound—the OPA ceiling price is 51 cents today. Sugar went to 26 cents a pound in World War I—now you can buy about 4 pounds for 26 cents.

Silas Clay Gets Mad at Women's Hats

Silas Clay is complaining that his wife's new hat cost more than a bull calf. "And I wouldn't mind it, if it was a hat," he says, "but all it is, is a small bow and a piece of feather."

"It isn't the size of the hat that counts," says Elvon Karp, reproachfully.

"Well, what is it that counts?" asks Si, exasperated.

"I'll tell you what it is that counts," says Doc. "It's the lift that a new hat gives to any woman. It sort of picks up their spirits . . . boosts morale. Little things can do that. Like the flower in your buttonhole," he says to Silas, "or that glass of beer that you're enjoying."

From where I sit, Doc has given us a mighty good definition of morale. Important little things. A flower in your buttonhole . . . a kind word from a stranger . . . a mellow glass of beer with friends. Little things especially important in these days of strain.

University Regents Boost Tuition Rates of Out-state Students

Students who come to the University of Minnesota from outside the state will be charged higher fees beginning with the next fiscal year, July 1. On recommendation of the administrative officers the board of regents has voted a new "non-resident" tuition rate with annual increases ranging up to $30. Only the medical school tuition, now the highest in the university, was left unchanged for non-residents at $450.

Annual tuition, excluding special fees, was raised from $150 to $168 for the arts college, agriculture, forestry and home economics, education, the graduate school and school of business administration. Engineering tuition was raised from $150 to $180. Law from $207 to $213. Pharmacy from $162 to $180. Library instruction from $162 to $168, and Dentistry from $300 to $324. About 15 per cent of the students in the university are from outside the state and of students resident in Minnesota who go to college 15 per cent attend institutions outside Minnesota.

Naval Stores

The term "naval stores" dates from the early 17th century when seamen tarred their ropes and caulked their sailing vessels with tar and pitch. Most of the naval stores then came from Sweden. Now the United States produces more than 70 per cent of the world's supply. Georgia leads in production with Florida second. Alabama, Mississippi, South Carolina, and Louisiana also contribute these war-essential products.

Farm and Implement News

We have just received our first shipment of NEW MODELS of McCormick-Deering Cream Separators. They are mighty nice and no question about quality value. No rationing on cream separators.

We have two McCormick-Deering horse drawn Sweep Rakes left on hand to sell. No rationing.

We are getting a New McCormick-Deering Hammermill this week, which is not sold as this goes to press.

We are advised by the Harvester Company, that there will be a good supply of small "LB" stationary engines available. This requires priority, but if you need an engine for your farm work there is no trouble.

NEW TRUCK

We have just been advised that we will receive one new 1½ ton model K5 International truck. This truck will be here in the very near future. It's the only truck we are promised for 1944.

REPAIR SERVICE

While we do have a large stock of repair parts on hand we may run short by the time you get ready to repair that cultivator, plow, mower, binder, thresher, or any one of your machines, so why not check up on all the old machines right now and get the repairs you know you will need. We will do our very best to give you prompt repair service.

USED

We have three one-row cultivators and three wagons in our back lot now, and from time to time other machines at good values.

Keep Shoes in Shape

Shoe trees help to keep shoes in their original shape, and they should be put in immediately every time the shoes are removed. An economical plan is to wear a different pair of shoes on alternate days in order to permit each pair to dry thoroughly between wearings. This is important because perspiration is destructive to leather. Uppers constantly wet with perspiration will soon crack and rip, especially if not protected by occasional oiling.

Corn Weight

Total dry weight of silage corn continues to increase until the ears are nearly mature unless leaves die and fall off before that time. On the other hand, total green weight begins to decrease at least two weeks before maximum weight is reached. This reduces the total weight of material which must be handled.

Imported Meat

With a third the population of the United States, Italy had one-ninth the cattle, one-twelfth the hogs, one-fifth the sheep. Nearly two million goats contributed to the milk supply. Domestic meat sources faced heavier demands because of the wartime shrinkage of imports.

Should Mature

For maximum yields and best keeping quality, potatoes should not be harvested until mature. Furthermore, where late blight is active in the field, this disease is almost certain to be spread to the tubers, resulting in rot in storage if the crop is immature.

Fats Withstand Heat

Light's Development

The ancient Egyptians torch-lighted funeral processions to the pyramids—lighting some great Pharaoh to eternal darkness with blazing rods of metal, topped with balls of oil-soaked rags or reeds — were among the early picturesque forms of light, along with the Grecian banquet halls, ablaze with intricately decorated torches, fastened to the great walls, lighting brilliantly the celebration of a victory for the glory of Greece; the Roman lamp, ornamented in a style reflecting the art of the Greeks and the Egyptians.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear father and husband, Ole Thune, who passed away April 30, 1941:

Peacefully sleeping, resting at last.
The world's weary troubles and trials are past.
In silence he suffered in patience he bore,
'Till God called him home to suffer no more.
Some day we hope to meet thee
When the days of life have fled
And in Heaven with joy we greet then
Where no farewell tears are shed.

In Memoriam

In memory of John Gunderson who passed away April 4, 1942.

Two years have passed since that sad day,
When father dear was called away;
We loved you then, we love you still Forget you! No, we never will.
We often sit and think of you,
And think of how you died
But oh it is so hard to think
You could not say goodbye.
We did all we could to save you
Until God called you away.
It seems you had to go to a better place
And could no longer stay.
The flowers we placed upon your grave
May wither and decay,
But the love that lies within our hearts
Will never, never fade away.

Sadly missed by his children, Sena Chervestad and son Orlando, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Gunderson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gunnef Gunderson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Engeland, Mr. and Mrs. Juell Chervestad, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Tasa and Sharon, Gunder Gunderson. 17p

STATE FAIR DATES SET AT AUGUST 26 TO SEPTEMBER 4

No Livestock Show Will be Held at Exposition This Year

Plans for the biggest wartime exposition in Northwest history were announced today by Secretary Raymond A. Lee of the Minnesota state fair, Aug. 26 to Sept. 4.

New and spectacular win-the-war exhibits specially planned for the fair, said Secretary Lee will hold center stage in every building and major display.

Premiums totaling nearly $40,000 will be awarded thousands of winning exhibitors in the agriculture, horticulture, dairy, 4-H club, school exhibits, women's activities, fine arts, bee culture, poultry and other departments.

A gigantic United Nations Exposition, in which more than a score of allied countries will take part, will be an outstanding feature.

Top circus acts from four corners of the world, a mammoth patriotic fireworks spectacle, and other stellar wartime attractions in the making will comprise the afternoon and evening grandstand shows.

Since all livestock buildings are in use by Uncle Sam for the manufacture of airplane propellers, no livestock show will be held.

Contracts for concession and exhibit space already are being made. Premium lists will be ready for distribution soon, and may be had by addressing State Fair, St. Paul, Minn.

County Agent Reierson of Marshall County to Quit Position July 1st

Applications for a new county extension agent for Marshall county to succeed R. A. Reierson, who has asked to be relieved of his duties after July 1, will be considered at a meeting of the Marshall County Extension committee in the court house Friday evening.

Mr. Reierson, who has served as the extension agent for Marshall county since 1934, and who has done an admirable job for all sections of the county during the past 10 years, announced to the committee some time ago that he would not consider a renewal of his contract after July 1.

He plans to resume his work with his father and brothers in farming and business interests in Fosston on his retirement from the extension service.

Fat Salvage Program Continues Unchanged

Housewives will continue to receive two red ration points and the customary four cents for each pound of used kitchen fats they deliver to retail meat stores, the OPA announced. The agency urged housewives to continue their practice of turning in the household fats which contain glycerine and are needed for production of dynamite and other ammunitions. Recently OPA removed shortening and salad cooking oils from the ration list. Prior to the removal order, housewives had been surrendering four points per pound for these products.

RECORD MILEAGE OF HIGHWAYS IS RESTRICTED IN '44

Load Limits Are Now Posted on 6,450 Miles in State, Hoffman States

Spring load restrictions are now posted on 6,450 miles of Minnesota trunk highways, or 57 per cent of the system, according to M. J. Hoffmann, commissioner of highways. This is 225 miles more than in 1943, the previous high record.

Primary cause of the increased need for load restrictions has been the late spring. Alternate freezing and thawing have kept the frost in the ground later than usual. There is little chance for the subgrade to dry out until the frost is entirely out of the ground.

Another cause is the growing use of heavy trucks. Normal growth of truck hauling has been accelerated by wartime transport demands. In the earlier years use of heavy trucks was largely confined to the main routes between the larger population centers. This year restrictions have been necessary on many gravel roads where absence of heavy trucking made restrictions unnecessary in former years.

A third factor is the wartime lapse in construction. In normal times some mileage could be hard surfaced each year so as to obviate the need for restrictions. Construction has been almost at a standstill since 1941, while deterioration of the highways, due to wear and tear of traffic and the elements, has continued as usual.

"In addition to the large mileage restricted to loads exceeding certain axle weights, short impassable spots have closed some sections of highways to all traffic for varying periods," Mr. Hoffmann said. "This is largely due to local weather conditions, but in some cases it has been aggravated by loads of excessive weight. While the great majority of truck operators are cooperating in the effort to keep the roads open by observing the restrictions, there have been some violations. There are a few who do not seem to realize that by hauling loads exceeding the posted limits, they are closing the roads both to themselves and others."

Layne Sisters of WDAY Will Appear May 6 over NBC Network at Chicago

Following out its policy of finding guest stars throughout the nation the National Barn Dance talent scout from Chicago made a visit to Fargo and selected the Layne Sisters, Carol and Patty. They will make their guest appearance on the National Barn Dance Saturday night, May 6th. It is aired over WDAY at 8 P. M.

The two girls have been members of the WDAY staff for four years. They made their start there on Uncle Ken's Kiddie Klub and then became members of the Hayloft Jamboree Gang. Their popularity has gained steadily throughout the years with their radio programs and personal appearances throughout the Northwest.

To be given national recognition is a signal honor for the Layne Sisters and WDAY expresses appreciation to the radio audience for giving the girls a helping hand up that tough ladder to success. Wherever the girls have gone in the Northwest the public and the newspapers have been extremely cordial and to them the Layne Sisters are very grateful.

Seventh Day Adventist Church Starts Annual Ingathering Campaign

The Seventh-day Adventist church has begun its annual ingathering campaign with representatives calling on business places and homes. A brief report of the 1943 campaign has been prepared for the public. Welfare, evangelization, education, and medical aid throughout the world are the objectives of ingathering. A portion of one report reads as follows: "Me Christian! Me friendly!" coming from the lips of natives in the Fijis, in the New Hebrides, and on Guadalcanal has been a very comforting message to many white boys clad in khaki, and they will never forget what those who proved a friend in need did for them in their hours of greatest need. It should be remembered that the mission schools are largely responsible for this friendly Christian attitude.

Junior Baseball

Chief of Police Leonard Hanson, chairman of the American Legion's junior baseball committee, is arranging an attractive program for the city's young ball players. Equipment has already been distributed and several informal games have been played on the Lincoln field diamond. The Fair Grounds diamond, after being idle for a year, is being reconditioned and when it is ready for play, which should be shortly, a four-team junior baseball league will begin playing a schedule of games. With a four-team league in operation every baseball-minded junior will have a chance to play on a team, and it will be a fine summer pastime for the youngsters, giving them an opportunity to "blow off steam."

Three team managers have already been secured, with Chuck Dostal, Jack Williams, and Hanson offering their services—and Chuck is claiming the championship for his club—and the other manager will be selected soon. Coach Glenn Hanna will probably handle the city's all-junior team, with the players being chosen from the junior league, and that team may engage in out-of-town competition. There are a number of fine junior baseball players available, but most of the older boys will perhaps be employed during the summer months and they won't have much time for baseball. The new league will serve to bring out the capabilities of the younger juniors.

Wally DuChamp and Gordy Reierson, a couple of the city's veteran ball players, are trying to line up a team to pit against the juniors in a practice game this week. They'll have to "draft" a number of the juniors in order to complete their batting order, I'm afraid. Incidentally, the city team's battery in 1939-40, Hemmy Sahl and Bing Bergstrom, are both somewhere in New Guinea.

Interclass Track Meet

Coach Quentin Jones will divide his track squad into classes on Friday and run-off an interclass track and field meet, if the weather is favorable. With most of the "power" centered in the junior and sophomore classes, the meet should develop into a two-class duel. Larry Rullen, Herb Claffy, Chuck Richards, Loyal Froseth, Bob Baker, and Sonny Johnson should give the juniors a slight edge over the sophs. The sophs have Phil Beadle, Ninsk Carlson, Allan Thompson, Cliff Aase, Wes Hovie, Brad Hanna, and several others to gather track points. The seniors will have to depend largely on Burdell Merritt, with Stub Fretland and Jim Jorde adding a few counters, for a strong third place in the standings.

The results of the meet will give coach Jones a chance to watch the boys as they run in competition and it will give him a basis upon which to make his choices for the track squad that will represent the Prowlers in the Beaver Relays and the district track meet.

Bullheads and Trout

With the brook trout and bullhead fishing season opening on May 1st, the angleworm will be due for a workout. Most of the local angleworms will be used as bullhead bait, but there are a few fishermen who plan on trying their luck on brook trout. Al Berge, who has fished the Clearbrook vicinity since he was a boy, hopes to make a trip down there to fish the trout streams. Those streams are the closest trout water that we have and Al says that if conditions are right — they all say that — a fine catch can be made.

A surer way of catching fish for the frying pan, than of trying to catch a Clearbrook trout, is to use a cane pole and a gob of worms and fish the river for bullheads. They aren't so fussy, and dredged in corn meal and fried in deep fat they taste fine.

Game warden Bill Borchert blames the slowness of the sucker "run"—very few fish have been speared—on the cold weather and low water. He expects that a few fish will appear the latter part of the week.

136 TIPSY DRIVERS LOSE LICENSES IN STATE IN MARCH

Speeding Causes Suspension of 88 Permits, with 7 Revocations

Driving under the influence of liquor brought revocation of drivers' licenses to 136 Minnesota motorists in the month of March, according to monthly report to M. J. Hoffmann, commissioner of highways, by E. P. Lee, supervisor of the drivers' license division. Five more licenses were revoked for inebriacy. Total number of revocations was 153, an increase over January and February but 25 less than in March, 1943.

Exceeding the speed limits brought suspensions of 88 drivers' licenses and repeated convictions for speeding brought outright revocation of 7 more. Besides speeding, the principal causes of suspensions were: reckless driving, 35; failure to establish financial responsibility, 26; refusing driving test, 64; refusing to furnish doctor's statement on eye test, 22; ignoring signs and signals, 24; incompetence, 22. Total suspensions in March were 321.

A total of 422 drivers' licenses have been revoked from January 1 to March 31. Counties with the largest numbers of revocations were Hennepin, 97; Ramsey, 67; St. Louis, 53; Chippewa and Itasca, 10 each. Suspensions in the first three months total 907. Counties with the largest numbers of suspensions were Hennepin, 396; Ramsey, 141; St. Louis, 39; Anoka, Mower and Winona, 12 each; Dakota and Faribault 11 each; Fillmore, Renville and Stearns, 10 each.

"Large numbers of revocations or suspensions," said Mr. Lee, "indicate that local authorities are taking proper steps to see that accident-prone drivers are being kept off the streets and highways."

BLUEBIRDS RETURN SAME DAY, SAME HOME

Brainerd.—For several years the birdhouse in Mrs. Willard Badeaux's yard has housed bluebirds. Last year she jotted down the date of the birds' arrival, April 7. To her amazement they have arrived this year on the same date. But there is something that makes the phenomenon of the Capistrano Mission and of the Northeast Brainerd all the more mystifying: How did the birds know that this was leap year? The fact that February had an extra day makes them one day behind schedule but on the dot with the calendar.

Lieutenants Wilma Kalmien, Monroe, Mich., and Agnes Malone, Massillon, Ohio, army nurses, are used to ice-skating back home, so they volunteered to teach Miss Kuiaki Kehakeloa a few tricks on an indoor rink in Hawaii. Yes, there's nothing backward about Hawaii, as this skating rink proves.

More than 4200 People Trained in Minnesota Hospitals During 1943

Over 4,200 people entered Minnesota hospitals last year to receive educations instead of treatment, it was announced today by Dr. William A. O'Brien, chairman, council on public education of the Minnesota Hospital association.

"The average person", said Dr. O'Brien, "thinks of the hospital as a good place to go to have a broken bone mended or to have troublesome tonsils extracted, but does not realize the large number of persons and professions who depend on hospitals for educational purposes.

"Nurses, interns, dieticians, medical technicians, medical librarians, physiotherapists and medical social workers—over 4,200 of them—received training in Minnesota hospitals in 1943, in spite of the fact that hospitals were losing instructors and supervisors in large numbers to the armed forces," Dr. O'Brien continued.

"On January 1, 1944, there were 3,539 student nurses in training and this is an increase of 18.4 per cent over the number in training in January, 1942", Dr. O'Brien said.

URGE SEEDING OF MORE CLOVER AND ALFALFA IN 1944

Legume Supplies Shrinking at Alarming Rate, Says County Agent

Unless the shrinkage in alfalfa and clover acreages is halted and some way is found to build up the potential supply of hay and pasture, Minnesota farmers may face a much more serious problem than the present one attributed largely to shortages of grain and protein, says County Agent Ernest Palmer. In spite of two good pasture years, a favorable fall and and an open winter, supplies of legume hay have been disappearing at an alarming rate.

To make matters worse, statewide reports indicate that the acreage of legumes is in danger of being reduced even further this year. In spite of the scarcity of legume seeds, there are indications now that the reduced demand will not make full use of available seeds.

J. B. McNulty, farm management specialist at University Farm, says that alfalfa, clover or recommended hay and pasture mixtures ought to get first call on acres to be used for growing feed. High cost of seed is counteracted by the fact that good legume hay and pasture are still the cheapest feeds that can be grown on the farm.

He urges farmers, especially those who have dairy herds, to keep up their legume plantings even at relatively high cost. Since a good pasture and hay program must be planned one to three years in advance, it is important that there be no interruption in seedings.

Farm management records show that hay crops are not only labor saving but they deliver a lot of good feed per acre at low cost. Low cost feed crops such as hay and pasture give the livestock producer a better margin to work on whether prices are high or low. For that reason it is always good farm management to take the long-time view in keeping up legume acreages.

Handicapped Citizens of Minnesota Placed in Variety of War Jobs

Minnesota's handicapped persons —4,500 of them—now are making full use of their abilities in war work, says Dreng Bjornaraa, state war manpower commission director.

A new method is being used by the U. S. employment service to quickly match an applicant's physical limitations with the demands of the job.

WMC has hundreds of unusual placements on file: An army private who has lost a leg is now a bench mechanic. A disabled sailor is in school with other veterans his own age. A man in his late fifties, legless from boyhood and who made his living for twenty years selling needles and pins, is running a small lathe.

Last year the USES placed 4,527 disabled Minnesotans. Two years ago the total was but 331. New techniques, coupled with the manpower shortage illustrate the increased placement opportunities for handicapped workers, Bjornaraa said.

Protect Highways

Highways in at least 15 states, and concrete runways on airplane landing fields, have been made resistant to severe winter conditions through the addition of about a tablespoon of pine wood resin to each sack of cement.

Studebaker Champion a money-saver says Civil Air Patrol pilot

Keep on buying War Bonds
THE SAFEST INVESTMENT IN THE WORLD

"MY 1940 Studebaker Champion has traveled more than 110,000 tough miles," reports Civil Air Patrol pilot Lieutenant J. E. McGuiggan of Squadron 3 who is employed by Universal Studios of St. Paul, Minnesota.

"I average 25 miles to the gallon and my original tires stood up well over 60,000 miles. Of all the cars I've owned, this Champion is easily the most satisfactory and economical."

From coast to coast, it's the same story these war days—tires last longer, gas goes further, repairs are required less frequently in a Studebaker, thanks to advanced engineering principles and quality materials and craftsmanship.

Must Something Similar To This Tragedy Occur HERE?
When Will the Public Be Roused to Action Against Evil Influences of Taverns?

TRAGEDY IN WATONWAN
RESPONSIBILITY PLACED AT DOOR OF RURAL BEER TAVERN

The State of Minnesota was shocked recently by the discovery on Monday morning, March 20, of the bodies of four young people in a car parked behind a rural schoolhouse north of St. James in Watonwan County. The teacher of the school found the bodies when she went to open the building for school on that tragic day. They had been dead since late Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

Authorities in Watonwan County have said that it is known that the four young people who met their death by asphyxiation in a closed car behind a rural school building on early Sunday morning, March 19, spent the previous night until after midnight at a rural tavern near St. James and that the influence of the tavern must be held morally responsible for their death. They left the tavern in an intoxicated condition.

As a result a volunteer committee of 65 responsible citizens from all parts of the county met with the Board of County Commissioners on April 3 and presented the following requests:

"The undersigned residents of Watonwan County hereby pledge their support to the following requests presented to the County Commissioners on April 3, 1944:

1. That the Commissioners give assurance that they will revoke all licenses held by any rural tavern upon evidence of law violation by said tavern;

2. That the Sheriff (and County Attorney) be urged to maintain constant vigilance to the end that evidence shall be secured when law violation occurs; and that the Commissioners assure these officials of all needed support;

3. That in order to safeguard the health and morals of our youth the Commissioners shall rule that in no case shall anyone under the age of 18 be admitted into rural taverns, upon penalty of the revocation of their licenses.

4. That whereas it has become evident that these taverns are a major influence in the breakdown of the moral standards of our young people; whereas it has become increasingly difficult to control said taverns due to their character and the use of liquor on the premises, whereas they are becoming increasingly a public nuisance; and whereas our government is urging us to take all possible steps to conserve gasoline and tires and release manpower for essential industries, the County Commissioners rule that licenses now held by rural taverns shall not be renewed and that no new beer and public dance hall licenses will be granted in rural areas."

These requests are being followed up by signed petitions from the people of Watonwan County.

It is too bad when an instance of sorrow such as this must be used to put pressure on public officials, but to allow conditions to continue which produce such results is infinitely worse. Unless the people of Minnesota become aroused and effectively discharge their moral and Christian duties as citizens this kind of thing will recur with increasing frequency. Again we urge the argument that investments of parents in their children are more worthy of protection than investments in chromium plate, mahogany bars and thick bottomed glasses. Wake up, Minnesota! (From "The Spotlight," April, 1944 issue.)

We would say—WAKE UP, THIEF RIVER FALLS: AND AREA! AND ACT!

How a Pulpwood Shortage Handicaps the Farmer . . .

MILLIONS OF EGGS WOULD NEVER REACH THE MARKET
FEED STOCK AND FERTILIZER WOULD SELL IN BULK ONLY

. . . WITHOUT PULPWOOD TO MAKE CONTAINERS

Pulpwood helps the farmer both in the marketing and the planting of his field crops. Feed, fertilizer, seeds and other farm essentials come to the farmer in containers made of pulpwood. Fruits, vegetables, dairy products and other farm produce are packed in pulpwood wraps, liners, and paperboard boxes before they reach the consumer. And most important, pulpwood containers help the farmer feed our armed forces overseas.

BOTH PACKAGES Contain the Same Rich Coffee!

THE limitation of production of glass jars, plus the increased demand for Nash's Coffee, make it impossible at this time to pack all of our volume in glass jars. We are, therefore, temporarily offering Nash's Coffee in paper bags, in addition to the glass jars. If your grocer is out of Nash's Coffee in glass jars, he will be supplied again in a very short time. Meanwhile, we suggest that you purchase the paper bag. It's the same rich and fragrant Nash's Coffee that you've long enjoyed. Buy it with confidence! And, the bag sells for a few cents less. The Nash Coffee Company, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

PIG FOOLS 'EM ALL!

Argyle.—This is the tale of a pig who changed his mind. Richard Fitzsimmons came to town with a nice fat pig which he planned to have made into pork chops. While unloading the fellow in front of the local locker plant, Mr. Pig decided that wasn't the spot he wanted to visit. Away he went down the street, pursued by Fitzsimmons and several others. The merry chase wound up on the east side of the highway where he became entangled with a fence. The men left him there, returning to town for reinforcements for his capture. While they were gone Mr. Pig seemingly thought over his predicament and decided he'd go back to the locker plant. Discouraged after a fruitless search, Mr. Fitzsimmons eventually returned to the locker plant and lo and behold there was his pig all butchered and well on the way to pork chops, spareribs, ham, etc.

MOST MEATS ARE NOW FREED FROM POINT RATIONING

Number of Red Points Is Cut in Half Effective Today

All meat except steaks and roast of beef came ration free at midnight Wednesday, but that doesn't mean all the points that formerly went into hamburger and pork and lamb can be diverted to bigger and juicier sirloins.

There'll be only half as many red points as before.

The office of price administration figures the average consumer can have more of the items still to be rationed—steak and beef roast, butter, margarine, cheese and evaporated milk. And, of course, he can have all the hamburger, pork and other non-rationed meat he can find and pay for.

The actual effect on each individual will vary widely according to what has been bought with red points in the past.

For instance, a person who has used most of his red points for steak and butter will be cut in those items. If he has been eating a 10-point steak and a 3-point quarter pound of butter every two weeks heretofore, he has 17 of his bi-weekly allotment of 30 red points left for other items, including the meats taken off rationing Wednesday.

With the red point allowance slashed to 15 every two weeks beginning next Sunday, he will have only 2 points every two weeks for cheese, evaporated milk and margarine, unless he cuts steak and butter consumption.

On the other hand, if the consumer has been letting the high point items alone, using margarine, variety meats and pork, he can have a good deal more of the better cuts of beef under the new schedule than he has been eating.

All of this makes us world conscious, and when we think of working in the Kingdom of God, we think of the world instead of our own little community."

LAND O'LAKES DRY WHOLE MILK TO BE 'INVASION FOOD'

Cooperative's Entire Output Has Been Assigned to the Military

Among the first of the big-scale producers to turn out increased supplies of nonfat dry milk solids for lend-lease, Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., are now processing a new item, to supply the government with one of the most vital foods for the impending European invasion. According to William G. Rice, manager of the powdered milk division, 100 per cent of the cooperative's dry whole milk is going to the military.

Land O'Lakes dry whole milk is packed in olive drab tins, five pounds to the can, imprinted "For Mess Use." Each tin provides five gallons of fluid milk—or an 8-oz. glass of milk apiece for 80 men.

The equivalent of fresh milk is achieved by sprinkling the dry milk on the surface of cold water and stirring it vigorously until completely dissolved. For individual servings, two heaped messkit spoonfuls of dry milk are stirred into two-thirds of a canteen cup of cold water.

"When the manufacture of this dry whole milk product was first undertaken, its keeping qualities were hard to maintain, but the problem has been whipped completely in our present export package," Mr. Rice revealed. "Our export product will keep for one year in temperatures as variable as from below zero to 120 degrees above zero."

When once reconstituted into fluid milk, the dry whole milk is most palatable, experts say, closely resembling the original fluid milk if it is prepared the day before use and held over night under refrigeration.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

The girl scout court of awards will be held Friday evening at 7:30 in the auditorium. Brownies and scouts are to be in the Civic and Commerce rooms in uniform, if possible, at 7:15.

The girl scout camp Lolita of the Grand Forks area will hold its first session July 10-22. The fee for each session is $16.00, and all registrations must be accompanied by a $2.00 deposit. If interested in the camp, information may be had by writing to Mrs. W. G. Sandbrink, chairman camp committee, Grand Forks, N. Dak.

At the court of awards, six of the scouts will receive their first class rank. To be a first class scout is a high honor and a privilege. It should indicate that one is not only an all-around sort of a girl, but that she is prepared also to be of real service in at least one field of activity. To be a first class scout, a girl must earn four badges in one field. One of the girls this year will receive her curved bar.

Are Manners Old-Fashioned?

One morning recently when the streets were running with water from a fast melting, heavy snow that had fallen the preceding evening, a young woman in a beautiful yellow coat was attempting to board a street car. An oncoming motorist determined to get past the street car before the yellow changed to red, came speeding through, splashing the water in sheets in every direction. The yellow coat was a sight. The few seconds saved by the motorist meant a dry cleaning bill to the young woman, or maybe a ruined coat. It's a fairly common experience to see pedestrians spattered by fast moving cars or to see windshields of other cars completely covered by muddy water, which must at least momentarily cause zero vision. Such behavior is thoughtless and inconsiderate.

Discourtesy on the part of both children and adults is today an altogether too common an experience. In fact, it is so common that one can't help but wonder if good manners are outmoded. One witnesses rudeness and inconsideration in the stores, on the highways, in buses and streetcars. A person opens a door to let himself into a public building and he is fairly knocked off his feet by some one rushing out to take advantage of the open door.

A few people will insist that good manners are superficial and unnecessary, and they are indeed worse than unnecessary if they are worn as ornaments. But when they are used as standard practice to make life pleasanter and happier and make it easier to carry on, they are very important. Those who believe in courteous behavior and are concerned about the manners, would do well to ask children themselves how considerateness and thoughtfulness are developed. It has been demonstrated that whether they intend to or not, parents serve as models, and children learn very quickly from them through imitation.

Courtesy cannot be developed in children only by means of precepts and admonitions, but must be cultivated through their observations of their elders. If parents surround their children with sympathy, considerateness, and regard for the rights of others they will find their children in turn gradually develop similar conduct. Nor is it enough for the elders simply to use such behavior outside the home and only when with others. Unless they are courteous to those in their immediate surroundings and to their own children and to others within the family circle, it will be very difficult, if not impossible, to develop courtesy in the youngsters.

SEEING IS BELIEVING

A trio of professional tall story tellers were in a cozy corner of their club, spinning yarns. Brown had just told a most unbelievable story about hunting lions, and the other two glanced at each other questioningly.

"Well, I assure you, gentlemen," said Brown, "if I hadn't seen it myself I shouldn't have believed it."

"Ha—h'm—well," said one of the two doubtful ones, "you must remember, old man, that we didn't see it."

Thoughtful Parent

Fond Mother—I hope you never punish the children.

Teacher—Oh, no, never!

Fond Mother—Well, anyway I wish you'd be very careful with my son. If he does anything wrong, just slap the boy next to him and I'm sure that will frighten him enough so he'll behave!

Lady (handing conductor $10 bill)—I'm sorry I haven't a dime.

Election Return

Jones—Hey, what's the idea of going down the street with two guns? You weren't even close to winning the election for sheriff.

Smith—That's just it. If the number of votes I got indicates the number of friends I have, I need two guns!

Right Word!

Sambo—You-all sed yo' uncle had conclusion of the brain in dat accident. You means concussion, ignorant.

Rastus—Maybe Ah's ignorant, but if you-all was at his funeral, you'd sed it was conclusion of the brain, too!

Sales Slip

Clerk—The manager just transferred me to the basement.

Ditto—You don't belong there.

Clerk—I don't?

Ditto—No! You're no bargain!

Bad Example

Teacher (after writing sentence on blackboard)—Can anyone tell me anything peculiar about this sentence?

Smarty—Yes, teacher, the writing!

Some Fun!

Billy—Did you know the answers to all those questions on the test?

Willy—Sure! I said "no" to every one of them!

Cud Be!

Nit—What do they use cows' teeth for?

Wit—To make dental cream, I guess!

Spring Fever

Teacher—Which of the parables do you like best, Tommy?

Tommy—The one where somebody loafs and fishes!

Wetter Weather

Mrs.—This weather doesn't agree with me!

Mr.—If it did, it'd be the first thing you ever let agree with you!

HERE'S YOUR HAT!

Week-ender—I see you have a cat in your house. What's its name?

Host's Son—Guest.

Week-ender—Why do you call it that?

Host's Son—Dad says because we can't get rid of it!

RED CROSS NEWS NOTES

By Mrs. Millard Peterson
Publicity Chairman

Volunteers are now working to meet quotas of more than three million surgical dressings daily for use wherever United States troops are in action, according to Mrs. Richard Bissell, national director of Red Cross Volunteer Special Services. Of the one billion dressings produced by Red Cross in the past two years, our chapter here has made 272,400 of them. Last Monday afternoon, over 1560 dressings were made by about seventeen workers.

"Eat raw cabbage for your spring tonic", is the advice of Red Cross nutrition experts. "By doing so, you will be supplying the vitamin C so necessary to a healthful diet, and at the same time cooperating with the national food program in using the seasonal supply on the market just now." Although the fact is not generally known, cabbage is a good source of vitamin C and is in the same one of the Basic 7 food groups as are the citrus fruits. The advantage in this area is that, with intelligent planting, it can be available to everyone all the year around. Those who cannot afford to buy shipped in foods need not be "vitamin C hungry" when markets are overflowing with the green leaved heads which are packed with vitamins.

Victory gardens will be in preparation before long. Everyone should allow space for planting cabbage, and each head should be regarded with pride. The good consumer not only watches nutritional values of foods, but also buys what is plentiful on the market. In this way she cooperates with the national program in avoiding food shortages and also buys to her own advantage. In addition to guarding the health of her family the woman who shops carefully and plans her meals according to pattern also contributes her share to the war efforts. Wise use of foods is of prime importance to a country at war.

Are you thinking of joining a class in home nursing now or in the near future? If you feel that your time is pretty well taken up at this time but would like to enter a class later on, please let us know, so we may plan accordingly. The Red Cross home nursing committee of which Mrs. O. G. Lynde is chairman would like to know your wishes in this matter, so please call 487 and state your wishes. Classes will be postponed to meet with the majority's approval.

Outdoor Movie on Front

An outdoor movie theater operated by the army in New Guinea shows current films within a month of their general release in this country.

Nation of Farmers

Bulgaria is a nation of farmers. About four-fifths of its six to seven million inhabitants make their living from the soil. Farm holdings are for the most part extremely small, and operating methods are generally primitive. The three Fs—farming, forestry and fishing—provide the country's chief means of support, although industry in recent years has been encouraged by the government, and there are valuable mineral deposits. Coal is the most important mineral product.

Air Express

For the most part, air express is carried on the regular passenger flights of the airlines but three exclusive mail and express flights are now operated daily. One route runs between New York and Miami; another between New York and Salt Lake City, and a third, recently started, between New York and Los Angeles.

Clean Paint Brushes

Use linseed oil or other paint drying oil, turpentine, or any of the prepared brush cleaning compounds sold by paint dealers for cleaning paint brushes. If the brush has been used in shellac, it should be cleaned with alcohol, or if it has been used in lacquer, with lacquer thinner made by the manufacturer of the lacquer.

Painting Steel

Before painting a steel surface, care should be taken to remove all loose scale or rust by scraping or sandpapering down to the bright metal. Also, it is imperative that any greasy film be removed from the metal by an effective solvent, or the paint cannot be expected to adhere to the surface. When painting over rivets and rough edges, brush the paint towards the rivets and towards the edges to make certain that they are thoroughly sealed against moisture.

NAVY SECRETARY INTERRED MONDAY IN U. S. CAPITAL

Frank Knox Succumbed Last Friday after Short Illness

Frank Knox joined Monday the nation's military dead who rest from war in Arlington National cemetery in Washington. He died last Friday following a series of heart attacks.

The secretary of the American navy was buried on a cedar-bordered slope looking out over the national capital while the envoys and uniformed representatives of the United Nations stood with bowed heads. The high commanders of the army, navy and marines stood rigidly at attention as three precise volleys cracked over the grave and a bugle called farewell.

A silent, bare-headed throng, perhaps as great as any that have lined a cortege route since the burial of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington, stood along the two miles of streets and roadways leading to Arlington.

The tribute that the throng along the streets, the diplomats, cabinet members and military paid silently at the graveside was expressed in the sermon of Dr. Fred Buschmeyer, who conducted the funeral services at the Mount Pleasant Congregational church, and by Prime Minister Churchill in a message to President Roosevelt.

Rubber Output Up

White official statistics are lacking, reports from the Americas indicate total hemisphere production of rubber now has exceeded an annual rate of 30,000 tons on its way toward an announced goal of 100,000 tons or more in 1943-44. Whether this goal is reached depends upon how successful rubber development authorities are in overcoming transportation, food supply, diseases and manpower obstacles to rapid increase in collection of wild rubber in the vast forests of the Amazon and Central America.

One of the First to Fall at Bougainville

Wounded in the initial invasion at Empress Augusta Bay, Bougainville, this American is hoisted aboard a coastguard-manned transport off shore. He was among the marines and coastguardsmen to leave the ship earlier in the morning, to begin the attack.

Endures Frosts

Cabbage will stand several light frosts, or may be left in the ground for several weeks. Root crops are still more hardy and are best left in the ground till mid-November. Early harvest of these hardy crops and removal to storage, which is usually still too warm, causes most of the failure in [illegible] to keep the crops for winter use by the family.

Farm Ponds

The technique of farm pond management is built around fertilization. By proper fertilization the productive capacity of ponds may be enormously increased, the gain in fish production ranging from 50 per cent in naturally poorer waters to a three fold increase in ponds draining rich soils.

August Langelett, 51, for twenty-four years a resident of Pennington county, passed away at a local hospital April 26 following a short illness. Rites were held at the Gulbranson funeral home Tuesday at 1 o'clock and St. John's Lutheran church at 2 o'clock with Rev. J. O. Jacobson and Rev. V. E. Schroeder officiating respectively. Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery.

Those who mourn his death besides his wife are ten children, Alfred of Coloma, Mich., Mrs. Elias Kirkland of Port Orchard, Wash., Lillie, Arthur, Eleanor, Margaret, Christ, Robert, David, and Evert, all at home; his mother, Mrs. Ted Langelett of Canistota, S. Dak.; three brothers, Henry and Fred of Sioux Falls, S. Dak., and Herb of Canistota, S. Dak.; two sisters, Mrs. Mathilda Klockman of Canistota and Mrs. Minnie Gabel of Akron, Iowa. Preceding him in death were his father, Ludvig Langelett, and two infant sons.

Mr. Langelett, who at the time of his death was treasurer of school district No. 7, was born at Buckley, Ill., March 27, 1893. He moved to southern Minnesota in the spring of 1900 and in the fall of the same year he moved to Canistota, where he met Miss Clara Sara Wesenberg of Canova, S. Dak. She became his wife Jan. 2, 1916, and they resided there until moving to Bray township in 1920. In 1921 they moved to this city where Mr. Langelett bought a shop and was engaged in general blacksmithing until in 1927, when he again moved out to the farm. In 1942 he received an agricultural award for high production of livestock.

John Graff, Pioneer Resident of Moylan Twp., Dies Saturday

John Graff, resident of Moylan township for the past 48 years, died Saturday at his home at the age of 81. Rev. E. O. Sabo of Mavie will conduct services in the Zion Lutheran church of Germantown Saturday, May 6, at 2:00 P. M. and interment will be made in the church cemetery.

Mr. Graff was born in Stavenger, Norway, Oct. 5, 1862, and came to this country, making his home in Rochester in 1878. In 1896 he moved to Crookston and later the same year to Moylan township to make his permanent home. He was a charter member of the Zion Lutheran church of Germantown. His marriage to Seslie Stalson took place July 1896 in Crookston.

Left to mourn are three daughters, Mrs. Hilmer Swenson of Holt, Mrs. Albert Johnson of Goodridge, and Mrs. Frank Kainz of Goodridge; two sons, John S. Graff of Goodridge and Ed G. Graff of San Francisco; a sister, Mrs. Johanna Sorenson of Manistee, Mich.; and thirteen grandchildren. His wife and a daughter and a son preceded him in death.

Lowest Pass

Brenner is the lowest pass through the Alps, less than a mile above sea level at its highest point. It has played a prominent part in European history; its steep sides have for centuries echoed the clatter of hoofs and the marching of armed men.

Cook With Care

Cook cheese dishes with care, going easy on the heat. In that way this nutritious food melts completely and spreads good cheese flavor and protein through the whole dish. Cooked too quickly, cheese gets tough and stringy and settles in one spot instead of spreading.

Riveting Champ

OPA Community Service Bulletin

By Mrs. Paul A. Lundgren Chairman

In this column last month, it was indicated that a supply of price ceiling lists are on hand at the local OPA office. Any organization may have a supply for distribution among its members, upon request for same. It is hoped that club or group study of the whole price program may be encouraged. Mrs. Basil Westacott has been appointed as C. S. M. assistant and will be in charge of distribution and group study. Homemakers Club chairmen are urged to include price control—its aims and its results in their yearly program and may contact Mrs. Westacott for suggestions or material. A supply of price ceilings have also been left at the AAA office and will be given out upon request.

Hay Cheapest Cow Feed

Wheat Chief Food

Wheat products are the largest items on the Italian menu. Before the war Italy was the third largest wheat-growing nation in Europe, with a crop more than a third the total for the United States. In addition, up to 23 million bushels of wheat was imported from Argentina, Australia, the United States and Russia. About a third of the imports went into the manufacture of macaroni and other food products for export. A 13 per cent decrease in wheat consumption in recent years had been eased by the use of rice and fish.

Leading Exports

With its large proportion of fertile soil and open country, Bulgaria's leading exports are from farms, and normally include tobacco, fruit, sugar, raw silk, rose oil, wheat and other cereals, and animal products. Germany, in 1940, took nearly 60 per cent of the nation's exports and was the source of about 70 per cent of the imports. The entire 1941 tobacco crop was bought in advance by the Reich, which is also reported active in the development of Bulgaria's mineral resources, especially copper, lead and zinc.

31 Pedestrians Give up Lives in Three Months

[illegible] death in traffic accidents in Minnesota in the first three months of 1944, says a state highway bulletin. Five of these were youngsters under 10, only one was between the ages of 10 and 25, four were from 25 to 44 years old, and 21 were from 45 to 80 years old. Motorists have a special responsibility to keep alert for the very young and the very old. These groups are neither as agile as persons in their best years, nor have they had the same training in safety practice.

Regional Firemen Will Meet in Warren Sunday

More than 100 firemen from 20 or more departments in Northern Minnesota are expected in Warren Sunday afternoon to attend the quarterly meeting of the Northern Regional Firemen's association. The sessions will be held in the city Auditorium.

Newell R. Johnson, Minnesota Commissioner of Insurance from St. Paul, will be the principal speaker at Sunday's event which will also include round-table discussions on fire control methods.

Other speakers expected are "Pete" Johnson, Bemidji and C. A. Cherry, Detroit Lakes, deputy fire marshals from the state insurance commission.

NUMBERED EGGS

Elbow Lake.—Lucky six? At least that is the hope of Clarence L. Erickson who recently found two perfectly formed hen's eggs, each with a well-formed figure "6" on it, approximately three-quarter of an inch high. Mrs. Erickson, who has a flock of about 250 white Leghorn laying hens, thinks the numbered eggs should bring her some unusual luck.

ENSNARED DOG RETURNS AFTER TWENTY-SIX DAYS

Williams.—For twenty-six days Earl Block's dog was missing from the Block farm. And when the poor fellow returned to his home after that period he was hardly recognizable appearing to be mostly hair and bones. Around his neck he wore a snare which apparently had been set for a wolf but with which he had tangled. His appearance indicated he had been without food and water and it was reasoned that he hadn't strangled himself because he was accustomed to being tied in his own yard with a collar and chain.

Finds Thanksgiving Is Not of American Origin

"Thanksgiving day is not the purely American invention we usually consider it," says Dr. F. J. Tschan, professor of European history at the Pennsylvania State college. "It's an old Roman custom, he said, and a tradition with the ancient Greeks, Chinese, Japanese, Jews, and Germanic peoples too.

"All through the Middle Ages and even today the church has fostered the idea of thanking God not only on one day but every day," Dr. Tschan added. "The Puritans, however, renewed the idea of feasting."

Thanksgiving festivals were held in China a thousand years before Christ, while the Roman feast of Ceres and the ancient Greeks' feast of Demeter were closely similar in spirit, he explained.

The Jews have been celebrating Hoshannah Rabbah — Thanksgiving to God—for many centuries, and the Japs hold two harvest thanksgiving festivals each year. Other forerunners are the Germanic feast of the Harvest Home and the day of thanksgiving observed by the Norwegians on either the last Friday of October or the first Friday in November.

PUBLISHER HAS NOVEL STAMP COLLECTION

Blue Earth.—Philatelists constantly strive to inject unusual stunts into their hobby of stamp collecting. Doubtless one of the most unique ever to be thought of is this one developed by B. A. Johnson, proprietor of the Post Publishing Co. Five letters were received by Mr. Johnson from five widely scattered villages, towns and cities of the United States, each bearing postmarks which read in order: "Purchase War Bond or Stamps." Mr. Johnson promptly mailed five suitable patriotic envelopes to postmasters at "Purchase, N. Y."; Warr, W. V."; "Bond, Colo."; "Orr, Okla."; and "Stamps, Ark." All were returned and he now has them mounted on a large white cardboard which reads, "Purchase War Bond or Stamps."

Si Sez:—

Here it is again—through the window here at the Store I see the trees budding—the robins are pulling worms out of the wet ground—the squirrels are chasing up and down the trees—and by gosh —Spring Is Here.

Stan came out this morning and I said, "Haven't you got a lot of things to tell the house-cleaning housewives about?" And he said, "We sure have," and so I told him to get busy and write it down right under this that I say about Spring — so here is what Stan says:

Okey Boss, Here It Is—

We have two of the finest solutions to your house cleaning problems: First, DES-TEX FOAM which moth protects as it shampoos your rug. Of all the rug cleaning preparations this is the best we have ever used. It really does a marvelous job of cleaning.

Second, use BUBBLE CLEANER for your upholstered furniture. Bubble cleaner can be used for cleaning all types of upholstery fabrics, draperies, slip covers, carpets, automobile cushions, and flat-printed surfaces. It contains neither ammonia or gasoline and its fumes are harmless. It has a clean, fresh odor and is NON-INFLAMABLE.

Des-Tex Foam sells for $1.25 a quart and is mixed with ten parts of water for rug cleaning.

Bubble cleaner sells for [illegible] per quart.

Try Des-Tex Foam and Bubble cleaner. Your rugs and upholstered furniture will again take on a new new shiny appearance.

STAN.

Doc Borreson is doing a swell job on me. I think—if my wife hadn't swiped all my clothes and just left me pajamas—I'd dress up and go places right now. Just think — 12 more days till fishin'.

Thanks a lot,
Si Poppler.

Let's keep in mind that Americans are not a superior race. In fact Americans are not a single race, they are people of many races, of all colors and creeds. America is more than a nation—it is an ideal. Good Americans make no distinction of race, color or creed. If America is to retain the respect and good will of all peoples in the world, of whom we are a minority in both color and creed, it is important that we keep alive the spirit of true Americanism in our relationships with each other here at home. Those who seek to divide us on these questions here at home are laying the foundation for future wars more frightful even than the one we are now fighting.

If Sewell Avery's purpose in staging his one-man sit-down strike was to get a day in court then he has now accomplished his purpose. As a result of his defiance of the War Labor Board, not only will the Board's authority, under the act of Congress which created it, be legally defined, but Congress itself will review the record of the Board and determine whether or not the Board's actions conform to the intentions of the act. It is unfortunate that a revolution was required in order to secure for an individual the rights that we take for granted are the possession of all Americans, but revolutions seem to be the only means of restraining dictators. It is unfortunate that justice is so expensive. There are many small-fry individuals who have meekly submitted to unreasonable do-this-or-else orders of power-drunk officials for the simple reason that they could not afford to pay the high cost of an appeal.

This has been another bad week for our surprise-loving friends, the Japs. Day after day the reports have told of heavy losses inflicted upon them. Because they do not know where the next blow will be struck they are unable to concentrate their defenses, and they apparently are not willing to risk the remainder of their fleet in a pitched battle at this time. Their one hope now probably is that our fleet will not be able to penetrate the inner circle of their defenses where they no doubt have a concentration of air power, but our fleet seems to have an effective umbrella wherever it goes.

Jorgen Juve, the Norwegian journalist who spoke here last week, stated that the allied high command is in constant touch with the people of Norway and that agents travel in and out regularly. If this is true about Norway it probably is also true about the other occupied countries of the continent. It may be assumed therefore that our high command is well informed on German activities and will know pretty well what to expect when the invasion starts. Well organized and well armed underground units can be of great value to the invaders and will be an important factor in the success of many minor operations. The fact that our men will be invading countries in which the rank and file of the people will welcome them in every way possible, is one great advantage that off-sets some of the disadvantages of that kind of an operation.

This business of invading the continent of Europe is getting us jittery — and we haven't had hostile planes going over us day and night carrying trainloads of bombs. Small wonder, then, that there is a note of nervousness in the broadcasts coming out of Germany. The allies have the world guessing as to when the big drive will get under way and most of these guesses, including those of the Germans, set an early date. That is one reason for believing that we still have some time to wait, and if German morale is cracking under the strain of thousand-plane raids, then waiting may save lives.

Old man Winter can always be counted on for a sneak attack or two to cover his retreat. We are not fooled by this sort of thing. Warm weather is definitely on the move northward and shortly will have our territory under control.

Pisa's Attraction

The Piazza del Duomo was Pisa's pre-war tourist attraction. It consisted of three buildings comprising a unit—the Cathedral, the Baptistry and the Campanile. The tower was begun in 1174. When a height of only 40 feet was reached it was discovered that, because of insecure foundations, the tower was sinking on one side. Efforts to right the structure as the building continued were unsuccessful.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Parrot gets Will Dudley's Goat

Will Dudley never liked his wife's pet parrot. Claimed the parrot called him "Stinky"—and ate his pipe tobacco. And the Missus said it served Will right ... she'd told him not to smoke his pipe indoors.

To make her point, the Missus grabs Will's pipe and throws it out the window. So Will grabs the parrot and throws him out too. Looks like unpleasantness—till in comes the parrot with Will's corn cob in his mouth. (And whistling "Home Sweet Home," Will claims.)

Well, Will and his wife both bust out laughing ... and made peace over a friendly glass of beer, allowing how it's pretty silly getting mad at one another's differences.

From where I sit, that's a mighty happy ending. If all of us would live and let live in a spirit of tolerance—whether it's tolerance for a parrot or a pipe—we'd be a whole lot happier and better off.

Large Attendance Seen at Summer Sessions of Minnesota University

The University of Minnesota expects again to have one of the three largest summer sessions among American universities, with two terms, June 12 to July 22 and July 24 to August 26.

"Workshop" projects in education, in which the student has contact with the actual operation of an educational program, have been popular for several years past. Among the workshops for this summer will be one in elementary education, one in higher education, a third in childhood education, and a workshop in community and school health education.

The Institute of Spanish Studies, now in its third year, will again bring together a considerable body of students interested in Latin American affairs. A Spanish house is provided, where student and teachers live, so that in addition to formal classroom instruction, they come to speak, "eat" and think in Spanish and obtain the true atmosphere.

Librarians are being invited to a special three-day institute for both school and public librarians, to be held June 28, 29 and 30 by the division of library instruction and the summer session.

Industrial health, conservation of hearing, a workshop in clinical nursing and a special program for public health nursing supervisors are also among the courses planned.

State AFL Unions Buy $1,230,900 War Bonds

AFL unions in Minnesota, with $1,230,900 of their organization funds invested in war bonds, today drew the praise of O. J. Arnold, state war bond chairman, for "wisely investing in a sound and stable future."

The figures were compiled from reports of local unions affiliated with the Minnesota Federation of Labor, according to George W. Lawson, secretary. The total, he said, is made up only of union funds and does not include any purchases made by individual union members.

Mr. Lawson said that many unions have invested their entire surplus funds in war bonds, keeping only enough in their bank accounts to pay current bills.

Good Hope F. U. Local Meets in Smiley Hall

The Good Hope Farmers Union local met at the Smiley hall on Friday evening with members from Kratka and Smiley townships attending. The chairman presided over a short business meeting and turned the program over to Bob Miller of Underwood who showed moving pictures, including an animated cartoon and a timely picture showing agricultural conditions throughout England and the warring nations. Mr. Miller discussed ways to overcome the food shortage in some parts of the world and to get even distribution. Mrs. Lahe served lunch, which was followed by a discussion period. The next meeting will be held Friday, May 19 when there will be another speaker and more movies.

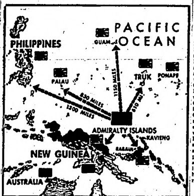
What Capture of Admiralty Islands Means



The capture of Momote airdrome on Los Negros Island in the Admiralty group by U. S. troops places the Allied forces in a strategic position to strike at the enemy in many of his Southwest Pacific strongholds. Planes and carrier task forces can make raids from the new base. Arrows show distances these units would have to travel to Palau, Truk, Guam and Philippines. Jap forces at Rabaul, Kavieng and in New Guinea (black area) are flanked.

Older People Are Now Most Subject to T. B., Health Group Reveals

"Not so long ago tuberculosis took the lives of more young women than any other group, but the tuberculosis death rate has dropped, and changed the whole picture", according to a release from the Minnesota Health association, the state Christmas seal organization.

"TB is still a mighty peril to life, but the main sources of infection today are old women and men", this news letter states.

While tuberculosis is still the greatest killer of people in the prime of life, it is stressed that there is need for case-finding methods that will find the unknown cases of the disease in older people.

"Tuberculosis runs a long course and the symptoms are more difficult to notice in older people", says this news letter, which goes on to point out that older people in the home, with unsuspected TB infection, have contact with the younger generation and can pass on the infection they do not know themselves they have.

Military Programs Are Fewer at Minnesota "U"

Prospects are that military training programs at the University of Minnesota will be considerably fewer after about June 15. At that time the last of the air corps students will be gone and two "language and area" courses, one in the Scandinavian and one in the Far Eastern area, will have come to a close. This will leave, for the Army, students in medicine and dentistry, and for the Navy, students in those subjects and in engineering. There will also be a number of pre-medical and pre-dental students. The other military program on the campus will be the large school for naval electricians mates. This was the first to be put in operation at Minnesota and has probably graduated as many as all others combined. It is on the trade school level, but teachers are of university caliber.

Minnesota Farm Bureau Boasts 42,500 Members

Pennington county has contributed toward the record-breaking membership of the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation, which recently passed the 42,500 mark, says A. G. Mereness, direction of organization. Martin county leads the list with 1,513 farm families enrolled. Meeker is second with 1,454. Eleven counties have passed the thousand mark—some with more than half of the farmers of the county enrolled.

Padden Won't Challenge Rep. Hagen GOP Filing, He Says in Minneapolis

John W. Padden of Crookston, candidate for the Republican nomination for congress in the Ninth district, said in Minneapolis he would not make a court challenge of the legality of the filing of Congressman Harold C. Hagen, former Farmer-Laborite, as a Republican. Hagen has filed for reelection.

"I'm not crying for the cops," Padden said. "The public knows the facts and the voters can decide the issue at the polls."

Padden was the Republican nominated two years ago and was defeated by Hagen running as a Farmer-Laborite. To enter the race this year, Hagen had to accompany his filing with an affidavit that he had affiliated with the Republicans two years ago.

Tax-exempt Groups Will File Returns Shortly

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Joseph D. Nunan, Jr. today advised tax-exempt organizations that the time for filing the information returns required by Section 117 of the Revenue Act of 1943 will be extended beyond May 15 in the case of 1943 returns. The revenue act of 1943 became law on February 25, and the necessary regulations and forms are not quite ready. Commissioner Nunan, therefore, said a new filing date will not be determined until it is ascertained when printed copies of forms can be made available to the organizations that need them.

Keeping Score

Beaver Relays

Burdell Merritt, Herb Claffy, Phil Beadle, Larry Rulien, Bob Baker, Sonny Johnson, Les Vigness, Allan Thompson, Brad Hanna, Oscar Brieland, and possibly Russ Curtis and Chuck Richards, are the Prowler trackmen that Coach Jones has selected for the Beaver Relays at Bemidji on Friday. The 440-yard relay team will consist of Phil Beadle, Herb Claffy, Les Vigness, and Lary Rulien; Allan Thompson, Herb Claffy, Oscar Brieland, and Burdell Merritt will run in the shuttle relay event; and the mile relay team will have Phil Beadle, Bob Baker, Brad Hanna or Lloyd Johnson, and Larry Rulien. Those teams should pick up quite a few points. In addition, the Prowlers should pick up some points in the individual events, especially in the hurdles and the middle-distance runs.

Crookston Is Favored

The Crookston Pirates, after trouncing Grand Forks Central and East Grand Forks in a tri-city meet at Grand Forks last Friday, will run in the Relays and the Prowlers will have an opportunity to match strides with the defending district champions. Pirate Coach Lloyd Osborne has a lot of manpower again this year, being able to score points in nearly every event. Bill Reynolds, who had been nursing an injured knee, is apparently whole again, for he led the Pirate scorers in the tri-city meet and he'll perhaps be the Pirates standout performer at Bemidji. Last year he and the Prowlers' Burdell Merritt had quite a duel for high-point honors in the district and regional tournaments.

The interclass track meet was run off according to form, with the Juniors rolling up a 12-point margin over the second place sophomores. But if sophomore Ninsk Carlson had been able to run, the results might have been different. Ninsk, while playing touch football earlier in the week, was spiked by Don Fretland and will be out of action until the district meet next week. Ninsk was developing into a pretty fair track man, too, being quite strong in the 220-yard dash and the low hurdles. But with all those cute babes nursing his injured foot, Ninsk should be as good as new next week.

Baseball

Tuesday evening's slight drizzle didn't discourage the junior baseball players, for they turned up at the Fair Grounds in full force and as a result they scored a 5 to 1 win over Gordy Reierson's patched up city team in an abbreviated contest. Gordy, pitching for the oldsters, held a 1 to 0 lead going into the 3rd inning, but in that frame the juniors took advantage of four errors and poled out three hits, one a triple by Swede Lund, to score five runs. Virg Evenstad and Bill McKechnie shared the hurling duties for the juniors, with Lund catching; while Gordy Reierson did the side-arming for the veterans.

Gordy says there will be a different score next Sunday, for then Wally DuChamp and T/Sgt. Johnny Jarabeck, home on furlough, will be in the city team's lineup.

Still Feuding

The Lions and the Catholic Men's bowling teams are still continuing their goodnatured "feud", and now, as a result of some "heated" correspondence, it has turned from bowling to golf, with the Catholic Men challenging the Lions to a match.

The Catholic Men—Frank Koblaska, Ernie Barzen, Father Merth, Al Archambault, Burt Brosseau, Fred Protz, and Father O'Toole—realize that the Lions' sport is, as Father O'Toole phrased it, "Spanish Basketball," but they thought Stan Larson, Doc Kaisler, Arch Hensrud, Bill Thompson and others would know enough about the rudiments of golf to accompany the Catholic Men on a nine-hole tour of the local course.

Miscellany

The district basketball results finally caught up with Bob Powell, former Prowler who's stationed in England. Bob at one time lived in Warren, so that Warren, 50; Prowlers, 20 score in the consolation game came as a shock and he knows that he's due for some kidding from his Warren friends. —Frank Steineke, border patrolman, has put in a strong claim for the honor of catching the largest bullhead on hook-and-line. Frank, fishing near the Eighth street bridge, and using angleworms, caught a 1½-pound bullhead.—And Ben Kruse has a strong claim on the rapid-fire bullhead catching honors, for he pulled in about forty bullheads in a little more than an hour while fishing near the rifle range north of town.

Oklee Man Is Awarded $12,000 in Law Suit

A jury in the accident liability case of Paul Glimcher of Oklee vs. Mrs. Fanny Fishman of Oklee returned a verdict of $12,000 in Red Lake county district court. The plaintiff sued for $25,000 damages for injuries resulting from an automobile accident that occurred near Bena in October, 1942. Glimcher was a passenger in the car, driven by Mrs. Fishman and they were en route from Duluth to Oklee. The case took three days to try in Judge Oscar Knutson's court and there was a large array of witnesses called by the plaintiff and two called by the defendant. This was the first jury trial in three years in Red Lake county.

1000 4-H WORKERS EXPECTED AT CAMP WEEK OF JUNE 5-10

Annual Event Will be Held at Northwest School in Crookston

More than one thousand boys and girls are expected to attend the 32rd annual 4-H club camps to be held at the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston during the week of June 5-10. According to Superintendent T. M. McCall, two three-day camps will be held with club members from the counties south of Polk to and including Ottertail county attending June 5-7, and counties north of Polk including Clearwater on June 8-10.

H. A. Pflughoeft, district 4-H club agent and camp leader, has announced that special emphasis at the camps will be placed on all food production and conservation projects which contribute to our war effort. Members of the Northwest School staff, State Club Leader A. J. Kittleson of St. Paul, and Extension specialists from University Farm, St. Paul will give instructions on ways and means to surpass the high food production record made by club members in 1943.

Music and one-act play groups are now rehearsing in many of the clubs of the district for the music and dramatic competitions at the club camps.

AA registrations for the 4-H club camps from the Red River Valley counties should be made through the county club agents or the county agents.

Gen. MacArthur Will Not be GOP Party Candidate

Gen. Douglas MacArthur does not covet the Republican nomination for president and will not accept it, he said Sunday in a statement. The flat statement capped a series of developments in which a Republican Nebraska congressman had urged the general to be a silent candidate and MacArthur had expressed appreciation of the interest manifested but did not make clear whether he would accept if drafted.

WAR FOOD CHIEF IS URGING MORE VICTORY GARDENS

Says Present Ample Supply of Canned Goods May be Curtailed

War Food Administrator Marvin Jones has warned civilians that the amount of canned food they will receive next year hinges largely on whether the nation's 20 million Victory gardeners do their job again this year.

Jones' assertion followed disclosure by the WFA that a "dangerous letdown" in Victory gardening is reported from many states and that higher ration point values on canned and frozen vegetables will result if "backyard" food production lags behind last year.

"Present low-point values on canned and frozen vegetables should not cause Victory gardeners to slacken their efforts this spring," Jones said.

He joined President Roosevelt and Price Administer Chester Bowles in a plea for continuation of the record 1943 home garden campaign which netted an estimated total of 8 million tons of vegetable from 20 million gardens.

"The fact that civilians are enjoying ample supplies of canned goods now is the result largely of good weather and the outstanding record made by farmers and Victory gardeners last year," the WFA chief declared.

"The amount of canned goods available to civilians at this time next year will depend largely on what the nation's Victory gardeners do in the next few weeks."

At the same time, Jones labeled the 1943 Victory garden production as "inspiring" but warned that in 1944—"based on the great national need"—it must even exceed last year's record.

Load Restrictions Are Taken Off Some Trunk Highways in Northwest

Lee Boyd, district highway maintenance engineer in Crookston, announced this week that effective Tuesday Highway 1 from Warren to Alvarado is posted with a limit of six tons per axle, while Highway 59 from the junction of Highway 32 north to Karlstad is restricted to loads of five tons per axle. Restrictions have been removed on Highway 75 from Euclid to Warren and from five miles north of Kennedy to three miles south of Noyes, as well as on Highway 32 from Thief River Falls to Greenbush and Highway 89 from Roseau to Wannaska.

2 More Agencies Served by National War Fund

Two new member agencies—National Denmark Association and American Relief for Italy—have been admitted to the National War Fund and as such will be included in the agencies for which funds will be raised here in the Minnesota War Service Fund campaign this fall, J. Cameron Thomson, state chairman of the fund, announced today.

Word of the inclusion of the Danish and Italian relief groups in the National War Fund was received today by Mr. Thomson from Winthrop W. Aldrich, president of the national fund.

This brings the number of member agencies to 19, including USO, United Seamen's Service, War Prisoners' Aid, and 16 agencies working for relief of the victims of war and refugees of the United Nations.

Great Northern Revenue Sets Record; Net Income Is Only About Average

Despite record-breaking revenues, the 1943 net income of the Great Northern railway barely exceeded the average for the years from 1901 to 1930, stockholders were informed by F. J. Gavin, president, in the company's annual report.

Return on investment was reported as four and four-tenths per cent. Dividends of two dollars a share were paid stockholders.

Funded debt was reduced $21,500,000 during 1943, and fixed charges at the end of the year were on a lower basis than at any time since the first World War.

In order to earn about the same net income as for the average from 1901 to 1930, the railroad had to increase its business by $118,000,000, which required the transportation of nearly three times as much freight and two and one-half times as much passenger business.

Comparing 1943 with the earlier 30-year average, wages were $38,000,000 higher, $4,000,000 was paid out for old age benefits and unemployment payroll taxes, and taxes were up $38,000,000. Taxes for 1943 totaled $48,461,070, or about one-fourth of the total revenue.

Brazilian Employment

Brazil's wartime industrial expansion is evident in official statistics, showing 78,000 factories and workshops operating at the end of 1942 compared with 64,000 at the end of 1940. In the same period, industrial workers increased to 958,000 from 833,000 at the close of 1940. Despite this development of industry, the overwhelming proportion of Brazilian employment remains in agricultural, stock breeding and rural industries. Employment in these lines at the end of 1942 totaled 8,860,000, nearly nine times the total employed in manufacturing industries.

Would You Hitch a Cow to a Plow?

Heavy Milking cows don't like spring work on the farm, especially if it means they will be neglected and turned out before there is feed in the pastures.

Keep these points in mind:

● TOO EARLY GRAZING HURTS MILK FLOW
● TOO EARLY GRAZING HURTS PASTURES

The cow's main job is to fill the milk pail—feed her well in spring—keep her off grass an extra week—you'll get more milk that way.

Canning Carrots

For canning carrots pick them fresh from the garden. Fifty pounds make 40 pints. For very young carrots it is not necessary to remove the skin. Just wash thoroughly, trim, and then cut into slices or put them into the jars whole. Add one-half teaspoon salt per pint jar and fill with hot water. Agitate to expel the air. Process 90 minutes for pints and 100 minutes for quarts in water bath or 30 to 35 minutes under 10 pounds pressure. Process partially sealed.

SMILEY

J. M. Theige Passes

Smiley lost one of its greatest citizens when Theige died the other day after a long lingering illness of several years. Such a man as Mr. Theige was in his day, is the kind of a man that deserves the greatest award as a "builder-upper" of cooperation. He was a great believer of cooperative efforts and a binding community spirit. Mr. Theige's public life was filled to the brim with constant leadership. He was one of the organizers and directors of the first creamery board years ago and served as president of the board for several years. He helped organize the Smiley Community club and was its first president. He also helped organize and served on the directorship of the Co-operative Oil company in town. He was the Smiley township clerk from 1912 to 1938.

At one time Mr. Theige had developed his fine herd of Holstein cattle until they were about the finest herd in the county and surrounding counties. As the years went by old age and ill health overtook him, but his spirit and his interest in public life never faltered up to his last moment. Smiley has so much to thank Mr. Theige for he alone had done the most to build the foundation of a dandy township. May his memory stand out as a monument and may he be rewarded richly in that "other place". Smiley folks do bow in tribute to a great man.

Leave in Piece

Nitrogen Rots Compost

Rotting of compost is speeded by adding a few handfuls of a complete fertilizer high in nitrogen, cottonseed meal or similar nitrogenous plant food to each layer. This is not necessary if animal or poultry manure is added, however.

Pole beans produce many more pods in the same space than bush beans; Swiss chard is the most economical of all greens because one planting will give many a meal all summer and fall; beets are really two crops in the same row—a greens crop and a root crop; some tomato varieties are more prolific than others—for example, Marglobe. In summer squash, no variety can touch Early Prolific Straightneck for taking little space in the garden and for producing a large number of fruits over a long period. Small compact cabbage heads take up a minimum of room because they can be set close together. They are to be found in the Copenhagen Market type.

Perhaps you have a long narrow strip of ground next to the fence at one side of the lot. An ideal spot for a flower border in peace time, but now possibly the only space you have for raising Victory crops. By choosing wisely and arranging well, you can have a fine array of vegetables for the table, and they will also have some ornamental value in the border.

Next to the fence at the rear of the border train up some tomato vines. They will make a green background, and the ripe fruits will lend rich color. At the sides, plant pole beans and stretch strings for them to climb. In front, group various lower-growing vegetables. Swiss chard will have a light green note; beet tops will supply a darker green with hints of red in veins and stems. Plant a grouping of carrots—the foliage is feathery and dainty, and the roots are so nourishing. Accent can be supplied in the border by means of a pepper plant at each corner, and a few cabbage heads of the small compact type will add interest here and there.

Edge at least part of the border with parsley, and the rest with dwarf flowers such as Little Gem Alyssum, bright marigolds, and Lilliput zinnias in a gay blend of colors.

SMILEY

J. M. Theige Passes

Smiley lost one of its greatest citizens when Theige died the other day after a long lingering illness of several years. Such a man as Mr. Theige was in his day, is the kind of a man that deserves the greatest award as a "builder-upper" of cooperation. He was a great believer of cooperative efforts and a binding community spirit. Mr. Theige's public life was filled to the brim with constant leadership. He was one of the organizers and directors of the first creamery board years ago and served as president of the board for several years. He helped organize the Smiley Community club and was its first president. He also helped organize and served on the directorship of the Co-operative Oil company in town. He was the Smiley township clerk from 1912 to 1938.

At one time Mr. Theige had developed his fine herd of Holstein cattle until they were about the finest herd in the county and surrounding counties. As the years went by old age and ill health over took him, but his spirit and his interest in public life never faltered up to his last moment. Smiley has so much to thank Mr. Theige for he alone had done the most to build the foundation of a dandy township. May his memory stand out as a monument and may he be rewarded richly in that "other place". Smiley folks do bow in tribute to a great man.

Leave in Piece

Nitrogen Rots Compost

Rotting of compost is speeded by adding a few handfuls of a complete fertilizer high in nitrogen, cottonseed meal or similar nitrogenous plant food to each layer. This is not necessary if animal or poultry manure is added, however.

Pole beans produce many more pods in the same space than bush beans; Swiss chard is the most economical of all greens because one planting will give many a meal all summer and fall; beets are really two crops in the same row—a greens crop and a root crop; some tomato varieties are more prolific than others—for example, Marglobe. In summer squash, no variety can touch Early Prolific Straightneck for taking little space in the garden and for producing a large number of fruits over a long period. Small compact cabbage heads take up a minimum of room because they can be set close together. They are to be found in the Copenhagen Market type.

Perhaps you have a long narrow strip of ground next to the fence at one side of the lot. An ideal spot for a flower border in peace time, but now possibly the only space you have for raising Victory crops. By choosing wisely and arranging well, you can have a fine array of vegetables for the table, and they will also have some ornamental value in the border.

Next to the fence at the rear of the border train up some tomato vines. They will make a green background, and the ripe fruits will lend rich color. At the sides, plant pole beans and stretch strings for them to climb. In front, group various lower-growing vegetables. Swiss chard will have a light green note; beet tops will supply a darker green with hints of red in veins and stems. Plant a grouping of carrots—the foliage is feathery and dainty, and the roots are so nourishing. Accent can be supplied in the border by means of a pepper plant at each corner, and a few cabbage heads of the small compact type will add interest here and there.

Edge at least part of the border with parsley, and the rest with dwarf flowers such as Little Gem Alyssum, bright marigolds, and Lilliput zinnias in a gay blend of colors.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

How Grown-Up Are Your Children?

Many people are still unconscious of the fact that a child's personality is the result of all the experiences he has met, plus the way in which he has reacted to these experiences. Families often tie their children to them with iron chains so that it makes it difficult for the child to make adjustments as an adult. A young bride of six months was heard to say, "Oh! dear, I'm so upset, my husband is apt to be called any day—you know he is in the medical corps." "You will be able to go with him while he is in this country?" a friend inquired. "Oh! that is what's bothering me, you see I just don't see how I'll be able to leave home. You know I was even homesick on my honeymoon." Here is a young person who is risking the future happiness of her married life over a situation too difficult for her to meet. There has been no attempt on the part of the family to make her an independent individual. Her one thought is of herself and how she feels. She has never been given the opportunity to get satisfactions out of thinking and serving others; as long as her desires are satisfied life is one happy song.

Even though one studies and understands the principles of behavior, and the drives back of behavior, it is hard to apply them in actual living situations. Families should see that every child has opportunities to become unselfish. The person who is self-centered will have difficulty in adjusting to any change in life. And life for many of us, especially in war time, seems to be one change after another.

Extreme homesickness is often a symptom of too close relations between members of the family and too much dependence. Many parents try to keep a child's love to themselves and encourage him to remain dependent upon them emotionally and socially. In extreme cases, such as the one just cited, this causes adult infantilism—a failure to face the responsibilities as well as the joys of life. This often makes it impossible for the individuals to form any satisfactory relationship with a member of the opposite sex. Parents should recognize their duty, not only to love and protect their children when small, but also to encourage independence at every stage of growth in so far as the children are able to assume the responsibility for their own actions.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

FEED PLANT IN CITY IS VIEWED BY L.O'L. BOARD

Entire Board in City Wednesday to Inspect New Local Project

GUESTS OF C. AND C. AT NOON LUNCHEON

John Brandt Main Speaker on Dedication Program in Afternoon

With the entire board of directors and Minneapolis officials of Land O'Lakes Creameries present for the occasion, the organization's modern block-long feed plant now nearing completion in Thief River Falls, was dedicated with appropriate exercises Wednesday afternoon.

Stuart McLeod, local Land O' Lakes manager, was in charge of the program, which included short talks by President John Brandt, Chester Johnson, manager of the feed division in Minneapolis; L. L. Getten, in charge of production; B. O. Norby of Minneapolis, first manager of the local plant; and County Agent Ernest Palmer.

Mr. Brandt stated that agriculture is the equivalent of a gigantic factory, and that farmers more and more are following thru by joining in cooperative enterprises. He said the aim of the local plant is to assemble needed materials from the nearest available points, and to process them for distribution in the Northwest, thereby effecting savings in freight and handling costs.

Chester Johnson pointed out that while Land O' Lakes is encouraging more and better pastures, farmers still must buy certain feeds to supplement those raised on the farm. Mr. Getten forecast a continued steady development in Land O' Lakes activities in future years.

Mr. McLeod declared that the new Thief River Falls plant is one of the finest in the state, and, as testimony of the need for it, he cited the fact that Land O' Lakes Creameries last year handled 360 carloads of feeds.

SOLID DELEGATION BACKS R. L. RIVER CONTROL PROJECT

Rep. Hagen Tuesday Requests Congress to Make Early Start on Work

Rep. Harold Hagen of Crookston, with backing of the entire Minnesota delegation, Tuesday in Washington called for immediate start of work on a federal flood control program in the Red river valley of northwestern Minnesota.

The project included in the omnibus flood control bill that the house approved Tuesday would cost $902,940 federal money, according to army engineers' estimates, and Hagen said local governments would contribute an additional $86,000.

The program, involving control dams and reservoirs along the Red Lake and Clearwater rivers, has been sought for "more than 30 years," Hagen told the house, "but we never before have been able to get it this far" along the road to congressional approval.

Although the bill essentially is a postwar measure, with no work on flood control projects scheduled immediately, Hagen urged that some provision be made to start construction on the Red river valley project at once "as an aid to wartime food production in one of the richest agricultural districts in the world."

Rep. Walter H. Judd of Minneapolis announced that he and the rest of Minnesota's congressmen were supporting Hagen's plea for prompt action, because "the benefits of this program should be made available even before the war is over."

Load Limits Are Raised on Norman County Roads

Lee Boyd of Crookston, district highway maintenance engineer, stated this week that load restrictions had been eased from four tons to seven tons per axle on Highway 75 from the south Norman county line to Beltrami, and on Highway 32 from the south Norman county line to the junction with Highway 31.

Annual School District Election Tuesday Night

Unless last-minute sticker candidates make their appearance, the annual election of School District 18, embracing the city of Thief River Falls, next Tuesday evening, May 16, promises to be a quiet affair. The polls in the municipal Auditorium will be open from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Unopposed for reelection for the two three-year terms are C. E. Hellquist and Alfred Skarstad, while Wm. Froiland, candidate to succeed himself for a one-year term, also is without opposition.

Voters who participate in the election also will be asked to vote on the question of authorizing the board of education to advertise for bids on the old Central school structure and to sell it for the highest cash bid submitted. The building site would not be included in the sale.

Present indications are that there will be no induction of Pennington county reservists before the first week in June, it was announced today by Arthur Berg, chief clerk of the local selective service board. Monthly Waste Paper Drive Next Saturday

Through the cooperation of the Eagles lodge the three local Boy Scout troops will make a city-wide collection of waste paper Saturday, May 13, beginning at 1:00 in the afternoon. For the present drive as well as for the first two drives the Eagles lodge makes arrangements through local business firms to provide the necessary trucks. All funds realized in the sale of paper are turned over to the local scouts.

All waste paper should be securely tied with heavy cord and set out at the curb by 1:00 in the afternoon, it was explained. Business houses which have paper which they are unable to put out at the curb should notify either the Eagles lodge or one of the local scouts. The drives will be made on the monthly basis so no special collections of paper will be made at other times except for lots of over a ton.

Much waste paper remains to be collected from the country, but owing to the practical difficulties of making a farm-to-farm canvass the farmers are urged to bring their paper in when they make their regular shopping trips to town. The paper collection depot is across the street from the arena. Just set the paper outside the depot, and it will be taken care of by one of the local scouters. The paper from the country need not be brought in at any special time, but those who are able should bring it in Saturday.

The depots will be expected to recognize requests of other hospitals for penicillin when need has been established, WPB said.

COUNCIL HOLDS SHORT SESSION TUESDAY NIGHT

Defers Action on Building Permits Aggregating $4,575

ACTS ON VACATIONS FOR CITY EMPLOYES

Mayor Douville Appoints Two Women to the Recreation Board

Applications for building permits totaling $4,575, the first of the current year, were submitted to the city council at a short May session Tuesday evening. All were referred to the building committee, which was given authority to act on the applications.

Included in the projects is a new house and garage to be built of old lumber by G. Hagenbech near the corner of Arnold av. and Third st. at an estimated cost of $2,000. The Consumers Cooperative association also plans the erection of an addition to its coal shed on the Great Northern right-of-way at a cost of $1,200. Fred Forsberg & Sons will erect a small warehouse on their property at a cost of $450.

To establish a uniform procedure in the matter of vacations for city employes, the council adopted a resolution granting a vacation of 12 working days to all workers on the monthly payroll who have served a year or longer, subject to approval of the heads of the various departments.

Also included was provision for two weeks sick leave each year, the leave not to be cumulative.

A new precedent was set by Mayor W. J. Douville when he appointed two women to the city recreation board. The new members, whose appointments were confirmed by the council, are Mrs. Frank Clinton, for a one-year term succeeding T. M. Thronson; and Mrs. Gilbert E. Gilbertson for a two-year term succeeding W. E. Dahlquist.

Mayor W. J. Douville also raised the question of the legality of members of the council doing business with the city, and asked City Attorney Theodore Quale to look up the statutes governing the subject.

The new officers were installed and took over their duties at Thursday's meeting.

GRYGLA WOMAN KILLED IN ACCIDENT ON T. H. 32

Mrs. Ernest Selle, 29, of the Grygla community was instantly killed last Thursday evening at 10 o'clock when the car in which she was a passenger collided with a trailer-truck on a curve on Highway 32 three miles north of Red Lake Falls.

Reuben Sandberg of Grygla, driver of the car, received a head injury and was rendered unconscious by the impact, but is now well on the road to recovery in a local hospital, as is Carl Lessor, also of Grygla, who was not seriously hurt. Robert Steenerson, driver of the truck involved in the accident, escaped injury.

The Sandberg car was traveling behind another car carrying Grygla people south on Highway 32, Mrs. Selle's husband having been riding in the preceding automobile. The truck was proceeding north toward Thief River Falls.

Mrs. Selle's body was thrown clear of the car by the impact, and was found lying on the roadside by Sheriff Arthur Rambeck, one of the first to reach the scene. After assisting Mr. Lessor out of the car, he notified Red Lake county authorities, in whose jurisdiction the accident occurred. It was announced that no inquest would be held.

Funeral rites for Mrs. Selle were conducted Wednesday afternoon at the St. Olaf church in Grygla, Rev. G. P. Halmrast officiating. An obituary is published elsewhere in this issue of the Times.

WALTER NELSON ENDS 40 YEARS AS RAIL MAIL CLERK

Had Served Past 15 Years on Wheat Line out of Thief River Falls

Ending a period of service as a railway mail clerk just short of forty years, Walter Nelson, since October 1, 1929 serving as mail clerk on the Thief River Falls-Kenmare line, made his last run Tuesday of this week.

The other clerks on the Wheat Line run entertained at a party honoring Mr. and Mrs. Nelson at the Rex Cafe Sunday evening. A. L. Craver, serving as toastmaster, presented Mr. Nelson with a farewell gift from his fellow workers.

Entering the railway mail service June 21, 1904, he was employed on trains between Minneapolis and Des Moines and at the Minneapolis transfer office until June, 1905, following which he served until coming to Thief River Falls on runs between Grand Forks and Havre, Montana.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson are planning to leave late this week for Pasadena, California.

Should Apply Now for Servicemen's Ballots

Official ballots for the primary election to be held in this state July 10 are now in the hands of the county auditor and are available to Pennington county personnel now in the armed services of the United States, upon proper application for such ballots being filed in the office of the county auditor.

The procedure is simple under the Minnesota statute, which was passed by the special session of the Minnesota legislature this year. Any husband or wife, parent or a brother, sister or child over 18 years of age of the person in service may file a request for ballots at the office of the county auditor and ballots will be forwarded the same day. There is no cost or expense of any sort in having your serviceman vote in the 1944 primary and general elections. Once an application is on file for primary election ballots for the November 7 election will be forwarded automatically.

There is also another way the service personnel may receive election ballots. Such serviceman may procure a post card from the officer of his company, such cards having been distributed to the services by the federal government, and sign it and then forward it to the secretary of state who in turn forwards it to the county auditor of the proper county. However the people at home who file requests for ballots need not worry about duplicate requests from the serviceman himself as the record kept in the office of the county auditor precludes any possibility of two sets of ballots being sent out to the same person.

To date only 56 requests for ballots have been filed in Pennington county and these ballots have already been forwarded. For overseas personnel, requests for ballots should be filed at once as two months is not any too long to have the ballots go overseas, be marked and returned on or before July 10. Service personnel in order to vote must be over 21 years of age. When filing requests for ballots be sure and have the service address with you said A. M. Senstad.

Fool Gardener

Many weeds fool the gardener who thinks he has destroyed them in good season. Some, like purslane and lamb's quarters, ripen seed even though they just appear to have reached blooming stage, as the flowers, and fruits which have already ripened, are inconspicuous. Others, like field mustard, mallow, and shepherd's purse may be cut or pulled when the blossoms appear, and the gardener will be assured that no seeds will be spread.

After the business session four girls, Barbara Kays, Patsy Lane, Louella Land, and Janice Stewart, presented a carnation to each mother present who had a boy in the service. Good Dairy Ration

It was found that a good grade of pea vine silage when fed with alfalfa hay and grain, makes a good ration for producing cows and growing dairy heifers. However, substituting pea vine silage for a portion of the hay does not increase milk production nor the rate of gain in young animals. The average of two feeding trials with dairy heifers shows that pea vine silage has about a third of the feeding value of alfalfa hay.

NAVY DEPARTMENT REPRESENTATIVES SEEK WOMEN HERE

To be Stationed at Employment Office from May 15 Thru 20

The chance to work in the Nation's capital in a necessary war job is offered to all Minnesota women by the navy department in Washington, D. C.

Representatives of civilian personnel of the navy department will be in Thief River Falls on May 15 through 20, at the U. S. employment service office to interview applicants. Information may also be obtained from civil service secretaries at any first or second class postoffice. Stenographers, typists and clerks are needed and qualify by passing standard civil service examinations. Salaries range from $146 to $164 a month, depending upon experience and ability.

Life as a navy civilian includes first of all transportation from your hometown to Washington, D. C., at the expense of the U. S. navy. At Union Station in Washington, a navy representative meets new employees, helps them with their baggage and takes them to the navy department.

Women of all ages are needed for these positions with 17½ the minimum age. High school seniors may qualify for navy jobs at this time and go to Washington after graduation. Persons now employed in an essential industry should not apply.

Girl Scouts Are Honored at 1944 Court of Awards

Awards for services during the past year were presented to local girl scouts at the annual court of awards held in the city auditorium Friday evening. A large crowd attended the program, which was presented by the program committee of the girl scout council headed by Mrs. A. E. Jacobson.

Mrs. Hovald K. Helseth, commissioner, announced the program which proceeded as follows: March by Marilyn Skarstad; Hiking Song, girl scouts; formal opening and presentation of colors, girl scout laws and promise, Mary Don Hylden; Star Spangled Banner, scouts and audience.

Brownies promise and sing game, led by Mrs. George Schulke; presentation of brownies wings by Mrs. George Schulke; awarding of second class badges by Mrs. Walter W. Weigelt, leader, and Mrs. Otis Wold, assistant; troop 10 proficiency badge awarded by Mrs. Floyd Olson, leader; girl scout Pep Song, "Coral Bells", and "Girl Scouts Together," led by Mrs. Weigelt.

Troop 10 proficiency badge awarded by Mrs. Hilding Peterson, leader; troop 8 proficiency badge awarded by Mary Don Hylden, leader, and Mrs. J. Lorentz, assistant.

The senior service scouts, under the leadership of Miss Barbro Teige, and her assistant, Mrs. Orrin G. Lynde, presented an interesting skit on their community service work. These girls give two hours of service work each week at the hospitals and two hours at the library.

Troop 7 proficiency badge was awarded by Mrs. Bratrud, leader, and the first class badges by Mrs. Helseth, commissioner, who also presented Jane Bresney with the coveted curved bar award. While the awards were being made, Mrs. Helseth explained the service each one represents.

Mrs. Helseth then presented three scouts with their five year pins, after which the Juliet Lowe World Friendship field march was held, at which the scouts donated their pennies and nickels to the Juliet Lowe fund. Maxine Pederson explained the procedure while the scouts marched ending in scout formation. "Taps" played by Evangelyn Iverson concluded the ceremony.

LAND O'LAKES BOARD IN CITY WEDNESDAY TO VISIT FEED PLANT

Mr. Norby recalled the early days in the development of the Thief River Falls branch, and paid tribute to the loyalty of patrons and the personnel of the plant.

County Agent Palmer complimented Land O' Lakes on its splendid new facilities, and said they would play a useful part in the development of the community.

During the noon hour a group of nearly 100 local businessmen and Land O' Lakes officials attended a dinner in the Evelyn hotel sponsored by the Civic and Commerce association. Mr. Brandt, who was presented by E. B. Benson, president of the association, introduced the visiting officials.

Paul A. Lundgren, who had assisted in the establishment of the Land O' Lakes poultry plant in Thief River Falls in 1929, told how a $40,000 issue of six per cent bonds was sold locally to finance construction of the building, and how the bonds were paid up two years later. He said that the coming of Land O' Lakes to Thief River Falls marked the beginning of this city as a concentration point for the marketing of farm products.

Mr. Brandt, responding briefly, said his organization is happy to have had a part in the development of this city, and praised the fine spirit of cooperation that made the project a success.

The day closed with a banquet in the Palm Garden Cafe tendered by Land O' Lakes to creamery managers and their wives from thruout Northwestern Minnesota.

Absorb Odors

Apples must not be stored with potatoes and other root crops as they absorb unpleasant odors when stored with other foods. Celery is also inclined to absorb odors, especially from cabbage and turnips. Onions, squash, and pumpkins should be stored in a dry place at a temperature around 60 degrees.

Synthetic Bristles

Several American manufacturers have developed synthetic paint brush bristles which are said to give such good results that they may be permanent competitors of the natural hog bristles, most of which were formerly imported from China, after the war ends. At present, the armed forces have first call on the most successful of these products of American chemistry, but ultimately they are destined also for general civilian use.

Busy Capital

Though rural for the most part, Denmark in its capital, Copenhagen, possesses a city with a population of nearly a million. This commercial center of Scandinavia is on Zealand, largest of 100 populated islands lying east of Jutland and comprising perhaps the more important half of Denmark. Normally, 15,000 fishing vessels brought in 300 tons of fish daily. Cheap, silent transportation for Copenhagen's office workers was provided by 400,000 bicycles.

Reduces File With Film

The Wilmington Institute Free Library has reduced its cumbersome, yellowing 72-year file of a local newspaper to 337 rolls of microcopy film, each about the size of a spool of thread. A total of approximately 285,000 pages of the Wilmington Journal-Every Evening, dating back to 1871, are recorded in these 337 rolls, each containing about 800 pages. They are stored in a standard file cabinet which takes up less than one 20th the space previously required for bulky volumes of the paper.

Brenner Pass

Develop New Corn

Mother's Day 1944

On Mother's day American soldiers all over the world are reminded of the many services they once took for granted at home. K. P. duty has taught them that mother's task was no easy one. These "housekeeping" pictures were taken in the Aleutians and might well inspire the following sentiments.

"Isn't this a fancy mop-wringer? But I still don't like it—it weighs about five times as much as yours. And our mess hall is about as big as our whole house. To think I used to gripe when you asked me to wash off the back porch with the garden hose."

"Sometimes, Mom, I think the army ought to make it a rule that potatoes should always be baked—with the jackets ON!"

"After a year in the army I've finally gotten so I can sew a button on a shirt, but this mending tears in pants stuff gets me. Honest, I thought all you had to do to mend a rip is sew it up. But it's a complicated affair. Probably the wrong kind of thread."

"Seems funny, my being a cook, doesn't it? I couldn't even cut a pie straight and now I'm carving meat like an expert, and cooking it too."

"I baked these cookies all by myself. It gets a bit cold nights in the Aleutians and the boys like hot cocoa or coffee with cookies to warm 'em up. The boys say they taste pretty good—but they're just kind-hearted."

Don't Ride Two on Bike, Highway Officials Warn

If a motorist came driving down the street with a passenger in his lap, he would probably be arrested for careless driving. If he had a passenger sitting on the steering wheel, very likely he would be given an examination as to his sanity. Riding a bicycle with a passenger on the handlebars is just as dangerous, says a bulletin from the safety division of the Minnesota highway department. A bicycle is made for one person. Two on a bicycle is just as bad as four in the front seat of an automobile.

TO MEET A PEAK DEMAND

With the end of the war and a return to normal relationships will come a few abnormal problems, and one of these will be new peak demands on our education facilities. It is estimated, for instance, that enrollment at the University of Minnesota will increase to 25,000, or roughly half again its present capacity. Such estimates, of course, are based on the presumption that the University will be able to provide for that many.

Knowing, as we do, that men returning from the armed forces and many others whose education has been interrupted because of the war, will seek enrollment, it is not too early to start planning how best to meet this problem.

In this planning the logical first step probably is to make a survey of all educational facilities within the state and the extent to which they can be utilized. Such a survey should include not only the University but other state owned schools such as the Agricultural and Teachers colleges, and also privately operated and denominational schools. Perhaps even the larger and better equipped high schools should be considered.

By arranging to use to the fullest extent all our present facilities we will save the cost of unnecessary expansion.

Thief River Falls was headquarters of the Land O'Lakes organization yesterday, its monthly meeting of directors being held here on the occasion of the dedication of the new feed plant. Our community owes much to this organization. First establishing itself here during the lean twenties, it has gradually extended its operations and now maintains a payroll that is among the largest in the city. As a marketing organization it has been an important factor in securing for our farmers better prices for their products, adding to the stability and the wealth of all our people. Fears are expressed occasionally of a "cooperative revolution" that will sweep private industry into the dust bin. There would be reason to fear such a "revolution" and there are those who advocate it. Revolutions seldom are constructive. But Land O' Lakes has been an example of cooperative development, not revolution. It has progressed by the trial and error method, owned by the people it serves and operated for them, with due regard for sound financial practices and without taint of political servitude or domination. Organized to improve the marketing facilities of its members, Land O'Lakes has adhered to its original purpose and is performing a useful service.

Mark this down as one year in which crops were planted earlier in our territory than in southern Minnesota. Ordinarily we are a couple of weeks behind our neighbors in the southern part of the state but this year we are ahead of them. Excessive moisture has retarded spring work thruout most of the southern and central counties while conditions hereabouts have been as close to perfect as we can hope for. It is under such conditions that we like to remind ourselves that the pay-off is not in the planting but in the harvesting.

Absent voter ballots are now available at the county auditor's office and these ballots will be mailed free to men in the service upon the application of the service man or an immediate relative. Applications for these ballots should be made at once, especially for those who are in foreign service, in order that they may be mailed out and returned by July 10. Minnesota has made it possible for all its soldiers to vote but the ballots will be mailed only upon application. If you have an immediate relative in the service take care of this chore at once.

Resembles Delaware

Denmark is about half the size of Indiana, but in topography and land use resembles Delaware. It is sandy, seaside country with no mountains and few rivers. It lives by raising crops which can be exported easily and profitably. Before the war, Denmark was one large produce farm for England, motorized refrigerator boats carrying bacon, butter, eggs and hams to Harwich in 18 hours.

Heavy Exporters

Three out of every four acres in Denmark are under cultivation. Each farm exported annually an average of $1,200 worth of agricultural products. Peacetime Denmark had half the world trade in bacon and basic one-fourth in butter and eggs.

Food Waste

Waste of food in public eating places has meant a loss of 6½ million meals daily.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

What Makes "A Real American Town?"

Visitor said to me the other day: "Joe, you've got a real American town here—a town you can be proud of."

Afterwards, I got to wondering just what he meant. We aren't much different from any other town our size. A few nice stores... a village green... and 27 blue stars on the Service Flag in Town Hall.

Not much exciting happens, either. We work hard... have our Friday evening socials at the Parish House... and the kids play baseball and go fishing...

In our private life, we live and let live. If we often disagree on politics... if some of us like beer, some buttermilk... we still respect one another's rights and opinions.

What makes our town "American"? From where I sit, it's not because we're different but because we're so much like all other towns that add up to America—where self respect and tolerance are guiding principles.

Looking Backward

1934—TEN YEARS AGO

Mrs. R. O. Norby succeeded G. H. Mayer-Oakes as president of the Parent-Teacher association.—Stockholders of the Oak Park creamery in Eastern Pennington county voted to change the name to the River Valley creamery, and made plans for starting a co-operative store.—The city council voted to acquire seven additional lots on Highway 32 adjoining the city tourist park.—Miss Ruby Ihle and Theodore T. Wold were married May 6 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Ihle.—A concert by the St. Olaf choir in the Auditorium here was enjoyed by a large audience.

1924—TWENTY YEARS AGO

Plans to establish a pickling station here were abandoned when only half the required cucumber acreage was signed up.—The city council had under consideration seven bids for supplying a new Diesel unit for the power plant.—Harley G. Swenson of Hillsboro, N. D., succeeded W. O. Braggans as district court reporter.—John L. Hamford died at the age of 63 following an extended illness.—A 34-car train filled with Mennonites passed thru this city en route from Manitoba to Mexico.

Rail Center

Long a shipping center, Copenhagen, Denmark, has also become a railroad center. By means of great bridges connecting the islands and railroad ferries where straits are too wide for bridging, trains reach Berlin in nine hours; Esbjaerg (England debarkation port on North sea) in four hours; and easily cross the narrow Oresund to Malmo, Sweden's southern railroad terminus.

Sign of Frost

It is hard to tell just when the first killing frost will strike. However the gardener usually gets fair warning. As a rule the first frost does little harm. It singes the leaves of the tender plants but leaves the fruits untouched. Once the leaf cover is gone, the gardener should lose no time in harvesting his tender crops, or the next frost will get them.

CITY TEAM WINS GAME 13-3 FROM JUNIORS SUNDAY

Lenny Lorentson, Pitching, Holds Junior Ball Club to 3 Bingles

Bolstered by the presence of Sgt. Johnny Jaranson and Cpl. Lenny Helquist in their lineup, and with Lenny Lorentson pitching, the city team veterans pounded out a 13 to 3 win over the juniors in a seven inning game Sunday afternoon. A six-run first-inning cluster, on five hits and three errors, gave the veterans an early lead.

The three hits obtained by the juniors were garnered by Allan Thompson, Virg Evenstad, and Swede Lund, with Thompson and Evenstad poling out doubles.

The two teams, according to Manager Wally DuChamp, intend to play another game next Sunday afternoon.

Tractor Sweep Rake to be Demonstrated at the Fair Grounds Thursday

A demonstration on the construction and use of a tractor-mounted carrier sweep rake will be given at the fair grounds in Thief River Falls Thursday forenoon, May 18, starting at 10:00 A. M. This demonstration will be conducted by Norton Ives, extension engineer from University Farm, St. Paul.

The type of carrier rake to be demonstrated is designed primarily for hauling hay directly to the barn and bundles to the threshing machine. It is not well adapted for bucking hay to an overshot hay stacker.

This carrier type hay rake has the main purpose of saving labor in hauling hay and bundles. Hay is carried from the windrow by the sweep rake directly to the barn or threshing machine.

The public is invited to attend the demonstration and see the machine in operation. Plans for its construction will be distributed at the meeting. A similar demonstration will be given at Red Lake Falls on the same day starting at 1:30 in the afternoon.

District Track Meet

The 31st district track and field meet will again be held in North Dakota's Memorial Stadium at Grand Forks, with the teams meeting there on Saturday in competition for the district title. Coach Lloyd Osborne's defending champion Crookston Pirates have been installed as the favorites, and on the record they are entitled to that rating.

While the Prowlers will have a slight advantage in manpower, having 18 boys entered in the meet to the Pirates 15, Crookston has the more tournament-tested performers and should collect a greater number of first-place points. Coach Osborne expects his captain, swarthy Bill Reynolds, to win three firsts, in the broad jump, the 220-yard dash, and the 440-yard run, and to add some counters in the weight events. The Prowlers' captain, Burdell Merritt, scoring in the hurdles, the high jump, and the discus and shot put, will run Reynolds point-for-point, and may edge out the Pirate for individual honors.

With fair track and weather conditions prevailing, it is possible that a number of new district track records will be established. All the teams have had the benefit of considerable outdoor practice, and that should enable the middle-distance and mile runners to turn in "fast" time. And the Pirates big Dick Sprague may threaten Butch Kimblin's shot put mark and Keith Thorson's discus record.

Little Bill Ericson's records in the 100 and 220 yard dashes appear to be beyond reach; and so do the marks that Prowler Bruce Biddick recorded in the high and low hurdles in 1941 and 1942.

Bowling Party

The City Bowling association will hold its annual supper and party, which officially closes the bowling season, next Tuesday evening. And this year, as an innovation, the banquet will be held in the club house at the golf course. The committee preparing the meal—Oscar Cerny, Ed. and Wally Carlson—states that the supper will be ready for the table at 7:00 P. M. sharp.

A number of the bowling trophies have already arrived, and it is expected that the rest will be here in time for presentation at the banquet. Oen's Wally DuChamp will probably need a truck in order to cart home all the trophies that he won this past year. Wally had the high average on the city champion Oen's team, the high individual average for the city bowling league, and he won the city singles bowling championship. Now if these trophies only were 12 gauge shotgun shells; No. 5 shot, he'd be sitting pretty.

And by holding the party at the golf club, the Lions and the Catholic Men will have an opportunity to complete the details for that epic golf match that's in the offing. Judging by the number of "insulting" letters that's being exchanged by the two teams, they'll have writer's cramp by the time they reach the first tee.

Lesson No. 1

The city's veteran ball players gave the junior ball players lesson No. 1 last Sunday, winning by a 13 to 3 score, and there will be another lesson coming up next Sunday, or so the veterans claim.

With Sgt. Johnny Jaranson and Cpl. Lenny Hellquist in the lineup, and with Lenny Lorentson pitching, it seemed like old times. Johnny's furlough is about over and he won't be in the lineup on Sunday; but Cpl. Jesse DuChamp, home on convalescent leave, will be at shortstop or third base.

Lake Trout

Local anglers, by rail, by bus, and by car, are this week beginning the exodus to Crow lake and other Ontario lakes for the lake trout fishing. Bill Parbst and Oscar Ellingson are leaving tomorrow for Hanson's on Crow lake, and they figure they'll get there just as the lake ice breaks up. Bill claims that he has a "secret" bait that will enable him to catch a bigger trout than Oscar will be able to bring to the boat.

Lincoln Arnold, John Lind, and Al Berge are planning on leaving this week-end for Crow lake, and they will rent a boat at Clark and Crombie's and then set up a camp on one of the outlying islands. Harold Olson and Dick Hornseth will head towards the Sioux Narrows and the Whitefish bay territory.

On Sunday, Paul Lundgren and Helmer Bauman, with Red Johnson and Wilbur Lyran from Bemidji, will board the Soo Flyer, bound for Quibell, via Winnipeg, to fish the Cliff lake vicinity.

STATE REVENUE FUND WILL END YEAR IN BLACK

Unexpected Rise in Liquor Tax Helps to Put Funds in Balance

Aided by unexpected support from Minnesota drinkers, the state will be able to close the present fiscal year on June 30th with a free cash balance of $1,343,442 in its general revenue fund, a revised estimate by the state department of administration made public this week disclosed.

Faced with a decline in liquor tax receipts and a few other items below amounts estimated when the Legislature made its appropriations, state fiscal officers for a time feared the general revenue fund might not be able to go through the fiscal year without a deficit. Liquor tax receipts for the first quarter of the fiscal year fell to $1,169,389, compared to $1,822,479 in the corresponding period of the previous year, and T. G. Driscoll, commissioner of administration, reduced the estimated income from this source for the current fiscal year to $3,800,000. Returns from the tax had been as high as $6,210,270 in the year ending June 30, 1942, and $5,856,910 for the year ending June 30, 1943.

But Minnesota drinkers apparently were only temporarily set back by the growing shortage in supplies of their favorite brands of scotch and bourbon. Purchases of other types of liquor began to make up for much of the loss with the result that Mr. Driscoll was able to estimate this week, with three quarters passed, that return from the liquor tax for the year ending June 30 will reach $5,000,000.

Consumers Are Urged to Stock up Early on Next Winter's Supply of Coal

Industrial consumers of bituminous coal, particularly war plants are urged by David J. Winton, regional director of WPB in Minneapolis, to buy and store maximum amounts of coal during the coming months in anticipation of a serious deficit in supply for the twelve months starting April 1, 1944.

An open letter to coal consumers points out that in 1941, '42 and '43 when the government had requested summer coal buying, an adequate mine supply of bituminous coal was in prospect. Now the position is far more serious. The solid fuels administration for war forecasts a deficit for the coming year between coal production and requirements of at least 25,000,000 tons, perhaps even 45,000,000 tons if manpower in the mines is seriously diminished by draft requirements, said Mr. Winton.

"It is thus imperative that all industrial consumers place orders for coal without regard to their seasonal requirements and in a manner such as to keep the mines of the nation working full time every day of the year," Mr. Winton said.

RATION BUTTER BY ITSELF, SAYS LAND O'LAKES PRESIDENT

Would Provide More Equitable Distribution, Says John Brandt

OPA's recent move to eliminating all meats except beefsteak and roasts from rationing, will not loosen spending of red ration points so much as the public at first took for granted, since 30 points now have to last as long as 60 did previously, John Brandt, president of Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., declared today.

"Butter always should have been rationed by itself," Mr. Brandt stated. "It should not have been bracketed with meats or any other commodity. If butter were separately rationed, any reduction or increase in points would directly affect the amount available to the consumer. There would be a sure gauge on equitable distribution and an accurate control in relation to available butter stocks so that everyone with butter points could be sure of getting butter.

"As to the elimination of points for all meats except beefsteak and roasts," Mr. Brandt revealed, "it may appear on the surface that this elmination is a liberation of points for the purchase of butter. But it doesn't work out that way. Actually, it is not as liberal as the public may at first have expected because 30 points will now have to be stretched to last four weeks. Originally, we had 60 points for the four weeks.

"Yet," said Mr. Brandt, "because butter was originally grouped with meats and other fats under red-point rationing, OPA's present action was really the only reasonable way to apply the eliminated meat points to butter. Otherwise, if the meat points had been released without an extension of time of their use, all these points may have shifted to butter and, in very short order, we would have exhausted our available butter supply.

Reverend Affeldt has previously married eight daughters and four sons.

DUCK BUILDS NEST IN TREE TRUNK

Granite Falls. — Paul Teach, East Side naturalist and, occasionally, teller of tales that are true even though hard to believe, had a new one a few days ago. First of the mallard ducks that calls the Minnesota river at Granite its home made it's nest in the hollowed-out center of a big cottonwood stump. A few days later, apparently unable to find the nest, the duck flew up to to the crotch of a nearby tree and laid an egg. The egg couldn't balance on this perch so it fell to the ground where it lay in proof of Paul's tale.

COUNTY AGENT HAS BULLETIN GIVING TIPS ON POTATOES

Gives Hints on Recommended Varieties for Planting This Year

Potatoes are an important wartime food which many people will want to raise this year, says County Agent Ernest Palmer. More popular than any other vegetable in the American home, potatoes can be grown on any soil suitable for general garden crops.

Recommended for garden planting in all parts of Minnesota are the early varieties Warba and Cobbler. Midseason varieties such as Chippewa and Pontiac are generally satisfactory, though not as high in quality. Late varieties are not recommended for the home garden except that Sebago may be useful where late blight disease is a serious problem.

Certified seed should be used, says E. M. Hunt, extension horticulturist at University Farm. The added expense is more than justified by the higher yield and better quality of crop.

Plow or spade the soil and fertilize it in the usual way for the garden. Plant as soon as the frost is out of the ground and the soil is dry enough for good seedbed preparation. Cut potatoes into blocky, uniform pieces about the size of a hen's egg, being sure that each piece has at least one eye. To prevent rotting, plant the seed immediately after cutting.

Seed pieces should be planted four to five inches deep, spacing 14 inches apart. The distance between rows will depend on the method of cultivation to be used. Hand-cultivated rows may be spaced as close as 24 to 30 inches while horse or tractor cultivated rows are usually spaced 30 to 36 inches. A 100-foot row of potatoes, planted with eight pounds of seed, should yield one to two bushels.

Growing Potatoes in the Home Garden, extension folder 125, is the answer to the problem of how to raise potatoes successfully in small plots. Get your copy at the county extension office or write to Bulletin Room, University Farm, St. Paul 8.

American Bible Society Experiences Big Demand for Bibles in Past Year

So great has been the call for the Scriptures during the last year, from both the civilian and the military, that, notwithstanding, a record publication in this country in 1943, the American Bible society found at the end of the year that the stock of many of its books, especially those imported from abroad, was down to the lowest quantities in over a generation.

This was reported at the 128th annual meeting of the Society held on May 11 at the Bible House, the society's headquarters in New York City.

Along with other publishing firms a primary problem of the Society last year was to secure a sufficient supply of paper. In order to stretch the available paper to cover as many copies of the Scriptures as possible, smaller sized books on thinner paper were favored at the expense of larger and heavier volumes.

LITTLE PIG TO MARKET; BUYS A WAR BOND

Sleepy Eye. — Dennis Murphy, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Murphy, today owns a $50 War Bond all because "this little pig went to market." The 190-pounder which went to market and brought money for the bond had put up a very good struggle in its five months of life. When it was three weeks old it was found in the hog house with two broken legs, one front and one hind, and nearly starved. The family dog was moved from its house and the piggy comfortably installed in the "dog house" and put on a milk and syrup diet. The bones mended with very careful care on the part of the whole Murphy family.

You Know the Minuteman . .
Now . . . Meet the Missus

The hand that rocked the cradle had to have a good trigger finger, because the Minuteman's wife often did her "marketing" in the forest with a gun. She was a Jill of all trades, too—cook, spinner, weaver, pork salter, candle maker, baker, laundress and gardener.

How are her great, great granddaughters doing? Very well, thank you. Some are serving with our armed forces. Some work in war plants. Others grow Victory Gardens, preserve fruits and vegetables, cook, serve, sew . . . save fats, cans and paper . . . make things last, wear them out and do without. They carry their own bundles, keep the family cheerful—in a word, they are doing their share to win the war by taking over on the home front—for their husbands and sons.

The women of America have proved their resourcefulness in the kitchen in countless ways. Many have discovered that a glass of cold, golden Budweiser makes their simple wartime meals taste better.

In addition to supplying the armed forces with glider and bomber fuselage frames, wing parts, gun turret parts and foodstuffs, Anheuser-Busch produces materials which go into the manufacture of: Rubber • Aluminum Munitions • Medicines • B Complex Vitamins • Hospital Diets • Baby Foods • Bread and other Bakery products • Vitamin-fortified cattle feeds • Batteries • Paper • Soap and Textiles—to name a few.

...or how friends are made in the R.A.F.

Have a "Coke" is a friendly greeting among R. A. F. flyers back at early dawn from a night mission. It's like a salute among comrades in arms that seals the bonds of friendship in Plymouth, England, as in Plymouth, Mass. It's an offer as welcome on an English airfield as it is in your own living room. Around the globe, Coca-Cola is spreading the custom of the pause that refreshes,—has become a happy symbol of good-hearted friendliness in many lands.

Let Fruits Stand

To harvest any but the most tender vegetables before the first frost would be a mistake. Not only do they make additional growth on warm sunny days, but they also keep much better standing in the garden than they do in a storage cellar which is too warm. In fact, most disappointments from home storage have come from harvesting winter vegetables too early.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Parents Beware!

If there is anything in this world that makes a person trained in child care want to clap his hands over his ears and shout, "Don't say it!" it is when he realizes a parent is about to discuss the misdemeanors of his child in the presence of the youngster. The other evening a three-year-old lad made it practically impossible for his parents and their guests to carry on a conversation. He persisted in jumping off the arm of the davenport, making a great clatter when he landed.

His father, a bulky six-footer and a former college athlete, looked on helplessly. Finally, he said shamefacedly, "That boy jumps all the time. He even jumps off the kitchen table, but I can't stop him." One task set this young father as his share in the child's care, is to put the lad to bed every night. Along about eight-thirty or nine, he will remark to anyone who happens to be within earshot, "Well, I suppose I'd better begin putting the kid to bed, because it usually takes me at least two hours to convince him he has to stay there."

This same little boy ran away one morning recently. His mother searched frantically for him. Many of the neighbors joined in the search, and as a last resort the police were called. When this large assembly finally caught up with the boy, he was not one whit upset by his experience, but apparently impressed. Instead of trying to make the child understand he had disobeyed by going out of bounds, his mother caught him up, all the time sobbing, "Oh, my baby, my poor baby!"

Since that morning, this woman's conversation has concerned itself almost exclusively with the running away; how worried she was, and what a naughty boy her son is. Nevertheless, she ends every lament by saying, smilingly, "But of course Jack is just a real boy, and is looking for adventure and excitement." As a matter of fact, this child has been brought up hearing tales of his naughtiness told and retold to any and all who will listen. He stands around looking self-satisfied and happy as he listens to an account of his most recent escapade.

Is it any wonder that he is becoming increasingly disobedient and difficult to manage? You may remark, "Oh, but that is not a typical family." Probably not, but do note how frequently parents talk about the poor eating habits, or poor sleeping habits of their children, when the children are present. Also note how unusual it is for a child to receive recognition for good behavior.

Children crave attention and often deliberately misbehave in order to get into the spotlight. Small children tend to be self-centered. Constant discussion about them and their behavior prolongs and intensifies this interest in self at the time, when a child should be turning his interests away from himself toward other people and the objects in his environment.

Income Rises

While personal taxes have increased from about three billion dollars in 1940 to an estimated 16 billion in 1943, total income payments to individuals increased during the same period from 76 billion dollars to at least 140 billion.

Curls From Moisture

When a thin section of wood (about ¼ to ⅛ inch thick) is moistened with water on one end-grain face, the piece will begin to curl away from the moist side. This is due primarily to the force produced by swelling of the wood fibers on the wet side. If half the length of a strip 12 inches long is treated with a good water-repellent solution which resists the penetration of water, that portion of the wood will remain straight while the untreated half will curl.

NEWFOLDEN

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR MRS. OLE AUNE

TWENTY-FOUR DIE IN APRIL TRAFFIC MISHAPS IN STATE

6 Grade Crossing Fatalities Bring Urgent Plea for More Caution

Twenty-four deaths due to motor vehicle traffic accidents in Minnesota in April have so far been reported to the state highway department. This is 3 more than in April, 1943, but 11 less than the average April fatalities in the 1934-43 decade.

Motor vehicle-train collisions took the heaviest toll. Six deaths in grade crossing accidents in April brought from the Minnesota editors' traffic accident reduction committee, an urgent plea to motorists to stop or slow down, look and listen, every time they approach a crossing, in order to avert tragedies of this type.

Four occupants of motor vehicles were killed when their cars went off the road and overturned, two were killed in collisions of motor vehicles, and two when cars struck bridge piers or abutments.

Five adult pedestrians were killed in traffic accidents, three of them while crossing streets and two while walking along highways. Contrary to the general rule, none of the pedestrian victims were aged persons, the ages ranging from 18 to 55.

One boy on a bicycle was among the April victims, the first bicycle-motor vehicle fatality since 1942. Three youngsters were killed while walking or playing in the road and one when he fell from a truck in which he was hitching a ride.

Fatalities for 1944 now total 100, compared to 66 for the same months in 1943. The record, however, is better than in the same months in previous years.

Named for Governor

The Mogollon mountains of New Mexico were named for Don Juan Ignacio Flores Mogollon, 18th century Spanish governor.

Small Quarters for a Large Man

It was late, and Donald Nelson, head of WPB, was sleepy, but the bunk assigned to him aboard an LCT (landing craft tank) was so small, apparently never intended for a man of Nelson's heft. He spent the night aboard the LCT going from Solomons Island, Md., to Little Creek, Va., with a labor party inspecting East Coast amphibious bases.

243 N. W. SCHOOL PUPILS CARRYING ON HOME PROJECTS

Receive Credit for Work Done During the Summer at Their Homes

A total of 243 students of the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston are now doing summer project work for credit in the homes and on the farms of Red River Valley counties. According to Superintendent T. M. McCall, supervised home project work on the farms supplements the work offered in the classroom and permits the student to get some school credit while doing essential farm work.

Boys are enrolled in 27 different projects with pure seed potatoes and other food production projects ranking high in enrollments. Students are enrolled in projects covering all phases of livestock and poultry production, gardening, tree planting, tractor and combine operation and collection projects. A total of 84 girls are enrolled in first, second and third year home economics projects.

A new project which is arousing considerable interest is "The use of electricity on the farm" for which state prizes are offered. Students located along rural electrification lines and others with individual power and light plants are constructing and using electric arc welders and finding other new uses for electricity in this project.

Home Project supervisors A. O. Naplin and H. W. Soderburg will inspect the home project work of each student two to three times during the summer.

Legion Posts to Join in WAC Recruiting Drive

As members of the Women's Army Corps marked the second anniversary of the WAC, some 490 Minnesota American Legion posts and their auxiliaries prepared to co-operate in enrolling eligible women in the Women's Army Corps.

Hubert Cave, state department commander, and Mrs. A. L. Christenson, state auxiliary president, pledged that the posts and their auxiliaries will aid recruiting, in a statement issued at St. Paul today.

The Women's Army Corps, first of its kind in American military history, was formed by act of congress May 14, 1942. Its members are today filling more than 230 important jobs in the army air forces, the army ground forces and the army service forces.

Each Legion post is being asked to enroll at least three Wacs, Mr. Cave state.

THIEF RIVER FALLS

And Keep Your Letters Cheerful

Here is one of our most important wartime duties. Write a cheerful letter to your service man or service woman every day.

It doesn't take much time; in fact, after you get in the habit, it's easier than writing once a week. Maybe you're tired, maybe you're busy, but take just a few minutes out. You don't have to make it long—the shortest note, telling what the family is doing, and the news of the neighborhood and his friends, is a great morale-builder—and remember, high morale is one of the essentials in the equipment of every fighting man.

It takes just a cheerful word, a three-cent stamp, and a few minutes of your time every day to put your service man or service woman on top of the world! Please do it today!

HIGHWAY DEPT. TO OPEN BIDS JUNE 2 ON T. H. 59 WORK

Bituminous Surface Will be Repaired between T. R. Falls and Brooks

An extensive program of highway repairs and reconditioning by maintenance contracts is planned for the coming summer, it is announced by M. J. Hoffman, commissioner of highways. Unlike normal years, however, the program is not expected to result in any general betterment to the trunk highway system, but is intended only to repair some of the damage done by the 1944 spring breakup and to restore a considerable mileage of highways approximately to their original condition. The program includes three main phases:

About 400 miles of base repair and bituminous wearing surface on the most seriously damaged sections of trunk highways.

Retreatment of approximately 1,950 miles of bituminous surfaces.

Bids on nine projects, totaling 103.8 miles, the first in the base repair and bituminous wearing surfaces program, will be received at the Department of Highways offices in St. Paul, June 2. Included is 22.3 miles on Highway 59 between Thief River Falls and Brooks, involving 420,168 gallons of bituminous material and 20,688 tons of mineral aggregate.

No new bituminous treatments by maintenance are planned for 1944. This is in line with the general policy of doing less and less betterment work by the maintenance division, especially during the war.

COUNTY BONDS REFINANCED AT NEW LOW RATE

PROCEEDS USED TO RETIRE 4 PCT. ISSUE

Board Hopes to Reduce Net Debt by Over $50,000 During 1944

Testifying to the improved credit rating enjoyed by Pennington county at this time, together with current low interest rates, the county board at an adjourned session last Thursday sold a $42,000 issue of refunding ditch bonds on the basis of an interest rate of one and one-fourth per cent, with a premium of $270, making the net rate 1.16 per cent, the lowest rate ever secured on county obligations.

The bonds, which will mature serially from 1947 to 1954, were purchased by the Allison-Williams company of Minneapolis, highest of five bidders. The proceeds will be used to retire bonds now drawing four per cent interest, thus representing a substantial annual saving to the county.

The sale of the refunding issue, Auditor A. M. Senstad explained, will not interfere with plans to make a net reduction in the outstanding county debt this year, as has been done in recent past years. He stated that the board anticipates a net slash in the debt of slightly more than $50,000 by the end of 1944.

Before adjourning last Thursday the board voted its usual appropriation of $75 to the American Legion to aid in financing the Memorial Day observance May 30.

Sale of 12 million Buddy Poppies is the V. F. W. goal for 1944 and reaching that goal is vital to the welfare of those who are serving the armed forces, Commander Huseth announced today.

Every cent collected through the sale of V. F. W. Buddy Poppies in 1944 will aid in rehabilitating the wounded men of this war as well as those who have fought under the Stars and Stripes in previous wars. The sale of Buddy Poppies also makes possible the V. F. W.'s program of assistance to veterans' dependents, their widows and orphans.

DRAFT STATUS OF MEN OVER 26 IS EXPLAINED

ACTION DEPENDENT ON COURSE OF WAR

Men Must be Engaged in Essential Work to Secure Deferment

"A very substantial number" of the estimated 24,000 men in Minnesota over 26 years of age now classified 1-A will be considered for reclassification by local draft boards as result of new selective service regulations, Col. J. E. Nelson, state selective service director, said Friday.

Nelson's statement was issued following his return from a conference of state draft directors with Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey in Washington.

Pointing out the entire draft program is subject to revisal with possible changes in "the fortunes of war," Nelson explained the new regulations were made possible by a sharp slackening in manpower requirements of the armed services.

Not at liberty to divulge specific monthly draft calls for Minnesota, he revealed the June call will be about 60 per cent of the May call, with the July quota still smaller. This trend will continue, he said, barring unforeseen developments on the fighting fronts.

On May 1, Nelson said, 28,000 Minnesota men were classified 1-A. Of that total, an estimated 24,000 are over 26, he said.

To be considered for temporary deferment, however, the men must be engaged in war production or hold useful jobs in the civilian economy, he emphasized.

He said local boards will continue to reclassify many young farmers in the 18 to 25 age group and these men, in most cases, must show greater necessity than previously to be granted additional deferments.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare,
University of Minnesota

Do You Know Your Child

Some parents have a preconceived idea of what they wish their children to be. This is often true when there is but one child in the family. Recently the mother of a seven-year-old boy began to worry over whether or not her child would be able to enter a profession. The boy is now in the first grade and doing very acceptable work. But she knows that already as he advances in school the competition will become keener and she is beginning to fear that he will not make the grade.

In these times of rapid change, it is more difficult to anticipate the problems that children will meet in the future than it was a generation or two ago. The best preparation for the future is to live fully and adequately today, for the tomorrows are built upon the today's. Each child has certain potential abilities that are his alone. The best that parents or society can do is to expose him to an environment that will help him to develop his capacities and give him an opportunity to do that for which he is well fitted.

But it is borrowing trouble to begin to think about a precise profession for a boy aged six years. This boy should have freedom to develop his abilities without too much pressure from the outside or an attempt to mold his life into any particular pattern. This does not mean that parents should not have a long time plan—but that any plan should be elastic or flexible. And the time to begin thinking about a profession is some twelve years later, when the boy enters college.

As a child grows, his needs change. Parents should be familiar with the different phases of growth and development in order to provide the proper environment. Regardless of the conditions the child will meet in the future, there are some personality and character traits that are essential to his good living and to success in any vocation, such as self-control, independence, honesty, and self-reliance. Emphasis upon the development of habits and attitudes appropriate to the child's level of development will accomplish much more in the long run, than too early forcing the child into a particular mold that satisfies only the parent's wishes.

April Business in City Drops Below 1943 Level

The volume of April business in Thief River Falls as measured by bank debits was 7 per cent below that of April 1943. Totals for the first four months of this year were 21 per cent above the same period of last year. Bank debits represent the volume of checks drawn by depositors against their bank accounts and reflect cash income received by farmers and government spending to cover payrolls and purchase war materials. In a given locality the volume of debits is considered to be a good indicator of general business trends.

Keep on Buying War Bonds and Stamps!

Si Sez:--

Stan Larson and I don't fight BUT we don't always agree.

Stan thinks that you have to keep showing pictures of merchandise and quoting prices in advertising.

I don't believe that myself. Some folks buy on a price basis but most folks—who are proud of their homes—buy quality—something they can take pride in—something they can brag about a little when their friends call.

Quality can't be bought everywhere—at least quality furniture cannot. You know that as well as I do.

There are a lot of quality buyers in this territory—that's proved by Poppler's fine business here. It has been wonderful.

I tell Stan that you folks must like Poppler's store—you must like Stan and Con Lidstrom, the friendly treatment that you get, and the certainty that what you buy will please you—always.

Sometime when you're talking to Stan or Con, tell them whether Stan or the "Old Man" out here at the San is right.

Thanks a lot,
Si Poppler.

FARM LOAN GROUP REDEEMING STOCK IN SUM OF $22,000

Payments Are Being Made at Warren by J. W. Sands, Secretary

More than $22,000 is being paid out to 160 farmers of Pennington county and surrounding territory, says J. W. Sands, secretary-treasurer of the Northwest National Farm Loan association. The payments made at the association office at Warren, represents the full par value of stock which farmer members bought when they got their federal land bank loans years ago, and which was expected to be repaid to them or credit on their loans when they repaid their loans in full.

Secretary Sands says the redemption was not made at that time on account of heavy losses which some of the associations had suffered for the reason that members were unable to pay installments on their loans because of drouth, low prices and other causes. The losses taken by the associations made it impossible to pay out the cash necessary to redeem the stock at that time. Now with the new plan for strengthening the associations provided by the Federal Land Bank of St. Paul, the associations having their office at Warren are now able to take up these certificates of stock ownership.

Sands said this puts the associations in line to carry out the cooperative functions intended by congress when it established the federal land bank system in 1916. The territory served from the Warren office includes Pennington, Red Lake, Marshall, Kittson and Roseau counties. The office handles 981 loans amounting to $2,593,000. Directors of the Northwest National Farm Loan association which serves these counties are as follows: A. C. Knudsen, president, Warren; A. F. Hayes, vice president, Roseau; B. B. Hammer, Thief River Falls; Max Meyer, Red Lake Falls; and A. V. Hunt, Hallock.

STATE PERMANENT SCHOOL FUND NOW UP TO 100 MILLION

Treasurer Schmahl Notes New Milestone in State Trust Funds

A memorial full of significance to the boys and girls and their parents in every community in Minnesota was observed this past week when, on the anniversary of Minnesota's admission to the union May 11th, State Treasurer Julius Schmahl reported to Governor Edward J. Thye that the permanent school trust fund, set up as a perpetual endowment for common schools of the state by Minnesota's founders, and reached $100,000,134.

From the interest earned by this fund, money has come in increasing amount over the years to help support the schools here and in every other community in the state. For 1943, the apportionment amounted to about $8 for each pupil in our public schools, and the amount will grow, for Mr. Schmahl envisioned the day in his report to the governor when the total trust fund may reach $200,000,000.

Pleased with the report, Governor Thye said:

"All Minnesota citizens must be grateful for the vision and wisdom of the men who developed the Minnesota trust funds and the long list of officials who have protected them through the years. It is a dramatic story of the fine results that can accrue from farsighted action on the part of public officials."

Though stressing particularly the milestone which the permanent school fund had achieved in passing the $100,000,000 mark, Treasurer Schmahl's report brot out that impressive gains have been made during the past year in the permanent University fund, internal improvement fund and swamp land funds. Total trust funds of the state, nearly all of which is set aside for educational purposes, now have reached $129,112,265, his report showed, compared to $123,931,928 on June 30, 1943.

More Details Obtained on Fatal T. H. 32 Crash

The fatal car-truck collision on Highway 32 north of Red Lake Falls May 4 that took the life of Mrs. Ernest Selle of Grygla occurred on a straight stretch of the highway and not on a curve, as stated in last week's issue of this paper, the Times has learned. It also was Robert Stenerson, driver of the truck, who assisted Carl Lessor out of the car driven by Reuben Sahlberg of Grygla, and not Sheriff Arthur Rambeck as first reported.

Mrs. I. Papermaster of Fargo, N. Dak., is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Milton D. Starkow.

North Dakota's plan for a diversion of Missouri River water through the Devils Lake watershed is objected to by cities located farther down the river that have plans of their own for the development of river navigation. If it is not possible to use the river for both purposes then the North Dakota plan appeals to us as having most merit. In fact we can see little merit in the idea of developing the stream for navigation purposes while the idea of diverting a part of the waters for the uses of semi-arid North Dakota has many reasons to justify it. Minnesota should support North Dakota in its effort to secure a diversion project.

Charles Cheney, Minneapolis Tribune political writer, calls attention to the need for a departure from the present practice of fixing the salaries of county officials by special legislative acts so written that they apply only to one county. Such acts have been declared illegal but each of them remains in effect until it is ruled out by the courts and as a result there is no uniformity in the salary scales of the counties thruout the state. As Mr. Cheney points out, this is a problem that should be handled by the members of the county boards, who are selected by the people to manage the affairs of their county. A general law setting up certain limitations according to area and valuation, and giving the county boards authority to fix salaries within these limitations, would no doubt be an improvement over the present mess and it certainly would relieve the legislature from a disagreeable chore.

Over a period of several months a total of $150 has been deposited in the milk bottles placed in stores by the American Legion for contributions to its cigarettes-for-soldiers fund. Considering the fact that these contributions are voluntary, the total is surprisingly large. This money has now paid for 3,000 packages of cigarettes to be distributed free to the men overseas and each of these packages carries a greeting from the community. The milk bottles are doing a swell job.

This week's suggestion for what the community needs is a get-out-the-vote organization to function a few days before each election. Only 33 citizens expressed themselves in the school election Tuesday night. *Such a light vote might be interp*reted as indicating a lack of interest in our school system, but the cause is more apt to be an indifference due to a general satisfaction with things as they are. Any election that is not talked about receives little attention.

Striking foremen in the Detroit area caused a serious curtainment in the production of essential war products. Their strike was in direct defiance of War Labor Board orders. By their action they caused idleness among many who wanted to work. But the government has not ordered soldiers to carry these strikers out of their picket line seats so that those who wished to work could so so. Apparently the government resorts to the use of the armed forces at home only when aged company presidents must be evicted.

Resumption of operations in Italy no doubt is the beginning of the long-looked-forward-to attack on fortress Europe, and large scale offensives can be expected to get under way at other points at any time. Any guess as to where the next attack will be made can be nothing more than a guess, but it seems reasonable that it will be made on a sector that offers the best possibilities for a successful landing. The belly side of France and Yugoslavia are our choice.

Only Limited Civilian Goods Production Held Possible in Near Future

Emphasizing war production still is the most important job confronting the nation, and that nothing must interfere with it, Donald D. Davis, vice chairman of the War Production Board, D. C., said in Minneapolis Wednesday night: "We must make up our minds to the fact that only very limited civilian production will be possible until defeat of Germany."

"We are still fighting an all-out war and we are at this moment being called upon for our greatest effort," Davis declared. "Some people seem to have the feeling the production end of this war is about over. I do not believe that feeling is very widespread; nevertheless, it is common enough to lead some of our people to believe we can return in the immediate future, on a pretty large scale, to ordinary peacetime production. I believe that in some quarters the impression exists that volume production of many types of civilian goods can begin almost any day. Let me say, therefore, as emphatically as I know how to say it, that reconversion is not yet in sight.

"The war has still got to be won. There cannot be any substantial readjustment in returning to civilian production as long as our military programs are at their present size, and as long as our important centers of war production have an acute manpower problem."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

New Version of an Old American Tradition

We were sitting on Ed Carey's porch, enjoying a friendly glass of beer, when a squadron of fighter planes goes over—in tight formation—swift and trim and powerful.

"There," says Ed proudly, "goes an 'American Tradition.'" "What do you mean, tradition?" Eben Crowell says. "America's a hundred sixty years old—flying's the newest thing there is."

"But those planes," says Ed—"they're the best in the world—the best made and the best flown. That's what I mean by an American tradition: making things, doing things, just a little better, whether it's an airplane or a railroad or a glass of fine American beer like that."

And from where I sit, Ed has put his finger on what makes America great—and will keep her great. The urge to do things just a little better—from the planes we make to the glass of beer that we enjoy. Things to be proud of—all of them!

Official figures compiled by the war and navy departments show that the death rate from wounds from Pearl Harbor until March 31 of this year was only 3.1 per cent; in the last war the rate was 7.6 per cent.

With the exception of Albania, Bulgaria is the smallest of the Balkan nations. It had an area in 1939 of a little less than 40,000 square miles, about equal to that of the State of Virginia. It occupies, however, a significant cross-link position between Rumania and Greece on one hand, and Jugoslavia and Turkey on the other.

STATE DIVISION REPORTS ON GAME BAGGED LAST FALL

Total of 225,000 Hunters Got 1,771,328 Ducks During Past Season

Waterfowl hunting in Minnesota last fall was much better than many sportsmen believed, according to an analysis of small game report cards released today by the state division of game and fish.

This report reveals that 225,000 hunters took 1,771,328 ducks, as compared with the 1942 take of 2,192,050 waterfowl by 270,000 hunters. Although the 1943 kill is 20 per cent under the 1942 figure, the decrease in the number of small game hunters was 17 per cent. The kill per hunter was 7.8760 last year, compared with 8.0024 in 1942.

The mallard held its place as Minnesota's most popular duck — accounting for 38 per cent of the 1943 waterfowl take. However, the kill of scaupe or bluebills plummeted from 590,000 in 1942 to 196,000 last year, due to the fact that the migration of this species largely by-passed Minnesota. Teal took over second place with 470,000, followed by the bluebills. Pintails came in fourth with 151,000 birds taken, a more than 100 per cent increase over 1942. Forty per cent fewer redheads (56,000) went into the hunters' bag last year than in 1942.

Analysis of the upland game kill indicates that the 1943 bag was 1,561,850 birds compared to 2,258,800 the previous year. Last year's pheasant kill was 1,377,500—a 22 per cent decrease from 1942, which was predicted by last fall's census of these birds. Ruffed grouse suffered the greatest decline — from 541,800 in 1942 to 171,188 in 1943. They are at the bottom of a cyclic decline. The poor upland game harvest, in general, is considered to be largely attributable to unfavorable weather during the nesting period.

The division of game and fish reports that this data on the upland game harvest was secured from a detailed study made by its biologists of the over 26,000 small game report cards returned by Minnesota hunters. It is pointed out that all similar game surveys are based upon sampling of a cross-section of hunters' reports.

Many Local Residents Get Fishing Licenses

With the pike fishing season opening Monday, May 15, a total of 190 individual and 160 family licenses had been issued up to early this week from the office of County Auditor A. M. Senstad. In addition, a considerable number of licenses had been issued by other agencies in this city, as well as by Oscar Gunstad, St. Hilaire; Stephen Singer, Goodridge; and A. T. Nelson, River Valley.

50 BOWLERS TURN OUT FOR BANQUET TUESDAY EVENING

Ed. Carlson Named President of Local Organization for Coming Year

More than fifty bowlers were in attendance at the city bowling association's annual banquet and meeting Tuesday evening. Following the banquet, which was held at the club house of the golf course, Frank Kobliska, as master of ceremonies, made the presentation of the trophies to the various teams and individuals.

A humorous touch was added to the festivities by the awarding of novelty trophies to a number of "deserving" bowlers, with Emcee Kobliska adding the explanatory commentary accompanying each award.

The meeting was concluded with the election of officers for next season, with the following being elected: Ed Carlson and Clarence Hallstrom were re-elected president and vice president, respectively; Fred Prots, secretary-treasurer; Roy Oen, Clarence Bergland, and Alex Smith, directors for one year; and Wally DuChamp, Wally Carlson, and Frank Kobliska, directors for two years.

An improving junior team, after tying the score at 4-all in the 6th inning, gave up 4 tallies in each of the final three innings to lose a well-played game to the city seniors, 16 to 5, Sunday afternoon. Cpl. Lenny Hellquist hurled the first five innings for the seniors, giving up two runs and four hits. Cpl. Jesse DuChamp pitched the last four innings, allowing three runs and three hits.

Prowlers Champions in District 31 Track Meet

Coach Quentin Jones' Prowlers, revealing exceptional strength in the running events, wrested the district track and field title from the Crookston Pirates Saturday, scoring a point total of 82½ to the Pirates 68½. East Grand Forks won third place with 23 points; Warren collected 11 points and Red Lake Falls earned 9 points.

The meet, which was held in the Memorial Stadium in Grand Forks, turned into a duel between the Prowlers and the Pirates, Coach Lloyd Osborne's defending champion. Pirates appeared well on their way to another district title after the morning's field events had been concluded, Crookston holding a 39½ to 18½ lead. The afternoon's first event, the high hurdles, found Burdell Merritt, Allen Thompson, and Ninak Carlson, running one-two-three. Herb Claffy won the next event, the 100-yard dash, and Phil Beadle picked up a 5th place; but Bill Reynolds, with a 2nd, and Gerald Ziebecke's 4th place, added six points to the Pirate total. Don Fretland's second place in the mile run, and Sonny Johnson's third place in the same event, lifted the Prowlers to within a point of the Pirates.

Larry Rulien chalked up a first place in the 440-yard run, with Phil Beadle and Bob Baker scoring in fourth and fifth place, respectively, moving the Prowlers into the lead. And a one-two-four finish in the low hurdles, with Claffy in first place, Merritt in second place, and Thompson in fourth place, boosted the Prowlers beyond the reach of the Pirates.

Crookston's Bill Reynolds, with firsts in the broad jump, and the 220-yard dash, and seconds in the discus and the 100-yard dash, won individual high point honors with 23 points. The locals' Burdell Merritt won the shot put and high hurdles, scored a second place in the low hurdles, and a third place tie in the high jump, to tally 16½ points.

Two new records were established at the meet, with Crookston's big Dick Sprague tossing the discus 112 feet to surpass Keith Thorson's mark of 109 feet 9 inches, set in 1942. The Crookston Pirate relay team ran the half mile in 1:39.8 to beat the previous record of 1:41.4 set by the Prowlers in 1942.

The eligible Prowlers, those winning a first, second, or third, will participate in the regional meet at Bemidji on Friday.

Nice Going, Prowlers

The Prowler track squad proved to me that it isn't always wise to stick by a defending champion. The Crookston Pirates had been established as the odds-on favorites to repeat as district track titlists, and had been picked to win last Saturday's meet by about 15 points; but the Prowlers, scoring heavily in both hurdle events, out-lasted Crookston to win by a 12-point margin, 82½ to 68½.

The boys turned a fine performance, and Coach Jones is to be complimented on an excellent job of coaching, for it was all-round squad power that gave the locals the championship. Crookston racked up seven firsts, with Bill Reynolds getting a triple; while the Prowlers were winning five firsts, with Herb Claffy and Burdell Merritt being double winners. It was the points scored by the Prowlers second and third place winners that gave the locals their deserved win.

See Chance in Regional

A district championship, though, isn't any novelty for Prowler track mentor, for Coach Jones, while at Park Rapids, must have won eight or nine district titles and about seven regional championships. And he insists that the Prowlers have a chance to add the regional crown to their 31st district championship.

Now that Phil Beadle has secured a new pair of running pants, Jones believes that the half-mile relay team will at least reverse the finish of Saturday's race, in which the Prowlers scored a second place, behind Crookston. Phil had the misfortune of nearly losing his trunks in the race, running his leg of the relay with one hand holding the baton and the other holding on to his pants.

And when Coach Jones contemplates next season's Prowler track prospects, his smile is broader than usual. Jones will lose, through graduation, only three lettermen, Burdell Merritt, Don Fretland, and Ray Offerdahl — and that means that such fleet-footed boys as Herb Claffy, Larry Rulien, Phil Beadle, Ninak Carlson, Les Vigness, Allen Thompson, Brad Hanna, Phil Kaya, Sonny Johnson Bob Baker, Cliff Aase, and several others, returning. That's quite a roster and it shouldn't give aid and comfort to the Prowlers' track enemy's.

Anglers Should Check

Art Berg, of the local selective service board, advises all anglers between the ages of 18 to 65 who are planning on going into Ontario, Manitoba, or other Canadian provinces, to obtain permits from the local board. While it isn't often that the border patrol will check on these permits, it could happen and it would be unfortunate if some fisherman would be barred from crossing into Canada because he lacked a permit.

The first of the Crow Lake fishermen have returned — Oscar Ellingson and Bill Parbst—and they came back with their limit of lake trout. Bill and Oscar returned late Monday night, after spending a couple of hours fishing for walleyed pike at Morris Point, and they reported that the lake trout were hard to get. When they arrived at Crow, on Friday, the ice was just breaking up and they had expected that the trout would be in shallow water. Apparently the thunder-showers that hit the territory on Friday and Saturday, drove the trout into deep water, for Oscar and Bill had their best luck while fishing a minnow off a reef.

Hilmer Lunke and Ben Amundgaard opened the pike season at Washkish, and they reported having excellent fishing. They caught their limit of walleyes early, with the fish running to about a pound-and-a-half in size, and then tried their luck on great northerns. Ben had the hook into a large fish, but in trying to land the pike without a net or gaff the northern broke loose.

They're Getting Better

All the junior baseball team needs is some coaching. On Sunday they played the veterans even-up for six innings, but then a cluster of errors, coupled with some hits gave the seniors 12 runs in three innings.

In Bob Baker, Virg Evenstad, Allen Thompson, Bud Brossoit, and Swede Lund, the juniors have some first-rate young ball players. Miles Jackson, the old Saint Hilaire outfielding star, played several innings Sunday and he commented on the fine play of the youngsters. The juniors are picking up some pointers in these games with the seniors, but if they had some coaching their team-play and base-running would be better organized.

CHANGE IS MADE IN CANNING SUGAR RATION PERIODS

Coming Months Divided into Two Periods, Official Announces

Starting today, there will be two canning sugar ration periods in order to accomodate the early berry crops and the late tree fruit crops, according to an announcement made by P. R. Fields, district rationing executive. A maximum of twenty pounds of canning sugar will continue to be allowed each person to be issued during two periods of the canning season.

The move was made, Mr. Fields explained, in order that sugar would be available for canning of late fall fruit crops.

Applicants may obtain up to ten pounds of canning sugar per person through July 31, by submitting spare stamp number 37 for each person applying. One application is sufficient for each family.

Beginning August 1, another application will be required to obtain the additional ten pounds of canning sugar. It will not be necessary at that time to attach spare stamps 37 as local boards will have records of first issuances.

Those persons who do not find it necessary to apply for the ten pounds during the first period may apply for the amount needed up to 20 pounds during the second period.

Consistent with OPA'S policy of setting no expiration dates on ration stamps, those persons who have not used their first allotment of 10 pounds by August 1, may still apply for additional sugar rations during the second ration period.

Persons who have already received the total allowance of 20 pounds of canning sugar are cautioned to ration themselves in order to take care of late fruit crops, as no additional sugar will be allowed.

The local rationing board recommends that in the event the canning sugar will not be needed before August, applications for the full amount needed should not be made until in July.

102 MOTORISTS FORFEIT LICENSES FOR TIPSY DRIVING

Drivers License Division Reports on Arrests During Month of April

Trying to operate motor vehicles while under the influence of intoxicating liquor resulted in forfeiture of drving privileges for 102 motorists in April, according to the monthly report of the drivers' license division of the Minnesota highway department. Six revocations for inebriacy, 4 for driving stolen cars, 3 for reckless driving and 4 miscellaneous brought the month's total to 119.

Exceeding wartime speed limits brought suspension of 79 licenses in April. Other causes for suspensions were: failure to establish financial responsibility, 37; refusal to take driving test, 31; reckless driving, 32, ignoring signs and signals, 20; refusal to furnish doctor's statement on eye test, 16; incompetent, 13; all other causes, 30; total 258.

Total revocations for the first four months of 1944 were 541, compared to 580 in the same months in 1943. Suspensions for the four months totaled 1,165, compared to 843 in the same months in 1943. A total of 461 licenses have been revoked in 1944 for driving while under the influence of liquor. Speeding penalties include 70 revocations for repeated violations and 316 suspensions.

TAXPAYERS CHIEF ADVISES AGAINST FEDERAL GRANTS

Urges Home Communities to Plan to Finance Own Postwar Work

Of 608 Minnesota municipalities, counties, and school districts reporting postwar projects "on the shelf" in case of serious unemployment following the war, a number of local units expect to rely on their own financial resources to pay for local improvements in case the federal government does not supply aid.

This is revealed in a supplementary report of the statewide postwar survey in local government units being conducted by the Minnesota Taxpayers association.

Thirty-two counties definitely would expect to receive federal aid in postwar projects, the survey reveals, while 34 are creating their own local fund.

Villages reporting disclose that 167 rural communities are expecting some federal aid, while 188 have started to build their own surplus funds.

School districts so far reporting, reveal that 167 expect federal aid, and 114 are creating a local fund for postwar construction. The report does not include the Twin Cities or Duluth.

A number of replies from local public officials reveals that too much reliance is not placed on federal help for the postwar period. Many officials believe that necessity will force local units to rely to a great degree on their own resources.

Meanwhile, James P. McDonnell, president of the taxpayers association, pointed out in commenting on results of the survey so far, that: "The states and minor units throughout the country today are reducing debts and building surpluses. Many units now have nest-eggs in the form of cash and war bonds. Wartime tax receipts are swelling home treasuries, but this temporary boom should not lure officials into unwarranted local spending sprees. The truth is that we can afford only public projects of absolute usefulness and permanence."

"It is about time that states and local units learn to stand on their own financial feet, instead of leaning so heavily on an overburdened federal treasury. It is foolish and wasteful for the taxpayer to ask the federal government to buy for him the projects that he wouldn't consider good enough to purchase with his own community tax money," McDonnell said.

THRIFT...

It's A Necessity In War-Time

For the duration, our country is no longer a land of plenty. Our Government says that thrift is essential to winning the War.

Here are four good points to remember in your FIGHT against WASTE: conserve everything you use; buy only what you need; salvage what you don't need; share what you have.

By FIGHTING WASTE you not only make more things available for our fighting men in this country and overseas . . . you make more things available for yourself as well.

RED CROSS NEWS NOTES

By Mrs. Millard Peterson
Publicity Chairman

Somewhere in New Guinea—More than a score American Red Cross field men accompanied occupation forces in the recent Dutch New Guinea operations, Edwin Holmes, of Williamstown, Mass., American Red Cross task force supervisor here, reported.

"American Red Cross workers accompanied each task force in this invasion operation," Holmes said. "Each man went ashore with a gasoline stove, two large containers of coffee and army rations and immediately set up beachhead canteens. There were three Red Cross men on the initial landing in the Hollandia sector. Others landed with the fifth wave at a second point and with the eighth wave at a third point. Four additional men landed in Hollandia with three truck loads of American Red Cross supplies for respective army units which were advancing deeper into enemy territory. Ten additional men were either en route with units to other beachheads or awaiting shipping space for supplies.

"Military plans called for transportation of these 10 men on the ninth day of occupation but, with operations ahead of schedule, they will keep pace. More than 125 tons of American Red Cross supplies were shipped to combat areas for this operation. To assure adequate experienced personnel, four men now in New Britain were transferred. As long as U. S. forces and supplies continue landing, Red Cross workers will accompany them. They were assigned to their units long before D-Day but could not have done the job if it had not been for the army's assistance. To date 16 enlisted men detached from regular duties, were assigned to assist American Red Cross activities."

Surgical dressing supplies are not expected to arrive until the latter part of June, so we believe work will not get under way until after the 4th of July. This will give us ample time for our spring home work.

UNFORSEEN EVENTS HAMPER WEDDING

Laverne.—Every man has a right to make his own decisions on how he will live his life. But when four-year-old Darrell Hoyenga, ring bearer for the Drost-Peterson wedding made up his mind he would be a bachelor and didn't want anything to do with weddings, it was anything but the right time. The bride and her attendants were ready to go down the aisle when the young man went on a "strike." The idea spread and the little flower girl sat down too. Tactful persuasion given the little lady easily changed her mind and with thanks to a guest in the rear of the church a substitute ring bearer was found. The bride sighed with relief in one breath and in the next breath inhaled smoke and realized her arm was hot. Her veil had brushed a burning candle and had it not been for the rapid action on the part of a man in the front of the church she would have been severely burned. After the fire was extinguished the ceremony went on.

Scrap Metal Situation Again Is Serious, Says District WPB Official

A serious decline in iron and steel scrap inventories, amounting to 673,000 gross tons from July, 1943, to February, 1944 and continuing downward has made the need for northwest county drives for farm scrap imperative, reported W. A. McMillan, Fargo WPB district office manager.

The loss, which is particularly great in carbon steel and cast iron, amounted to 210,000 tons in the month of January alone, and unless this downward trend is checked, it is believed that production will be seriously affected. Farm scrap is of the type most needed, and it is hoped that a total of 300,000 tons can be obtained from Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana farms during the remaining months of this year, said Mr. McMillan.

Each county drive will be conducted individually, under the supervision of the county salvage chairman. Arrangements are now being made with county chairmen as to the time of drives and methods to be used. Every county in the four states will be covered during the coming months.

Dainty and fragile the flower is in bloom for twelve hours, then folds up and drops off the plant.

BETTER NOT TO VISIT WITH PIGS IN TRUCK

Redwood Falls.—Instead of "going to market" one of Peter Zins pigs "went to town." Seems that Mr. Zins started to market with a load of pigs but stopped to visit a good friend. While in the house one 250-pounder hopped out of the 40-inch box on the trailer and "to town" he went. After rooting ferns in one yard and putting up a good tussle in another, four local men captured and turned him over to his owner.

"U" Seniors Advised to Study English Language

An urgent appeal that every college student master the English language, both written and spoken, was voiced by President Walter C. Coffey of the University of Minnesota when he recently addressed the senior class on Cap and Gown Day.

"If you have not mastered your native tongue you will not leave this university as educated men and women, no matter how many dates you may remember or how many equations you can solve," Dr. Coffey told the seniors.

He pointed out that the careless use of language symbols can lead to serious misunderstandings, not only between individuals but between nations.

"There is no subject in which we should maintain our standards more firmly," he said, "for no one can really know the world in which he lives unless he is thoroughly literate."

More than 1,248,223 social security account number cards have been issued in Minnesota since the beginning of the program.

L. C. DILLON IS FATALLY HURT IN TRAIN CRASH

Veteran Soo Line Conductor Suffers Mortal Injury at Fordville

DIES SUNDAY NIGHT IN LOCAL HOSPITAL

Body Is Badly Mangled When Caught between Caboose and Freight Car

Loren C. Dillon, 56, Soo Line conductor and veteran employe of the system since 1905, suffered fatal injuries in a train crash at Fordville, N. D., Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. He was rushed to a local hospital, where he succumbed Sunday evening.

At the time of the accident Mr. Dillon was in the caboose of a freight train that had gone from Thief River Falls to Fordville and which was standing on a side track while the locomotive backed up to the water tank at the west end of the yards.

After taking on water the locomotive proceeded east on the main track, but when it came to the switch it turned off onto the siding and crashed into the caboose, partly telescoping it against a freight car filled with grain.

At the instant the crash occurred Mr. Dillon was on the front platform of the caboose, making his way outside. He was caught in such a way that both his feet were cut off above the ankle in addition to all the fingers of his left hand, as well as suffering severe internal injuries.

First aid was administered by Dr. C. E. Lommen of Fordville, following which, on telephoned instructions from Division Supt. W. W. Wade of this city, he was placed in a combination car and, accompanied by Dr. Lommen, was rushed to a local hospital, the 82-mile trip being made in 80 minutes. Mr. Dillon was reported as having been conscious until reaching Thief River Falls, when he lapsed into unconsciousness which continued until his death Sunday night.

In addition to Mr. Dillon as conductor, the crew of the freight train included A. W. Holmgren, engineer; Wm. Dicken, fireman; and Carl J. Melby and John G. Reed, brakemen. A group of Minneapolis officials arrived in the city Wednesday to conduct an investigation into the circumstances connected with the fatal accident.

Funeral rites will be conducted this afternoon at 2:30 from the Community church, Rev. Dan T. Beadle officiating, with interment in Greenwood cemetery.

Born in Garfield township, Polk county, July 21, 1887, Mr. Dillon grew to young manhood in Erskine and while there started working for the Soo Line in 1905. In 1911 he moved to Thief River Falls, where he was employed as brakeman and conductor until his death.

He was married to Miss Anna Ander on October 11, 1912, three daughters being born to this union. Following the death of Mrs. Dillon he was married to Esther Ulseth of Crookston in 1942.

Left to mourn his death are his widow, three daughters, Marion of Washington, D. C., and Margaret and Harriet of Seattle, Wash.; his father, Charles Dillon of this city; a step-daughter, Kathleen Ulseth, five aunts and two uncles.

Mr. Dillon was secretary-treasurer of the local chapter of the Order of Railway Conductors, as well as a member of the local Masonic lodge and the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

LEGION AUXILIARY TO SELL POPPIES IN CITY SATURDAY

Mrs. O. G. Lynde, President of Local Unit, Predicts Record Sale

The biggest poppy sale in the history of the American Legion auxiliary is predicted by Mrs. Orrin G. Linde, president of the local unit, who said yesterday she would not be surprised if more than double the usual number were sold in this city Saturday, May 27.

As few people know what the arrangements are for making these Memorial Day flowers, Mrs. Lynde explained that the materials are furnished free to the veterans by the American Legion auxiliary. Volunteer workers teach the disabled men to make the poppies. The entire poppy program, from the supplying of the poppy materials to the distribution of the finished flowers to the American public, is under the management of the auxiliary.

"The veterans and their dependents are the ones who benefit from our poppy sale," she said, "not only from the money that results from selling poppies, but also from having something tangible to do instead of having to rest, read or talk. These men in the government hospitals are delighted to keep their fingers busy and their minds occupied with the intricacies of fashioning the poppies. Needy wives and children also reap benefits from the sale of the flowers.

"We have been selling these Memorial Day flowers for twenty-four years and each year the poppy becomes more closely identified with the American Legion auxiliary and with our disabled men. We hope the service will continue indefinitely."

TAX RATE HERE FOR MUNICIPAL NEEDS LOWEST IN STATE

Rate of 8.99 Mills Made Possible by Light Plant Earnings

The city of Thief River Falls again this year enjoys the distinction of having by a wide margin the lowest tax rate for municipal purposes of all Minnesota cities and villages with a population in excess of 2,500, it is revealed in a compilation published in the current issue of Minnesota Municipalities.

Made possible by the substantial earnings from the municipal power plant, the city levied only 8.99 mills for the current year. Next in order are Luverne with 10.20 mills, Lake City, 13.20 mills; and Wadena, 14.86 mills.

Total local tax rates are brought up to near the average for the state by the high Pennington county rate of 47.70 mills and the School District 18 rate of 48 mills, making the total general rate 107.00 mills and the homestead rate 102.89 mills.

State Highway Chiefs Confer With Local Men

Under the sponsorship of the Civic and Commerce association, local truckers and other men Wednesday evening in the Palm Garden Cafe heard highway problems discussed by M. J. Hoffman, state highway commissioner; O. L. Kipp, deputy commissioner; and Lee R. Boyd of Crookston, district maintenance engineer.

Perhaps the most important news to the truckers to come out of the meeting was contained in the announcement by Mr. Boyd that, effective Friday morning, all load restrictions in this district will be lifted.

Mr. Boyd explained that restrictions are put into effect each spring in an effort to preserve the highways and to keep them open for light vehicles, which he said constitute 97 per cent of the total volume of traffic.

Commr. Hoffman gave an account of the development of the state trunk highway system from the time of the adoption of the Babcock amendment in 1920. As evidence of the magnitude of the problem in Minnesota, he stated that the trunk highway routes now totaling more than 11,000 miles comprise less than ten per cent of the roads in the state.

He also stated that during the war the department is confronted by shrinking income and shortages of manpower and equipment. He added that plans are now being made for post-war projects, and urged similar action by local units of government.

Mr. Kipp said the department is working on plans for post-war improvement of Highway 1 east of this city and also on Highway 59 from this city to Erskine, as well as the ultimate paving of Highway 32 from Thief River Falls to Red Lake Falls.

COUNTY QUOTA SET AT $475,000 IN FIFTH LOAN

MINNESOTA'S QUOTA TOTALS 246 MILLION

Marshall County Residents Asked to Subscribe $675,000

In the Fifth War Loan campaign opening June 12, residents of Minnesota will be called upon to raise the largest war bond quota of the war, O. J. Arnold, Minnesota war finance committee chairman, announced today.

Minnesota's share of the national goal of 16 billion dollars is $246,000,000, which is 23 per cent higher than the quota for the Fourth War Loan. Subquotas for the state are: $121,000,000 for sales to individuals, $125,000,000 for sales to corporations, and $80,000,000 for E Bond sales. The E bond quota is part of the quota for individuals.

Sales to individuals will be stressed heavily during the Fifth War Loan, as this quota is considered the most difficult goal to attain. It is $19,000,000 more than has ever been sold to individuals in Minnesota in any drive to date.

Over-all quota for Pennington county is $475,000. To meet it every resident will be asked to buy more than ever before, the quota for the Fourth War Loan having been $467,500.

Quotas for surrounding counties are: Marshall, $675,000; Red Lake, $246,000; Roseau, $400,000; and Polk, $1,365,000.

War finance committees in every county and community of the state are centering increased activity around a complete house-to-house and farm-to-farm canvass. Meetings and rallies are being conducted for special training of the Victory Volunteers who are responsible for this important job.

"War production costs are at their peak now," said Mr. Arnold, "and we must leave no stone unturned in our preparations to meet our quotas. This is a critical period and our men in uniform deserve our best support.

"I cannot praise too highly the spirit of our county and local committees who are working night and day gearing up their operations to make sure they meet their increased quotas," he continued. "Particularly, I wish to praise our Victory Volunteers who have the big job of house-to-house canvass. They have performed splendidly and deserve a hearty and gracious welcome from everyone."
